PATHFINDER TRIP WINS

Club Cars Reach Mexico City

Jaunt of 1600 Miles Down Roadless West Coast Achieved Notably

Party May Divide, Explore New Trails on Return to Los Angeles

MEXICO CITY, April 25. (Exclusive)—Five dusty road-worn touring cars drove smoothly over the asphalted streets of Mexico City today and, as the great clock over Mexico's cathedral chimed high noon, pulled up in front of the Regis Hotel in the heart of the ancient capital of the Aztecs. They had reached the southern terminal of their 1600-mile trail-blazing trip down the West Coast of Mexico from Los Angeles, which it is hoped in the future will form but a link of the great international Pacific highway that will stretch a distance of 12,000 miles from Alaska to Buenos Aires.

LIKE COVERED WAGONS

The cars are owned by the Automobile Club of Southern California. One of them is equipped with radio broadcasting set that recorded daily, almost hourly, every mile traversed. Only twice from the date the machines left Los Angeles, March 15, did nature interfere and prevent radio communication. The four remaining machines are fitted out with field equipment ready to serve their occupants in any emergency. Covered with khaki canvas, they seemed not unlike the covered wagons of the days of early pioneering in the West.

Roads that were no roads were left behind them by these motor pioneers. Lakes and rivers were forded. The motorcade cut its way through thick forests, over valleys, dales, mountains and down deep grades, over what appeared impassable canyons.

WELCOME EXTENDED

Following the five cars into Mexico City were a dozen or more enthusiastic automobilists who, like all along the route through Mexico, formed an official and unofficial reception party that extended a suitable welcome to the Californians.

They left Toluca this morning over a perfect road, one of Mexico's road-building products. Toluca is the capital of the State of Mexico, about fifty miles from Mexico City. In the party came Gov. Filiberto Gomez.

Members of the party conferred with State governors and officials in every Mexican State they traversed, discussing road-building projects.

GOVERNOR ENTHUSIAST

Gen. Lazaro Cardenas, one of the high military men of Mexico and Governor of Michoacan, was among the most enthusiastic boosters of the general program and accompanied the cars during part of their journey through his State. His

PILOT FAHY HURT BADLY IN AIR CRASH

Solo Endurance Record Holder to be Operated on for Injury in Plane Fall

DETROIT, April 25. (Exclusive) Herbert J. Fahy, former army flyer, solo endurance record holder and nationally known pilot, suffered a fractured skull and other injuries late Friday afternoon when the plane he was piloting turned over on the estate of Cliff Durant, near Roscommon, Mich.

Mrs. Claire Fahy, his wife, who is a prominent west coast aviatrix, escaped injury. She was riding in the cabin of the plane, separated by a compartment wall from her husband.

Fahy is unconscious in the Grayling Hospital, where it is said that his condition is critical. He has not shown signs of regaining consciousness. Dr. G. C. Curnatia of Roscommon is assisting Dr. C. R. Keyport, chief of the Grayling Hospital, and Fahy is to be operated on, it is reported by the police.

Fahy, salesman for the Detroit Aircraft Corporation, went to Roscommon two days ago to attempt to sell Durant a plane. Mrs. Fahy, also employed by the company, went as passenger.

They told friends here before taking off that if they could convince Durant that his flying field there was large enough for the plane to land and take off that Durant would buy one.

MRS. PALMER FEARED FATE

Victim of Mrs. Post Betrayed Death Premonition; Inquest Jury Finds Murder and Suicide Verdict

BY JACKSON BERGER
"Times" Staff Representative

LAGUNA BEACH, April 25. (Exclusive)—Premonition of her impending death was voiced by Mrs. Dorris Murray Palmer, pretty divorcee, only a few hours before her body and that of Mrs. Guy Bates Post, her intimate friend, were found yesterday in her home here.

Revelation that Mrs. Palmer anticipated bodily harm came from the authorities after they learned that the woman had telephoned to Mrs. John Morrison, a Chicago visitor at Pasadena, and a close acquaintance, asking that she hurry to the Palmer bungalow as she was in serious trouble and needed help.

In detailing the urgent telephone message, which was sent yesterday about noon Mrs. Morrison declared that Mrs. Palmer was very excited during the conversation and talked as if badly frightened. This conversation, according to the officers, is the first intimation that the woman feared for her life.

MERCY SHOT FIRED

Before a Coroner's jury was impaneled this afternoon when a verdict of murder of Mrs. Palmer and suicide of Mrs. Post was officially declared, the authorities revealed that Mrs. Palmer received a "mercy shot" to end her suffering after she was mortally wounded.

The dramatic incident in which Mrs. Post is asserted to have delivered the merciful bullet to Mrs. Palmer, whom she affectionately called "Dodo," was revealed by Deputy Coroner Martell after investigation of the dual tragedy.

Apparently repentant of her assertedly jealous act, but realizing that the colony's most beautiful and popular woman could not be saved, Mrs. Post, according to Martell, fired the "mercy shot"—and then killed herself.

SEVEN WITNESSES

The inquest jury of seven local business men wrote murder and suicide as their verdict after they delved into the circumstances of the dual tragedy which was discovered yesterday about 5 p.m.

The verdict, stripped of legal words, declares that Mrs. Palmer, 35-year-old divorcee and extremely popular in the artist colony, was shot to death by Mrs. Post, the former Adele Ritchie of stage fame. It also states that after the murder,

SHIP'S TOLL SET AT SIXTEEN

Only Ten of Freighter's Crew Saved as She Burns in Long Island Sound

STAMFORD (Ct.) April 25. (AP)—Loss of life in the burning of the steamer Thames, freighter, New York to Bridgeport, in Long Island Sound last night was fixed at sixteen today through the fact that only ten of the crew were saved.

Coast Guard vessels which cruised the sound near and wide all day found no signs of the missing men, or wreckage which might have given a hold for a while to some sailor before he sank below the waves.

The hulk of the Thames, driven on a reef off Tod's Point by its own power, steered possibly by a man at the wheel who died in the enveloping flames, burned all day.

Six men drowned after the upsetting of one boat. Chief Engineer Clarence Tibbets, who was saved, saw them in the water without life belts and watched them go down one by one as he clung to the edges of a boat for an hour.

Pilot Leonard Hancourt of Bridgeport, missing, may have been in the pilot house when the fire started and stayed there to beach the craft. Mr. and Mrs. Aren Larsen from their home in Sound Beach watched the steamer as it came all ablaze from far out in the sound to the reef, but they saw no one leave the vessel.

Most of the men saved were off watch and when the fire was seen they made for the two life boats, which were on the windward side. Both upset when dropped overboard.

Of those saved eight were taken to Providence by the steamer Lexington. Capt. Robert Sherman of Stratford, Second Mate Shallo and First Assistant Engineer Lewis Hubbell are among those saved.

INDIA TRIBES MENACING

Women Removed From Frontier

British Take Precautions Against Uprising of Afridis Warriors

Fifty Casualties Result from Peshawar Rioting; Notables Arrested

LONDON, April 26. (Saturday) (AP)—Dispatches from Lahore, India, to the Daily Mail this morning reported that fresh disorders broke out on Friday at Peshawar, turbulent capital of the northwest frontier province.

A mob paraded the streets shouting revolutionary cries and taunting the troops on guard. A British officer, facing the ringleaders with drawn revolver, vainly tried to persuade them to disperse their followers.

An armored car was sent for, and when it arrived and a machine gun was trained on the mob, all of the Indians scattered.

BOMBAY, April 25. (AP)—All European women and children were ordered evacuated from Peshawar today as the atmosphere of India grew more ominous.

Peshawar lies far up on the northwestern frontier, commanding the entrance to the famous Khyber Pass. The hills around it are the home of the most dangerous Indian tribes, chief among them being the Afridis and Mohmands, who are born fighting men. They are well armed and are a perpetual embarrassment to the British.

These tribes have no direct connection with the civil disobedience movement of Mahatma Gandhi, but they have always been ready to take advantage of any difficulties facing the British. Thus the fear here is that the whole frontier may blaze—possibly on the Afghan side as well as the British—and Peshawar itself may be threatened.

Little definite news was received from Peshawar today, but censorship is understood to be in operation and developments are awaited with considerable anxiety by Europeans.

FIFTY CASUALTIES

Casualties in the serious rioting there Wednesday were estimated today as more than fifty. Three British soldiers are among the dead.

Since beginning of the rioting public gatherings and meetings of more than five persons have been forbidden. Police patrols have rigidly enforced these regulations.

As another feature of the news disturbing the officials, no trace has been found of the survivors of the insurgents who attacked an arsenal at Chittagong Saturday. A few of the insurgents have been killed or wounded, but the others are eluding pursuers in the hills. An independent police force of 100 was dispatched today from Tippera to Bilonia, a subdivision of the independent State of Tripura, to join the hunt.

ADDITIONAL ARRESTS

Additional Nationalist leaders were arrested today, among them being Sri Prakash, general secretary of the National Congress, who was charged at Benares with manufacturing salt illegally.

On hearing of the resignation of V. J. Patel, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, a group from the Congress at Simla arranged a meeting with him and was given this message by Patel:

"Discard foreign clothes and wear khaddar (homespun) and pray for the success of the Congress movement."

Mahatma Gandhi is still in the Gujerat district. Addressing a group of salt volunteers today at Panar, the leader attacked treatment by the police.

"Police are not empowered to beat you, even under the salt act," he said. "They can take possession of the salt, but not by beating you."

One of the latest acts of Gandhi has been to send five specially chosen volunteers to Karachi to replace civil disobedience leaders who have been imprisoned there.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, April 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Dr. Mayo and his accomplices held spring practice on the body of Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach. They extricated some of his person and gave it to rabbits and waited to see their death. Instead the rabbits went into a huddle and came out with an Easter egg. A little "Irish" cottontail named Gonsolovitch started heaving forward passes with this egg to a Belgian hare called (for gate receipt purposes) Murphy. Eight Australian jack rabbits run interference for him. Mayo then took a large dose of this poison from Knute's infected leg and gave it to eleven little baby guinea pigs, they immediately defeated the rabbits, 58 to 0. Then both teams wound up by going to mass to Father Duffy.

NEW LIGHT ON BRAIN

Operation Seen as Electrical

Memory Pictured as Series of Images Deposited by Plating Process

Results of Tests Described at Philosophical Society Meeting in East

PHILADELPHIA, April 25. (AP)—Discoveries that the images of memory probably are electrical deposits in the brain were reported to the American Philosophical Society today.

They were described by Dr. G. W. Crile of Cleveland, who told of actually seeing the deposits being made.

They are produced by the slightest of electrical currents passing along the nerves and engraving in the brain permanent patterns—memories—which are never lost, though the connections may become obstructed and ability of recall impaired.

He cited experiments showing that nerves carry electrochemical impulses as wires conduct electricity. He pictured the nervous system with an infinite number of "receptors," receiving stations, transforming sense impressions into electrical impulses, and sending them into the "innumerable microscopically visible fibers of white matter" of the brain.

EXAMPLE OF EYE

Many observers, he said, have found that light falling on the eye causes electrical energy to travel over the optic nerve. This he compared to the new "electric eye," the photo-electric cell, in which potassium may be used to obtain the photo-electric effect. This same potassium is abundant, he said, in

RESTRICTION MOVE LOST

Bill in Senate Pigeon-holed

Badly Bungled Immigration Measure Aimed at Mexico Taken Off Calendar

House Exclusion Advocates Will Continue Efforts to Gain Victory

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 25. (Exclusive)—By a vote of 34 to 30 the Senate this afternoon sent the badly bungled Harris immigration bill back to a committee pigeon-hole, thereby with startling suddenness ending for another session of Congress the restriction movement aimed primarily at Mexico.

Friends of the legislation have their own mismanagement of the bill to thank largely for their defeat. After getting the Senate into a hopeless snarl yesterday through adoption of two separate and conflicting methods for controlling immigration they were ineffective today in their efforts to get the Senate out of the jam. And so there was little for the Senate to do but recommit the bill to committee, heave a sigh of relief over riddance of a troublesome matter and end the comedy of errors that has given the whole situation the last few days a decidedly humorous aspect.

JOHNSON HOLDS OUT

Senator Shortridge of California voted to recommit the bill, but Senator Hiram Johnson voted against it, hoping to the last to obtain a measure excluding Mexicans, although it was he who to a very large degree was responsible for the failure of the Senate today to untangle the legislative mix-up and proceed to a final vote upon some sort of restrictive bill.

Johnson, seemingly unable to understand yet that the Senate had made a joke of the bill through adopting two different immigration systems, opposed the move made today to unravel the situation by reconsidering the faulty action taken yesterday. And since most of the Senate believed Johnson to be an expert on this immigration legislation it followed him with a chorus of "Noes" when Harris of Georgia made a motion for reconsideration.

SENT BACK LATER

However, by the time Shipstead of Minnesota moved a half-hour later that the bill be sent back to committee, Senators had realized the true incongruity of the bill in sufficient numbers to put the motion across.

Before doing anything else today the Senate pulled another reversal and voted 34 to 32, to strike out the Kendrick amendment, adopted two days ago, permitting unlimited entry of seasonal farm labor from Mexico under bond. Cutting of New Mexico and Black of Alabama led a renewed attack on this provision, and the Senate, not very sure that it had wanted to approve the amendment in the first place, not really knowing what it was all about, accommodated them by voting to take it out of the bill.

Cutting declared that seasonal bonded labor would amount to "legalized peonage" and could not be enforced, as once Mexicans got into the United States there would be no way to stop them from wandering at will.

FIGHT TO CONTINUE

Unwilling to give up and see their cherished hope of a campaign issue taken away from them, leaders in the Mexican exclusion movement will continue their efforts,

KILLING VICTIM VOICED FEARS

Mrs. Palmer's Phone Appeal Comes to Light

Message Sent to Friend at Pasadena Home

Mrs. Post shot herself with suicidal intent.

Seven witnesses were called in the legal inquiry into the details of the sudden tragedy, which brought a pall of sadness over the settlement here, and stunned the friends and acquaintances of the two women.

SOMBER INQUIRY

Dr. B. B. Mason, physician who was called to the Palmer hillside bungalow when Verner Rush and Mrs. Kenneth Browne went to the home to return a stray pet dog and made their grewsome discovery, was the first witness at the most somber investigation this community has known.

He related the circumstances of his finding the two bodies. Both were lying face up, he testified, Mrs. Palmer on the floor about midway between the kitchen and dining-room, and Mrs. Post in the living-room.

Both women were dead when he arrived, the doctor said, and he believes that Mrs. Palmer had died some three hours before his arrival and Mrs. Post about one hour.

In speaking of his acquaintance with Mrs. Post, the physician testified that she was a woman of a high-strung temperament, extremely nervous and subject to spells of anger.

EARLY LIFE TRACED

Details of the early life of Mrs. Palmer were explained to the jury by Clarence W. Edwards, an uncle, of 812 Eleventh street, Santa Monica. The woman was born in Waukegan, Ill., on July 10, 1894, according to his testimony, and has been divorced from her husband, Dr. C. Foster Palmer of Albert Lea, Minn., for several years. The separation was described as one of mutual consent.

The story of how the return of the pet dog, "Brandy," of Mrs. Palmer, led to the discovery of the dual death, was told by Rush, City Treasurer, and Mrs. Browne, friends of the two dead women.

BODIES DISCERNED

Rush explained that he found the dog on the streets and believing that the animal had strayed from the Palmer bungalow, took it home. As he started to put the animal inside the door, Rush said, he saw the bodies and immediately called Dr. Mason.

The city official testified that he knew the two women were very close personal friends, but could assign no motive for the shooting.

He said that he had never seen the nickel-plated, pearl-handled 32-caliber weapon, and did not know the ownership. Authorities apparently are satisfied that the revolver was the personal property of Mrs. Post, but so far have been unable definitely to establish ownership.

Mrs. Van Essa McDowell, who lived in the bungalow with Mrs. Palmer, was in a state of collapse and unable to appear in the witness chair.

BULLETS FOUND

Four copper-jacketed bullets found by the authorities revealed more startling features of the double tragedy, and a check of the hours between the murder and suicide gave indications of a studied plan on the part of Mrs. Post to surrender for her rash act.

Two of the leaden death pellets were taken from Mrs. Palmer's body, the officers say, and the remaining two were found in the hillside cottage. The bullet that killed Mrs. Post went through her head and was found on the floor of the room in which she lay. The fourth bullet, which went wild, it is believed, because of a faulty spring releasing the cocked trigger, struck the fire-place mantel and glanced off into a rug.

In revealing their belief that Mrs. Post pondered deeply over her act and deliberated for some time over surrendering to the police, the authorities report that they have traced her movements from the established hour of the Palmer death until she decided to end her own life.

They say that she left the Palmer home in her car a short time after killing her friend and drove toward Santa Ana. She was reported as being seen on the highway, and Sheriff Jernigan believes that the former stage actress was deliberating on going to his office and announcing her deed.

FATAL DECISION

It also is known that she visited the business section a short time prior to shooting herself, and Chief of Police Johnson says that he believes that she changed her mind about the Santa Ana surrender and decided to give herself up to the local police.

Neither of these plans materialized, and the authorities say that she evidently decided that her best plan would be to take her own life. They believe that after her two-hour brooding over the death of her intimate friend she came to the fatal decision. She got in her car and drove back to the Palmer home, where lay the body of the colony beauty.

In reconstructing the scene inside the exclusive bungalow, which preceded the self-destruction, the police announce that Mrs. Post on her return made preparations for her final act.

She went to the body of Mrs. Palmer, which was lying in the narrow hallway leading to a back door to the garage, and pulled it along the floor for about ten feet. She laid it out on the floor in a room adjoining the living-room, which she had chosen as her own death chamber.

Mrs. Palmer was attired in a riding habit. The highly polished riding boots were rubbed of the little dust that they had accumulated, and wrinkles in the white riding trousers and white silken shirt were removed. The black tie that completed the outer apparel was gently smoothed.

The body was carefully placed, the head on a blue and gold plush pillow.

ROUGE PUT ON CORPSE

Mrs. Post, in preparing for her final act, carefully rouged the cheeks of her dead friend; she painted the lips, delicately powdered the soft features of the beautiful face, and gave the hair a final combing.

Satisfied that she had done all that seemed within her power to atone for her deed, Mrs. Post then went into the living-room. She did not change her attire, but wearing her green sports ensemble, green felt hat and white shoes and stockings, slowly carried out her first attempt at death.

The former actress, according to the authorities, was sitting almost in the center of the room when she fired the shot that missed. She then placed the gun above her right temple and pressed the trigger.

JEALOUSY BLAMED

Jealousy, engendered between the two almost inseparable companions by the rising tide of popularity that came to Mrs. Palmer with her work among the artist colony, now is believed by friends of the couple to have brought about the stark tragedy.

Friends pointed out to the authorities that Mrs. Palmer had superseded Mrs. Post this year as director of the community play, and that she was being showered with attention from public and private sources. Some instances, and the one in particular where the younger woman was invited to a luncheon and Mrs. Post ignored, were recalled as supplying a cause of the tragedy.

A sudden overwhelming impulse, friends say, brought Mrs. Post to the climax of her feelings, and she flew into a rage and when she saw her friend leaving her for the afternoon shot her.

LOSS OF PRESTIGE

A play, which was scheduled for the Community Playhouse last night, in which both women had taken a decided interest, is pointed to as bringing the situation to its grewsome climax. Mrs. Palmer had designed all the stage settings and scenery for the attraction, which was called "The Lady from Memphis," and the community was looking directly to the pretty divorcee for a success with the offering. Mrs. Post, who had formerly occupied the high place in the hearts of the people, had slowly been pushed into the background and the bright light of popularity that she enjoyed was beaming on her close friend, forcing her to retire to the mere shadows.

Mutual friends told of their attempts to be helpful to Mrs. Post in overcoming her morose and seemingly morbid spirit, which they assert became more apparent after the divorce from her stage star mate in December, 1929.

REGRET VOICED

They relate instances of her expressing regret at her apparent lack of popularity and the absence of the applause of the crowds to which she was accustomed in her earlier stage days. Since the divorce friends have tried to be helpful in aiding her to gather up the broken threads of life, but only occasionally, they say, did their efforts appear to be successful. Only for a time would the spirit and verve return, and then suddenly she would resume her studied apathy.

Neither Miss McDowell, who shared the bungalow with Mrs. Palmer, nor Mrs. Frances Barrie, 538 South Coast street, who talked with the couple shortly before the tragedy, would discuss the deaths. Both were reported in a highly nervous and grief-stricken state from the sudden murder and suicide and declined to give their versions.

MOTHER'S HEART

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Post are in charge of Louis Menge, who married an adopted daughter of the dead woman, and Mrs. Ella Pultz, mother of Mrs. Post, a recent arrival here from Philadelphia. The elderly white-haired mother is grief-stricken at the tragedy which has crossed her path, and is under the care of a nurse.

Today at the Post home, 1901½ Diamond street, after spending a night at a local hotel, she was bearing the sad news with fortitude. "Mother's heart is on the rocks," she said kindly as she retired, "Please pray for me." She has deep solace in her religion, her friends say.

ACTRESS CALLED LIVING FLAME

Victim's Poem of Friend Who Slew Her Shows Strong Bonds of Amity

Mrs. Doris Murray Palmer's poetic analysis of the character and personality of Mrs. Guy Bates Post is contained in one of Mrs. Palmer's last poems discovered yesterday. The bit of verse is to be published soon in the art colony in a volume of Laguna lyrics with many of the residents there contributing. The poem is written "To A. R." (Adele Ritchie, the stage name of Mrs. Post.)

The verse follows:

TO A. R.

Thou art a living flame—
Thy power, to devastate,
Or to burn a silver blue,
A calming sense of twilight's peace.
Oft thy light's a flare, clear white,
A lance of steel to bear.
Again thou art a fairy-fire,
A child's heart to delight—
'Tis then thy own glows warm.

—Dorris Murray Palmer.

GUY BATES POST GOES ON WITH PLAY

HONOLULU, April 25. (AP)—Informed last night an hour before he was to appear on the stage here of the tragic death of his divorced wife at Laguna Beach, Cal., Guy Bates Post was badly shaken but faced his audience in the leading role of "The Play's the Thing." The others in the cast and the audience were not informed of the tragedy.

To newspapermen Post spoke of his life with his wife, known two decades ago on the musical comedy stage as Adele Ritchie, who obtained a divorce from him in December, 1929, charging desertion.

"We had such wonderful companionship together in fourteen years of married life," said Post. "To me she always was the lovely and startling woman I married. She always was the little girl that captivated New York audiences with her voice.

"I cannot understand why anyone should murder her or she murder anyone. She and Mrs. Palmer were the best of friends.

"No one can realize my shock at her death. We lived together fourteen years, but frankly I never felt I knew her. She was very proud.

"The reasons for our divorce were negligible. I must go on with the show."

Many Captured in Dry Raid on New York Cafe

NEW YORK, April 25. (Exclusive) Twenty-six prisoners, including ten patrons wearing evening attire, were arrested tonight by Prohibition Administrator Maurice E. Campbell and a score of prohibition agents in a midnight raid on the Hollywood Restaurant, one of the most fashionable night clubs on Broadway. Thousands of persons just out of the theaters, witnessed the raid and jeered and booed the officials.

Explaining the arrest of patrons a new practice in New York, the prohibition administrator warned he has definitely decided to "rid New York" of hip-flask toters who bring their own drinks to night clubs.

TAFT CITIZEN FOUND SUICIDE NEAR GALLUP

GALLUP (N. M.) April 25. (AP)—The body of Bernard Vignau, resident of Taft, Cal., with letters indicating he had killed himself on the 21st inst., was found today by Navajo Indians near the Continental Divide west of Gallup. Rings and a diamond-studded watch indicated he was a Thirty-second Degree Mason.

BERMAN BEHIND BARS OF PRISON

Spectacular Fight to Enter Penitentiary Won

argument it appeared that Judge Steinert was about to rule with the Prosecuting Attorney and Berman began to lose his ready smile.

The tide turned in Berman's favor, however, when Deputy Marshal Miller requested to be placed on the witness stand and then under oath presented the Federal Court commitment to Judge Steinert. He then proceeded to explain that if the California authorities wanted Berman he could be ordered south for trial by the Attorney-General in the same manner that Lewis was started there yesterday.

JUDGE'S RULING

"It would appear to this court that California stands in no danger of this man escaping," declared Judge Steinert, "and that the authorities will be able to find him in McNeil Island prison at any time. Therefore, it is ordered that this prisoner be delivered to the United States marshal."

And with the judge's ruling Berman at last accomplished what he started out to do almost a week ago when he fled by automobile from Los Angeles—escape trial on a bribery indictment pending against him in the California courts.

All the way to Steilacoom the prisoner chatted with Miller, newspaper men and James Crehan, a local attorney, and declared that he expected to be back in Los Angeles as a witness for the State in the coming Julian cases.

WILL LEAVE COUNTRY

"I am going to testify for Fitts as I have promised to do," Berman said. "After I am through with that then I am coming back here and be just as good a prisoner as I can," he continued. "While I am in prison I am going to study Spanish and as soon as I get out I am going to South America where there are no postal laws.

"Please tell everybody in Los Angeles that I am going to tell the truth when I take the stand and that my testimony will bring to justice those who made money out of the Julian crash."

A diversion inside the courtroom at the end of the Berman hearing came when Irving G. Glasser, Los Angeles bail bondsman, demanded the prisoner from Deputy Marshal Miller.

DEMAND REFUSED

"This prisoner is a fugitive from justice in my State and I am his bondsman," declared Glasser. "I now make a formal demand for his custody." Marshal Miller declined to give Berman up and a few minutes later he was on his way to prison.

Berman, who is faced with a seven-year sentence on a mail-fraud conviction in the Federal courts, came to Seattle two days ago and surrendered to Marshal Benn. At the time, however, no commitment papers were here and after an all-day struggle he fell into the hands of Sheriff Bannick for return to California.

After he was taken into custody the local authorities were notified that Eddie King, investigator for Fitts's office, was on his way here with extradition papers but now with Berman in the Federal prison his trip will be of no purpose as the government will not honor State extradition papers directed at a Federal prisoner.

LEWIS DUE TO ARRIVE HERE THIS MORNING

Interest in the Julian case here yesterday centered in the scheduled arrival of S. C. Lewis, former president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, due aboard the Southern Pacific in Los Angeles at 8:15 a.m. today in custody of two guards from McNeil Island penitentiary.

Lewis, being brought back from the Federal penitentiary through the efforts of Dist.-Atty. Fitts, will be taken to the County Jail immediately after his arrival, there to remain until he is taken into Superior Judge Wilson's court Monday for trial on charges that he attempted to bribe a juror in the Julian stock overissue case of 1928, in which he was a defendant.

MAY GET DELAY

It is expected that when Lewis appears in court Monday, however, that he will be granted some time to prepare his case before going to trial. State's witnesses in the case have been kept under guard since the indictment was returned some weeks ago. The witnesses include Mrs. Caroline Love, woman juror whom Lewis is asserted to have tried to bribe, and J. H. Weaver, so-called go-between.

There were but few other developments in the Julian case here yesterday. The grand jury, which has spent most of its time on the matter for some weeks, yesterday turned its attention to another case and heard only one minor witness in the Julian investigation.

FLINT ENTERS PLEA

In court, Motley H. Flint, banker, charged with violation of the Corporate Securities Act, pleaded not guilty before Superior Judge Wood. Flint's trial was set for July 14, in Superior Judge Schauer's court.

William Rhoades Hervey, another banker, charged with conspiracy to commit usury, also appeared in Judge Wood's court and pleaded not guilty. Hervey will go to trial with nearly a score of other defendants, charged with the same offense, on May 6.

EXTRADITION PAPERS SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

SACRAMENTO, April 25. (AP)—Extradition papers for the return from Seattle to Los Angeles of Jacob Berman, central figure in the Julian stock over-issue case, were signed by Gov. Young today.

E. C. King, designated in the papers as the agent to return Bereman, took the extradition documents and left immediately by train for Seattle. The papers charged Berman is wanted in Los Angeles for embezzlement and four counts of forgery, and that a bench warrant has been issued by the Superior Court following indictment by the grand jury.

Minnesota "Gag Law" and Five-Day Week Hit

HARRY CHANDLER

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Harry Chandler of the Los Angeles Times was elected president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association at the closing session of the organization's three-day meeting today. Howard Davis of the New York Herald-Tribune was elected vice-president. George N. Rogers of the Cleveland Plain-Dealer was re-elected secretary. Walter Dear of the Jersey City Journal was elected treasurer.

Mr. Chandler, who has been vice-president of the association, succeeds Edward H. Butler of the Buffalo (N. Y.) Evening News. The latter remains as a director.

NEW DIRECTORS

New directors named are Charles M. Webb, Asheville (N. C.) Citizen; E. H. Harris, Richmond (Ind.) Palladium; S. R. Winch, Portland (Or.) Journal; John S. Parks, Fort Smith (Ark.) Times-Record, and W. E. MacFarlane, Chicago Tribune.

Other old board members remaining are J. D. Barnum, Syracuse (N. Y.) Post-Standard; Hilton U. Brown, Indianapolis News; F. J. Vancouver Daily Province, and Charles H. Taylor, Boston Globe.

The convention voted to hold its fall session this year at Sea Island Beach, Ga. The fall session in 1931 will be held in Southern California.

Accepting the report of the Freedom of the Press Committee, the publishers adopted a resolution condemning the so-called "gag law" of Minnesota as a violation of the First and Fourteenth amendments of the Constitution, "a peril to the right of property and menace to Republican institutions," and as a "dangerous and vicious invasion of personal liberties."

ANNULMENT SOUGHT

The publishers agreed to co-operate to "cause its annulment and to prevent the enactment of similar legislation."

Again discussing the general demands of the printing trades for a five-day week, the convention approved a letter written by Mr. Taylor, a member of the standing committee, in which he opposes the move as "unsound and as an experiment which if accepted would be carried out at the expense of the publisher."

The letter was sent to Woodruff Randolph, secretary of the international union, in reply to a request that the A.N.P.A. indorse the five-day week.

The advertising committee report stated that 1929 was a "banner year" in newspaper advertising.

LINDBERGH WELCOMED AT MIAMI

He Will Start His Trip from Havana Tomorrow on Flight to Canal Zone

MIAMI (Fla.) April 25. (AP)—Col. Charles Lindbergh set his specially built plane down on Pan-American Airport at 4:47 p.m. today to prepare for his third inaugural airmail flight into the Latin Americas.

He was greeted by a large crowd at the airport. He arrived on the field seven hours and twelve minutes after his departure at 9:45 a.m. on the 990-mile trip from Washington. He said he had head winds most of the way.

Col. Lindbergh will leave here at 3 p.m. tomorrow in a Pan-American amphibian plane for Havana, where he will spend tomorrow night, departing Sunday morning to fly the air mail to Cristobal, C. Z. From there it will be taken down the west coast of South America to Santiago, Chile, and thence across the Andes to Buenos Aires.

Lindbergh plans to stop at Porto Cabezas, Nicaragua, about noon Sunday to refuel, and will continue on to Cristobal that afternoon, he said on arrival here. He will remain in Cristobal until Thursday, when he will start the return flight as an air-mail pilot to Miami, arriving here late Friday.

AUTO CLUB CARS AT MEXICO CITY

chief of staff, Col. Leopold Gallardo, and the chief road engineer of the State, Vicente Cortez Herrera, completed the trip to Mexico City as members of the party.

The expedition from Los Angeles comprises E. E. East, chief engineer of the Automobile Club of Southern California; Phil Townsend Hanna, editor of Touring Topics; Carl E. McStay, field secretary; D. C. Rhodes, field engineer; Harry Carr, Los Angeles Times; Kenneth Keefe, cartographer; Robert Deason, technician, and B. E. Sandhand, radio operator. Capt. Manuel Morel of the Mexican Navy joined the party at Navojoa in Sonora as representative of Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, Secretary of Communications.

Tentative plans, as announced upon arrival, are that the party will break up here into two sections. Two of the machines will probably start homeward following the Mexico City-Laredo route now under construction. The remaining three machines will take the rough mountain route to the port of Vera Cruz and return to Mexico City. Then they will blaze a trail from Mexico City to and from Oaxaca, then follow the now completed road to the Pacific port of Acapulco, where the sorely tried motors will be given a rest and shipped home by steamer.

HEIRESS PUNCHES TIME CLOCK

Daring Debutante Still Seeks Thrill

Nancy Glave

NEW YORK, April 25. (Exclusive) — When the socially prominent Mrs. George York Glave turned thumbs down on her daughter Nancy's parachute jumping career, it was thought the Junior Leaguer would return to the serious business of attending pink teas and make a safe landing as a bride.

But Park avenue was fooled.

Instead the heiress to the Glave real estate fortune is going into motion pictures via the costumers' entrance.

Miss Glave is an assistant fashion director and punches a time clock at 9 o'clock every morning at a film studio on Long Island.

The dare devil debutante, who two summers ago had to be restrained by her mother from parachute jumping for charity's sake, now has gone to the other extreme and is getting thrills bucking the subway jams at Times Square.

"I am really very serious about this job," Miss Glave said. "Of course, the salary is not terrific, but who cares? What I am working for is something that I have set my heart on for ages.

"I want to become a director. The acting angle does not interest me very much, except perhaps to give me a little more experience."

'X' MAY MARK WORLD'S END

Canadian Astronomer Believes Moot "Planet" Fragment of Disintegrated Star

OTTAWA, April 25. (AP)—Dr. F. Henroteau of the Dominion Observatory announced today that he believes the astral body photographed here six years ago and Planet X, discovered by Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., are parts of one large planet which has distintegrated.

When the object was first noticed last week on a photographic plate made in 1924 it was believed to be identical with Planet X, but after computing what the position of Planet X would have been in 1924, this theory was abandoned.

The Canadian find and Planet X both are beyond the planet Neptune, or about forty times as far from the sun as the earth. They are of about the same magnitude and both have been proved to be in motion.

Dr. Henroteau said that his theory is based on the fact that a large planet at one time existed between Mars and Jupiter and had disintegrated millions of years ago. More than 1000 pieces of that planet were discovered by the Italian astronomer, Piazzi, in 1801, he said.

Observatory officials under the direction of Dr. Meldrum Stewart are examining telescopic photographs taken as far back as 1906 in the hope of finding some earlier record either of the Canadian object or of Planet X.

Five Trunk Routes Will Have Contracts Renewed Under New Bill

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—Following passage by Congress of the Watres air-mail bill, Assistant Postmaster-General Glover today announced advertisements for bids for transportation of air mail over five trunk routes will be withdrawn and new awards will be made to the present operators.

The routes affected by the withdrawal are: New York to Boston via Hartford, Ct.; Chicago to St. Louis via Peoria and Springfield, Ill.; Chicago to Dallas; Salt Lake City to Los Angeles, via Las Vegas, Nev., and Salt Lake City to Pasco, Wash., via Boise, Idaho.

Under the Watres bill the rate of mail pay to operators is changed from a poundage to a mileage and space basis and the Postmaster-General has authority to issue certificates to the operators of these five routes when their present contract expires May 5.

POLE SEEKERS IN HOME PORT

Byrd's Party Members Reach New York on Whaler

Canine Friend's Elegy Sung by Sledge Master

Chinook, Veteran of Team, Sleeps in Ice Fields

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Arthur T. Walden, veteran of a thousand snowy trails, who went down to Antarctica as chief dog driver of the Byrd expedition, came home on the ice-scarred whaler C. A. Larsen today.

Sixty-eight dogs came back with him—heroes, their job well done.

But Chinook, their undisputed king when they sailed from Norfolk a year and a half ago—Chinook who always slept at the foot of his master's bed—was not among them.

WALDEN THROUGH

And Chinook's master will never return to Antarctica.

Standing on the top deck of the whaler, his handsome, shaggy charges writhing about him, the wiry little gray-haired Walden, who was driving dog teams in Alaska before the gold rush of '98, paid his tribute to Chinook.

As he finished he turned away and his keen blue eyes—so intensely blue in his face reddened by nearly forty years on the trails—were filled with tears.

"BETTER MAN THAN I"

"I'll never be half the man Chinook was," he said simply.

"It was on January 17, a year ago, his twelfth birthday, that Chinook went away. The going was pretty hard down there, and you see, Chinook was an old dog.

"The day before he went away, three of the other dogs pitched on him and got him down. That was the first time Chinook had ever been off his feet in a fight in all his life. I guess he realized then that he was through.

DOG'S FAREWELL

"That night he said good-by to me. Three times in the night he woke me up, putting his paw on my face. He didn't whine or anything, but he seemed to be trying to tell me something.

"I didn't harness him the next morning, but as I started down the trail he followed me a little way. Then he just—disappeared.

"That's the way they do, you know. When they realize they're through they just go off by themselves and die. Chinook never came back.

"Chinook was the greatest lead dog I've ever seen. And he was more than a dog. I miss the old fellow more all the time. Very often at night I dream about him."

With Walden on the C. A. Larsen were his two assistants, Norman D. Vaughan and Edward E. Goodale, both Harvard students.

OTHERS RETURN

Five other members of the expedition also were aboard, Martin Ronne, 69 years of age, sailmaker and tailor, who was the oldest man on the expedition; Clair D. Alexander, supply officer; George Black and Walter Leuthner, seamen, and Dr. Vacloo Vojtech, Czecho-Slovakian geologist.

Stowed away down in the hold, under Dr. Vojtech's charge, were a flock of the solemn penguins who were the explorers' neighbors on the Ross ice barrier.

MEDALS FOR CALIFORNIA HERO GROUP

Three Receive Carnegie Awards, Two of Number Being Indians

PITTSBURGH, April 25. (AP)—Three California residents, two of them Indians, were among eighteen persons awarded bronze medals for acts of bravery by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, it was announced today. The awards were made known at the commission's spring meeting.

The three are Carl Seidner, 28 years of age, Indian of Rohnerville; James W. Brooks, 25, Indian of Crescent City, and Herbert H. Searl, 14, of 4283 Forty-third street, San Diego.

Seidner and Brooks were awarded medals for rescuing two other Indians, Kirby Peters, 36, and his son, Floyd Peters, 13, and for attempting to rescue the wife and mother, Mrs. Maude S. Peters, 45, from drowning at Requa, Cal., September 4, 1927.

Searl, a schoolboy, received a bronze award for saving Warren H. Bresler, 12, from drowning in San Diego Bay June 26, 1927.

LAWS FAVOR PEDESTRIAN

State Bulletin Cites Points in Judicial Decisions Making Motorist Liable in Accidents

SACRAMENTO, April 25. (Exclusive)—The old common law that guaranteed to the pedestrian freedom of the king's highway has been adopted by the State Motor Vehicle Department, following its affirmation by the courts of California, in a campaign to reduce auto accidents.

In a bulletin issued today the department called the attention of the motorists recent court decisions that hold that motor vehicles are required to yield the right of way to pedestrians.

"The large number of fatal accidents involving pedestrians and the fact that the courts almost invariably awarded damages to the pedestrian-plaintiff should be sufficient reason for extreme care in crowded streets and on highways used by pedestrian traffic," the bulletin said.

"Recent decisions by the courts have produced the following points in favor of the pedestrian:

"(1.) The pedestrian has the right to use all parts of the highway being chargeable only for the exercise of due amount of care.

"(2.) The pedestrian hit and injured in the center of the street cannot be considered as negligent because he was there instead of on the sidewalk.

"(3.) The pedestrian is not guilty of negligence because he fails to look behind. He is not bound, as a matter of law, to be looking and listening continuously to see if motor vehicles are approaching.

"(4.) The rule of reasonable precaution require that the driver be certain the pedestrian is aware of the approach of his vehicle at such distance as to avoid running over him.

"(5.) The driver who strikes a pedestrian because he was blinded by the sun or lights cannot escape responsibility by offering this as an excuse."

"It is seen from these decisions that the odds are against the motorist who hits a pedestrian and strives to avoid payment of damages," the division's bulletin adds.

"The courts have repeatedly held with the pedestrian, the old common-law freedom of use of the King's highway by footpassengers having been modified but little by statutory enactment."

Merchants May Withhold All Support from Market, Association Head Says

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) April 25. (AP) H. G. Safford, Houston, Tex., president of the American Cotton Shippers' Association, in an address at the association's convention here today said the country's cotton merchants may withdraw their support from the market if the operations of the Federal Farm Board and allied co-operatives endanger their financial security.

The address preceded consideration of demands by the Memphis Cotton Exchange and the Southern Cotton Shippers' Association that the American association request a Congressional investigation of the Farm Board because of "market manipulation." He refrained from referring specifically to the proposed investigation.

The Farm Board and co-operatives, he declared, "at their own liberal estimates do not expect the co-ops to handle during the next few years more than 15 to 20 per cent of the cotton crop, leaving 80 to 85 per cent to be handled by the cotton merchants."

Mr. Safford said the Farm Board has explained that the law is mandatory in making the co-operatives and the farmers through them their only consideration, but that they have "no disposition or wish to hurt the legitimate cotton merchant."

"I am hoping they will see their interest in the cotton merchant to be much greater than they would believe and that his welfare is necessary to their own success in bringing aid to the farmer."

State Sheriffs Enjoined From Ousting Gangster; Judge Stresses His Rights

MIAMI (Fla.) April 25. (AP)—Federal Judge Ritter today made permanent a temporary injunction he issued March 22, last, forbidding twenty Florida sheriffs from carrying out an order of Gov. Carlton to arrest Alphonse Capone on sight and escort him to the State line.

Capone and his attorney, J. F. Gordon, were the only witnesses at a hearing in Federal court. At the conclusion of testimony Judge Ritter read a written opinion, stressing freedom of citizens of the United States and of Florida unless restrained by the process of law.

After ordering the injunction made permanent, Judge Ritter called Capone to the bench and urged him to take advantage of his privileges as a citizen of the United States in lawful exercise of his facilities.

DRY LAW SHIFT VISED IN SENATE

Committee Unanimous for Transfer to Mitchell

Treasury Staff Retention Clause Eliminated

Leaders Will Grant Measure Early Right of Way

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—Unanimously reporting the House bill for transfer of prohibition enforcement from the Treasury to the Justice Department, the Senate Judiciary Committee today urged upon the Senate a "free hand" for the Attorney General in administering the dry law.

The only change made in the Williamson bill as it was passed by the House was the removal of a provision for the transfer of employees and attorneys of the dry unit under Secretary Mellon to the Prohibition Bureau in the Justice Department. This was done, Chairman Norris explained, in order to give the Attorney General freedom in the selection of his staff.

At the same time the Judiciary Committee reported favorably to the Senate measures authorizing four additional Federal judges, including one for the Southern District of New York and another for the Southern District of California.

Senate leaders intend to give the transfer bill early right of way.

Lobby Committee Balks at Confidential Record

Private Practices of House Members Not Relevant

Wet Organization's Head Let Off Further Testimony

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—Concluding a seven-day examination of Henry H. Curran, president of the association against the prohibition amendment, the Senate Lobby Committee announced today that it will not inquire into confidential reports of the organization which discuss the attitude of certain members of the House of Representatives toward prohibition.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, who made the announcement, said the reports are "so remotely connected with lobbying, if there is any connection at all, that the committee reached the conclusion that it ought not go into the record."

ASSOCIATION MENTOR

The reports were made by Carter Field, employed to make political surveys and recommend for or against support of candidates by the association. One of his reports, previously read into the record, recomended support of Gov. Ritchie of Maryland for re-election.

Committee members declined to comment on whether the records discussed drinking by some members of the House. Senator Walsh said, however, they contained "strictures upon certain people."

CANDIDATES SECOND

The only intimation of their contents made public came from a portion of one which said an unnamed candidate for Congress "is a worse pussyfooter" than another unnamed Congressional candidate. "He drinks beer in speakeasies," the report said, "and points to his glass when asked where he stands, but will not say anything."

This excerpt was read into the record yesterday by Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, who said it was "just a sample."

BLAINE PROTESTS

He protested against placing the reports in the record, as proposed by Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana, in the absence of a committee quorum to pass upon the matter. Robinson and Blaine were the only members present at the time. Robinson agreed to withhold action.

The committee today questioned Curran about the expense accounts of Walter G. Hooke, "political agent" for the association, who was active last year in the New York and Illinois legislatures against dry laws.

BREWERS BARRED

Senator Robinson said the records showed that Hooke had spent $4427 last year and $1789 during the first three months of 1930. Curran insisted that the money was spent "properly."

Senator Blaine, after looking over a list of contributors to the association, said brewers had donated money in 1928 and 1929 but no money had been contributed by them this year.

Curran said it was decided last January not to accept contributions from brewers or distillers so that there would not be "one-half of 1 per cent of commercial interest."

He added that the brewers in 1928 contributed 7 per cent of the total raised, while in 1929 it had dropped to 1 1-2 per cent.

METHODIST FINDINGS QUOTED BY WET

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—Asserting that "there is a greater percentage of drinking among high school students than they themselves say their own parents do," Senator Tydings, Maryland, Democrat, a wet, today laid before the Senate additional statistics which he said showed deplorable effects of prohibition.

Tydings quoted statistics gathered by the Methodist Board of Temperance and Public Morals.

He said they showed that "25 per cent of the high school students use intoxicants."

He used a clip sheet which he said was sent by the board to newspapers throughout the country.

Tydings said here was something of which "at least, the drys won't question the authenticity."

He displayed the clip sheet and read from it results of a questionnaire sent, he said, to high school children in a national survey by the board.

Approximately one-third received no instruction on the effect of alcohol, Tydings said, and "about one-eighth of the children feel it is no violation of law to buy intoxicating liquor."

Poles Thwart Bombing Plot

LWOW (Poland) April 25. (AP)—The police here today uncovered an asserted Ukrainian terrorist organization which was preparing bombs for attempts against Polish authorities and the soviet Consulate Building here. The attempts were to be in retaliation for trial of Russians in Kharkoff recently on charges of counter-revolutionism.

Twelve members of the organization were arrested.

QUICK ULCER CURE FOUND

Sulphur Compound Heals Obstinate Sores Rapidly; Cancers Retarded in Tests on Rats

PHILADELPHIA, April 25. (AP)—Boys and girls—from 7 to 70—who cut fingers and skin knees, soon may be healed more quickly by a discovery reported to the American Philosophical Society today.

Two-thirds the ordinary healing time is enough. In two serious human cases tested the rate was even faster and some forms of rat cancer have been slowed down by its use.

The discovery is not a medicine, but a principal of nature, whereby new flesh is either made rapidly by division of cells, or such formation is retarded. It was reported by Dr. Fredericks S. Hammett, director of the research institute of Lankenaw Hospital, Philadelphia.

The control, he said, is sulphur, always in compound. Kept away from too much contact with oxygen it produces cell division rapidly, but becomes a retarder after absorbing sufficient oxygen.

Dr. Hammett said that at Lankenaw Hospital, Dr. Stanley P. Reimann used one of these sulphur compounds, thoglucose, on a man 78 years of age, with an ulcer that had not healed in eighteen years. In two weeks the ulcer healed. In another case Dr. Reimann in three months healed a sore the size of a soup plate and an inch and a half deep.

The thoclucose, a combination of sulphur and corn sugar, costs $800 a gram, being made in the Lankenaw Laboratory to insure absolute purity. Dr. Hammett said there are regular commercial preparations of sulphur which should do as well.

Because the sulphur is a two-edged weapon, most of the experiments to date are on animals. Cuts on rats, said Dr. Hammett, ordinarily requiring a week or ten days to heal, get well under wet sulphur dressings in two-thirds that time. Placed on healthy rat skin, however, the sulphur causes rapid cell growth, producing a skin about five times normal thickness, not hard like a callus, but all live flesh.

Seventy rats with malignant cancer have been treated at Lankenaw with retarding sulphur preparations. Dr. Hammett said the cancer growth was slowed down in all of them and that in one rat it disappeared.

The Hammett control has been offered freely to the medical profession for experiment.

BRAIN PLACED IN NEW LIGHT

certain of the eye nerves, and can operate somewhat the same.

"We know of what material the mechanism that holds the memory image must be," he went on, "for the brain consists of water, various compounds of potassium, sodium, phosphorous, calcium, magnesium and a group of highly specialized fats. In other words, the brain consists of conductors and insulators.

"All the billions of brain cells are in existence at birth, for no new brain cells are added after birth. But few of the fibers exist at birth and there is then little memory."

He explained the chemical composition of these fibers, which are potassium and other substances, and the electrically conducting fluids about them. He said an electrical impulse going into the brain would tend to set loose some potassium and, working with phosphorous and other substances, would create a brain fiber.

"Thus," he said, "we postulate that the nerve cells secrete nerve fiber. When another like impact on the same sense organ occurs the same fibers (neurofibrillae) would be stimulated and the pathway intensified, thus re-creating the original image-creating memory.

"These infinite pathways thus created intercommunicate, allowing infinite numbers of associations, thus making possible the process of thought and reasoning.

TESTS WITH RATS

"In experiments on rats we have been able to produce facilitated pathways both in freshly removed brains and in living brains by the passage of an electric current, this facilitation being manifested by increased conductivity along the path of the stimulating current and diminished activity across it.

"Recently we have found evidence that tends to support our belief that the intercommunicating pathways in the brain are secreted by the brain cells. Miss A. F. Rowland, Dr. Maria Telkes and I have found that by taking the separate constituents of a brain we can produce the equivalent of the fibers by an electric charge.

"Thus, as it were, we reorganize the brain elements by electricity. Under the microscope we could see the lines of force resembling neurofibrillae connecting two small masses of these mixed brain elements. They could be seen to form rapidly—the growth extending toward the positive pole.

NARCOTIC EFFECT

"Of special significance was the observation that the same general causes of depression of memory in man, such as an anesthetic or narcotic, lessen or interfere with the organization of the brain material.

"This theory interprets the fact that every impression, whether for good or evil, is permanently written in the brain.

"It interprets education, social adjustment, dependence of memory or bodily states, that, is on electrical potential. It accounts for changes in personality, for the major emotions.

"It accounts for the temporary obliteration of the lesser memories of childhood by the stronger stimuli of later life, and on the other hand, for the reawakening of the memories of childhood as the stronger stimuli of life fade in old age."

A method of picking up the electrical impulses of a nerve and amplifying them so that they are audible in a loud speaker was described by Dr. Detley W. Bronk of the University of Pennsylvania. These impulses, called "change in electric potential," occur at rates varying from five to 150 a second. A strong impulse causes a muscle to contract but a weak one results only in muscular twitching.

A new control found in sulphur compounds for growth by multiplication of cells was reported by Dr. Frederick S. Mammett, director of research of the research institute of Laneanu Hospital, Philadelphia. In one case he said it had caused cancer on a mouse to disappear.

Mayor Walker Has Breakdown

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Mayor Walker is suffering from a physical and nervous breakdown, and will be confined to his home for at least a week, Charles S. Hand, the Mayor's secretary, announced today.

Dr. William Schroeder, the Mayor's personal physician, will determine at that time whether it will be necessary for his patient to leave the city for a more extended rest, Mr. Hand said.

MEXICAN QUOTA MOVE DEFEATED

particularly in the House, although realizing themselves the futility of trying to resuscitate their cause this late in the session. Representative Johnson of Washington, chairman of the House Immigration Committee and author of the bill now on the House calendar restricting immigration from Mexico and other countries of the Western Hemisphere, and Representative Box of Texas, from whom Johnson "stole" the restriction issue several months ago after the latter had carefully developed it for several years, both said today that the fight will be carried on at their side of the Capitol.

It is understood Representative Johnson will call the House committee together next week to make some changes in the bill, notably one eliminating the quota on Canada to conform to the Senate action of early this week, and then will go with other committee members and try to argue House leaders into giving the legislation right of way on the floor. The House leaders are opposed to the restriction bill and even if they were not probably at this stage of the session would refuse consent to passage of a measure which the Senate has already wrangled over for three weeks and then had to send back to committee.

The House is passing nothing these days that will not receive favorable attention in the other branch. Representative Johnson, a veteran member of the House, knows the situation as well as anyone, but will plug along for his bill to the end of the session to round out his promises to the labor organizations in his district.

INJUNCTION IN FOX FILM DEAL ASKED

Stockholder States Plan of Refinancing Not One Halsey Stuart Proposed

NEW YORK, April 25. (Exclusive) A suit to prevent the refinancing plan proposed for the Fox Film Corporation being put into effect was filed today in Federal Court. E. Clay Krebs of Philadelphia, owner of 2300 shares of Film "A" stock, and Wilhelmina Heymann of Boston, owner of sixty shares, are the plaintiffs. Hearing was set for May 6.

Krebs, who was plaintiff in a successful suit to have the refinancing done by Halsey Stuart & Co., rather than the syndicate which William Fox favored before he sold out to Harley L. Clarke, says in the present suit that the plan now proposed is not the one Halsey Stuart previously submitted, and that it is even more disadvantageous to stockholders than the syndicate plan was. He would have the bankers compelled to go on with the other plan.

The suit asks injunction to prevent Clarke's General Theaters Equipment Company obtaining 1,600,000 shares of Film "A" stock; the sale of 660,000 shares of Loew's stock to the film corporation by Fox Theaters Corporation for that much stock and extra cash; the granting of an option on 300,000 shares by Film to Halsey Stuart; the issuance of $55,000,000 short-term notes and the payment of $500,000 a year to Fox for five years for advisory services.

PARKER MAY BE ASKED TO WITHDRAW

Doubt That He Can be Confirmed Expressed by Friends in Senate

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—Moves to obtain the withdrawal of the nomination of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina to the Supreme Court, were initiated today in the Senate after leaders reached the conclusion that his confirmation is most doubtful.

With debate on the nomination to open Monday, Senate chieftains were busy lining up their forces today and at nightfall foes of Parker claimed a victory, and his friends conceded that they faced an uphill fight for his confirmation.

Friends of Judge Parker who called at the Capitol, passed the word that he is standing by his position and will not consider voluntary withdrawal.

Press Association Refuses to Let Unions Dictate

Change in Translation Plan on Cables Causes Row

Business Interests Regret Bureau's Withdrawal

MEXICO CITY, April 25. (Exclusive)—Without comment today the Mexico City newspapers Excelsior and El Universal announced the retirement of the Associated Press from Mexico. The decision of the Associated Press to withdraw from the country was given by John Lloyd of Dayton, O., chief of that organization's bureau in Mexico. The two newspapers prominently displayed the story on their front pages. Business interests operating in Mexico took the news sadly.

As usual since the strike against the Associated Press got under way the 13th inst., both leading newspapers of the capital failed to carry any news of the outside world. The tabloids, La Prensa and El Universal Grafico, were the only papers in the capital furnishing Mexico with cable dispatches. The ban on cable news in Excelsior and El Universal followed the refusal of the Associated Press to accede to the demands of the unions to sign a collective agreement and to reinstate two discharged employees. In addition to reinstatement, the employees demanded 2500 pesos damages from the association.

TRANSLATION CHANGES

The two employees whose reinstatement was demanded were translators who were displaced when the Associated Press adopted the plan of having dispatches for Latin American countries translated into Spanish in New York before going on the cables, instead of transmitting them in English to be translated into Spanish by the receiving newspaper.

The formal notice to the newspapers' heads of the decision of the Associated Press to retire from Mexico said:

"I have received from the Associated Press an urgent cablegram instructing me to close the offices of the news agency, of which I am representative, and terminate cable service to Mexico, as you will see from the message, which I herewith transcribe to you.

CORRESPONDENTS RECALLED

"'In view of the insuperable difficulties which have been imposed on the Associated Press, which makes impossible our operation in Mexico, we have resolved definitely to close our office in that country and suspend cable service.'

"I beg you to take notice of the foregoing, regretting the incident which has brought about the termination of our relations.

"Very truly yours,
"JOHN LLOYD."

It was also announced that Lloyd and Charles Nutter, American correspondents of the Association Press in Mexico, have been recalled. The Associated Press closed its accounts in various banks.

SAFETY LAW ENFORCING ADVOCATED

California Committee Calls on Governor to See That Schools Teach Theme

OAKLAND, April 25. (Exclusive) The California Committee on Public Safety, closing its first annual convention here today, adopted a resolution asking Gov. Young and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to do something about having the teaching of safety rules put in operation in public schools.

The resolution calls attention to the fact a bill providing for "compulsory safety education in the public schools of California was advocated and inaugurated by this organization and was enacted into a law by the last State Legislature but the provisions of this act have not yet been met."

The initial year's work of the committee, it was decided, has been undertaken "seriously, efficiently and conscientiously and has been pursued industriously with marked good results."

With this as a starter, the effort to make California's streets and highways safe for motorist and pedestrian alike justifies a pledge "to continue with renewed vigor the State-wide humanitarian effort to promote safety in traffic to the end that the highways of California will become first in safety, courtesy and comfort."

Schumann-Heink Urges Women to Forego Politics

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink today urged women to stay away from the political arena and devote themselves to bringing up their children.

In a speech under the auspices of the league for political education she said the high ideals women are now trying to enforce in public life through political influence would best be achieved in the coming generation.

Governor Ouster Trial Recessed

SHEBOYGAN (Wis.) April 25. (AP) The ouster trial against Gov. Matthew did not hear her leave the room. Seeing a dim figure, he fired. Mrs. Chierenza, bride of five months, is in critical condition from the wound.

WOMAN OF KIDNAPING CASE FOUND

Mrs. Corbett Denies All Charges of Her Boston Millionaire Husband

NEW YORK, April 25. (Exclusive) Mrs. Philomena Corbett, woman principal of the spectacular drama of the Quinn kidnaping case and missing wife of J. Morgan Corbett, millionaire Boston realtor and social registerite, was found in New York today.

While a $100-a-day force of private detectives in the employ of her husband continued their ten months' search for her now centering in the Metropolitan district, a reporter discovered her at a private school, where she has been teaching.

She emphatically denied charges made by Corbett since the husband was accused by James Quinn, youthful aviator, of having abducted and tortured him with the aid of three reputed confederates. She absolved Quinn of Corbett's charge that the young aviator lured her to New York from the Corbett estate at Provincetown, Mass. It was this suspicion, Quinn asserts, which led to his kidnaping and torture in a Throgg's Neck shack at the hands of Corbett and his aides.

"My husband's assertions that a love affair existed between Mr. Quinn and myself, and that I fled to New York with him, are a series of lies, put forward revengefully to besmirch my name because his terrible treatment of me had made it impossible to live with him any longer," she declared.

BUSINESS IN CALIFORNIA ON UPGRADE

State Chamber's Board Gets Reports Indicating Satisfactory Advance

DEL MONTE, April 25. (AP)—Encouraging reports indicating a definite upward trend in general business conditions throughout California were received by the board of directors of the State Chamber of Commerce at their monthly meeting here today.

Regional directors predicted generally satisfactory conditions by autumn, listing the heavy construction program fostered by President Hoover as the principal factor responsible for the increased business.

Regional reports by districts follow:

Northern coast—Crops and construction prospects excellent. Central coast—Business conditions fair, employment improving. Central valleys—Crop prospects healthy. Sacramento Valley—Conditions fair and promising further development. San Joaquin district—Fair. Southern California—Fair.

The directors adopted a resolution indorsing the efforts of the committee of fifty to make operative the grape industry program as proposed by the Federal Farm Board.

Rosenberg Drops Mrs. Kresge Suit

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Counsel for Michael Rosenberg, Parisian real-estate operator, today withdrew his $500,000 suit against Mrs. Doris Mercer Kresge, divorced wife of Sebastian S. Kresge, chain-store operator, charging breach of promise to marry.

His attorney, George A. Hopkins, announced Rosenberg was sailing tonight for France, where Mrs. Kresge is living temporarily. Hopkins said he does not know whether there has been a reconciliation between his client and Mrs. Kresge, adding "he seemed quite happy, however, when he paid my fee."

MACFARLAND'S PLEA ACCEPTED

Church Group Votes to Grant His Resignation

Absence Leave First Given General Secretary

Action Follows Deal With Screen Interests

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—The administrative committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America today accepted the resignation of Rev. Charles S. MacFarland as general secretary, to become effective on January 1, 1931.

The committee decided that he be requested to continue in his position until the end of the year, but "that, in view of the ill condition of Dr. MacFarlane's health, a leave of absence of at least three months, with full pay, be granted him, the leave to begin May 1, 1930."

Dr. MacFarland submitted his resignation last month, "with a view to relieving," he said, the council's policy committee of "embarrassment," over services rendered by him to the motion-picture industry.

In announcing the resignation at the time, Bishop F. J. McConnell, president of the Federal Council, said the policy committee reported that "while accepting fully Dr. MacFarland's good faith in his course and in his explanation of that course, in its opinion Dr. MacFarland has committed a very great error in taking pay for services rendered the motion-picture producers while acting as a salaried officer of the Federal council."

The administrative committee further recommended "that, in view of the unique and unparalleled services of Dr. MacFarland to the Federal council, the executive committee be requested to make adequate place in its program at its meeting in December, 1930, for suitable recognition of those services." The committee also urged that "an adequate retiring allowance," be set aside for him.

Another action taken by the administrative committee today was adoption of a resolution urging members of churches throughout the country to give their support to ratification of the London naval treaty.

Women Weep as Pastor Tells of Shooting Couple

OTTAWA (Ill.) April 25. (AP)—Sobs from the gallery—made up of women members of his congregation—mingled with his own today as Rev. James A. Wilson, Methodist preacher, took the witness stand to admit shooting the sexton of his church, and the sexton's wife, but to deny intent to kill.

The minister described in detail the shooting, which took place when he and the sexton, Amos Elliott, and the sexton's wife, struggled for possession of a letter written by the minister to Mrs. Emma Wagner, a widow of his parish.

HEROINE OF PRISON FIRE GIVEN PRAISE

Amanda Thomas

COLUMBUS (O.) April 25. (Exclusive)—Although Warden Thomas of the State prison here is the target of censure and demands for his resignation as a result of the fire which cost 320 lives, his daughter, Amanda Thomas, remains the heroine of the prison.

Only 18 years of age, she assumed charge of relief work when the fire gained headway, directing first-aid measures, summoning physicians, nurses and ambulances, and is given credit for saving a number of lives of injured inmates through prompt measures she caused to be taken.

Boy Guilty of Killing Brother

BLOOMFIELD (Mo.) April 25. (AP) James Rough, 12-year-old farm boy, was convicted today of slaying his brother, Elmer, 14, last December at their home near here, and a jury fixed punishment at two years' imprisonment.

Testimony was that the boys had been hunting rabbits with a rifle when James stepped on Elmer's foot and Elmer retaliated by slapping his brother. On the witness stand, James explained he raised the gun and pointed it at Elmer, but thought it was on safety, having no intention of shooting his brother. Elmer was fatally wounded in the abdomen.

HOUSE PASSES HARBORS BILL

Measure Provides Fund for Los Angeles Project

Vote Comes at End of Wild, Dramatic Session

Charges of Deception and Bribery Hurled

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—A $111,000,000 river and harbor improvement program was approved by the House today in a wild, dramatic session that bristled with charges of deception, bribery and pork-barrel legislation.

The bill includes the $8,346,000 Los Angeles-Long Beach Harbor breakwater and dredging program.

Even while the House was passing the bulky measure, the expectation gained credence that President Hoover will not approve appropriations of more than the $55,000,000 fixed by the Budget Bureau for such expenditures in the fiscal year 1931.

The projects in the measure are expected to be considered in three classes, as necessary and urgent, as necessary but not urgent, and as projects which in time will become necessary.

STUDY UNDER WAY

A study of the projects in the measure is being made to place them definitely in these three classifications but it became known that the Erie Canal project was considered as belonging in the third class.

Final passage of the omnibus bill, carrying authorizations for about 154 projects and 346 surveys, came late in the day after supporters of the measure had turned back repeated assaults against its provisions, including that authorizing the Federal government to take over the Erie-Oswego barge canal from New York State.

Heralded for days as the major point of controversy in the entire bill this provision was retained by a vote of 148 to 89 in the face of a bitter onslaught by a determined group of members from Northwest States.

CHARGES HURLED

Pleading for support in their effort to strike out the provision, the northwesterners branded the entire bill as "a pork barrel," and charged Chairman Dempsey of the House Rivers and Harbors Committee with "deception" for not providing more information concerning the demands likely to be made in the future for development of the barge canal.

This controversy had hardly subsided when Representative La Guardia, Republican, New York, shouted an accusation of "bribery" in opening a successful fight for elimination of a provision to permit the assistant chief of army engineers to retire as a major-general.

Brig.-Gen. Herbert Deakyne holds this post and passes on all river and harbor recommendations.

La Guardia insisted such a provision did not belong in the bill, that the Rivers and Harbors Committee was exceeding its authority, and finally shook his fist toward Dempsey and shouted: "That's not legislation. That's bribery."

The provision was finally stricken out by a vote of 112 to 89.

UNIFICATION FOR PATROL SUPPORTED

Plans for Placing Border Units Under Coast Guard Backed at Hearing

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—Approval of the administration's plan for unification of border patrol forces under the Coast Guard was given today before a House Commerce subcommittee by Rear-Admiral Frederick C. Billard, commandant of the Coast Guard, and Assistant Secretary White of the Labor Department.

At the same time Representative Pittenger, Republican, Minnesota, whose district borders on Canada, protested vigorously against legislation that would require citizens crossing the border on legitimate business to do so only at designated ports of entry.

California points where additional stations will be continued are: Monument 219, fifty miles from Andrade; Monument 221, one mile from Calexico; Jacumba, sixty miles west of Calexico; Marone Valley Station, near Tecate; San Ysidro gate No. 2, near San Ysidro, and Aztec City, eight miles from San Ysidro.

BLOODY HORDES OVERRUN CHINA

Red and Bandit Armies Run Wild, Plundering

Thousands Slain by Gangs in Several Provinces

Fears Grow for Americans in Besieged City

SHANGHAI, April 25. (AP)—Communistic and bandit armies reported today looting, burning and slaying by wholesale in several provinces of China. Numerous missionaries are said to be in jeopardy and thousands of Chinese reported massacred.

Nationalist government officials, whose troops have been ineffective, offered rewards for the capture of Communists, who in turn offered prizes for the capture of foreigners, being quoted by missionaries as saying that "all foreigners should be killed." No deaths of foreigners, however, have been reported.

PESSIMISTIC REPORTS

Fresh from the bandit-scourged Province of Kiangsi, Fathers Gately and Flaherty at Hongkong substantiated tales of depredations told by fellow-priests, and gave no assurance of safety of sixteen American Catholic missionaries held in the city of Kanchow, besieged since early March by Red armies. Nothing has been heard from them since the 4th inst.

A Red army, say dispatches from Hankow, has sacked the town of Shinte, Hupeh Province, and massacred 1800 men, women and children. Two thousand farmers, it is said, who had been compelled to join the Communists' army in that Province, were killed by government troops in battle. Entire near-by towns were evacuated to looters.

STRIKE IN SHANGHAI

Transportation facilities in Shanghai are tied up in the foreign sections by a strike of tramway and auto-bus Chinese crews, who demand increased pay and a rice allowance. The authorities ascribed the strike to agents of Communism, saying that it is but a part of the unprecedented disorders in various provinces.

Bandits and soldiery are reported battling in the coastal Province of Chekiang. Routed by troops after a fight in which 300 bandits and fifty soldiers were slain, the bandits threatened to return and sack the town of Szean, from which they had been driven.

The Governor of Kiangsi Province is reported to have tendered his resignation to the Nanking government, professing inability to cope with bandit and Red armies which for many months have looted and killed the populace.

Meeting at Chungkiang, Province of Szechwan, military leaders offered a reward of $100 for every Communist captured.

SLAYER FOUND GUILTY

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

FOREST FIRE TO MARCH IN LINE

Pasadena Parade to Include Spectacular Replica

Mile-Long Pageant Will be Seen Today

Junior Chamber and Federal Service Sponsors It

PASADENA, April 25.—A replica of a spectacular forest fire, in which thirty-foot trees will burst into flame in front of the City Hall will climax a mile-long fire-prevention parade which is scheduled to move through the business section at 2 p.m. tomorrow. The parade, sponsored by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce and United States Forest Service, will constitute the largest assemblage of forest-fire-fighting equipment ever gathered together.

The parade will move west along Colorado street from Catalina avenue. At Marengo avenue the procession, headed by the local Legion post's drum and bugle corps, will proceed north to Holly street and east on Holly to the City Hall steps.

Miniature forest lookout towers, burro pack trains, educational floats depicting the ravages of fires, and hundreds of marching men and school children will comprise the procession.

In order to assure safety to the thousands of spectators, the City Hall plaza will be roped off while the mock forest fire is being fought by uniformed Federal and county forestry employees.

Including more than fifty floats and ten bands, the parade has been arranged into seven divisions, the same number of divisions as are normally included in the annual Tournament of Roses parade.

With a view to educating the public to observe the forest regulations, many large Southern California firms have entered floats, including Western Auto Supply Company, Union Oil Company, Home Telephone and Telegraph Company, Fox Theater Corporation and the Glendora Fruit Exchange.

The Fox entry will be a caged mountain lion, which will be fed ten pounds of raw meat on the City Hall steps.

Lewis Adams to be New School Superintendent

SAN BERNARDINO, April 25.—Lewis Adams of Burlingame was elected superintendent of the San Bernardino city schools last night, by a vote of six to one. Adams, superintendent of the Burlingame schools for the past four years, will succeed C. R. Holbrook, who resigned to accept a similar position at Santa Cruz.

One lone member of the school board, Dr. A. E. Hancock, voted against Adams's election, contending that a principal in the San Bernardino school system should be elevated to the office.

The school superintendent was elected after more than two months' deliberation by the school board, during which a number of applicants were considered and the board met with Vierling Kersey, State superintendent of public instruction. The office pays a salary of $8200 annually.

Adams will meet with the Board of Education next Wednesday when he will formally accept the new post, he telegraphed the office today.

Youngsters in Junk Business

HUNTINGTON PARK, April 25.—Several youngsters residing in the East Huntington Park district have entered business in the way of opening a "junk store," and they aver that business is good. The lads gather up various articles and sell them to other boys in the neighborhood.

If the customers fail to have the necessary cash for the purchase of the articles they desire, they either trade a jackknife, marbles, or some other article, or give their "I.O.U." The proprietors of the store keep a set of books and at the end of each week an invoice is taken and they arrive at their profits.

In extending credit they have a system in which the responsibility of the youthful buyer is learned and if he proves to be "not as good as his word," he must pay cash to secure the article.

YOUNG GIRL HELD HEALTH EXEMPLAR

Virginia Pirl

SAN BERNARDINO, April 25.—Miss Virginia Pirl, 12-year-old student at Sturges Junior High School, has been adjudged by instructors of physical education at the school as one of San Bernardino's healthiest girls following the school's annual posture parade, in which 600 girls participated.

Miss Pirl, a 7-A student, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pirl, of 502 Mountain View avenue, was a member of the winning team in the parade, held as a feature of the Public Schools Week program.

The posture parade was in charge of the Misses Aurora Yglesias and Lillian Rose Williams. Judges were Miss Dorothy Stratton, vice-principal of the senior high school, and Joseph Colley, physical training instructor.

Officers Turn in Their Badges at South Gate

SOUTH GATE, April 25. — Two members of the police department have turned in their badges, tendering their resignations. Earl Cunningham, one of the number, served under Emmett Rice, Chief, who resigned, quitting his position in the department. H. F. Castlebury, who has been sergeant of police, also has resigned. Hart Reynolds, former member of the force, has been named as captain of police.

POLICEMEN RESIGN FROM HUNTINGTON PARK FORCE

HUNTINGTON PARK, April 25. John Priestley, former member of the police force, who was suspended a few days before the city election, and William Haislip, member of the department, have both tendered their resignations, which have been accepted. Priestley has engaged in business for himself and Haislip, whose resignation is effective May 1, will also engage in business.

ARMIES OF WORMS FOUGHT

County Agricultural Commission Forces Waging War on Invaders Threatening Vineyards

ONTARIO, April 25.—Under direction of John P. Coy, county agricultural commissioner, an intensive war was waged today on three invading armies of worms which are threatening vineyards in Wineville, Cucamonga and Muscoy district. Scene of the battle is also centered in Upland areas covered with wild vegetation, where the worms are said to gather before their charge on near-by vineyards. Arsenate of lead compound is sprayed upon the unimproved areas by county forces. As soon as the worms which are feeding on the weeds are stamped out, the campaign to rid the vineyards of the pests will be greatly facilitated, according to Rolland R. McKennett of Cucamonga, horticultural inspector.

Since the worms were discovered in great numbers recently, deputy commissioners have been carefully surveying all vineyards of the district and wherever any of the worms are found they "spot" the sections for a quick onslaught by the spraying crews.

There is one type of worm said to be at work in the vineyards which is not affected by the spraying. Poisoned bait is being used to kill this particular type of pest.

Commissioner Coy found three distinct types of this worm in the unimproved lands and in a few adjacent vineyards.

The intense work now being done by the horticultural commissioners and their crews is expected to have the worm controlled and completely removed from the vineyards within a short time.

The destructive work of the worms was discovered when inspectors had their attention drawn to the leaf-stripped grapevines.

LARGEST MELON CROP TO MOVE

Record Cantaloupe Shipment from Valley Planned

Growers and Shippers Join in Preharvest Feast

First Carload of Season to Leave Brawley Today

BRAWLEY, April 25.—Confronted with the problem of marketing 52,000 acres of melons, the largest crop in the history of Imperial Valley, within a period of nine weeks, 150 growers and shippers met the annual preharvest banquet in Planters Hotel today as guests of the Southern Pacific Railway to discuss plans for the huge undertaking.

In spite of the fact that this year's plantings exceeded the 1929 crop by 18,000 acres, C. B. Moore, executive secretary of the Western Protective Association, told those present today that conditions are favorable for a profitable melon deal. "If we only get a favorable break in the weather conditions."

Moore said that melons will begin maturing nearly three weeks ahead of last year's crop. He cited the subnormal peach crop in the South and the high price of oranges as an added reason why there will be an unusually heavy demand for cantaloupes.

Mark Thompson, superintendent of the Railway Express Company, H. Giddings, general manager of the Pacific Fruit Express, and Frank Scott, freight traffic manager of the Southern Pacific, all gave assurance that they were prepared to handle the record crop this year without delay.

R. B. Moore, manager of the Imperial Ice and Development Company, stated that his concern has 80,000 tons of ice in storage in its valley warehouses. This is sufficient for 10,000 cars of melons, he said, and the company has a producing capacity of 1000 tons a day. Shippers estimate that the melon output this season will exceed 18,000 carloads.

John S. Arena, president of the Growers' Protective Association, which includes all the leading shippers in its organization, said that no effort would be made to form a clearinghouse and restrict shipments as was done during the lettuce season. Rigid inspection will be demanded, however, and only the best melons will be permitted to leave the packing sheds.

The first carload shipment of the season is expected to go forward from here tomorrow.

Rites Conducted for Victims of Motor Crash

SIERRA MADRE, April 25.—Last rites were held yesterday for Mr. and Mrs. George M. Bennett and the former's niece, Rose Wasserman, 7-year-old daughter of Mrs. Phillip Wasserman of Los Angeles, who were killed last Sunday in an automobile collision near Upland. Funeral services were conducted at the Congregational Church with Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard officiating.

Mrs. Bennett is the daughter of D. C. Knowles, local Santa Fe agent, and she with her husband made their home at 3073 West Boulevard, Los Angeles.

The Bennetts, with their three children, Opal, Stanley and George, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. Wasserman, sister of Mrs. Bennett, and her three children, started off to the desert early last Sunday to pick wild flowers, and a few hours later Mr. and Mrs. Bennett and the daughter of Mrs. Wasserman were dead. The Bennett car was wrecked and the surviving members of the party were in the Upland Hospital fighting for life. Stanley Bennett, 10 years of age, had both legs broken and suffered other injuries. George Bennett, 6, sustained a fractured skull and a broken leg. Mrs. Wasserman was badly injured and both infant daughters were seriously bruised and lacerated. The accident occurred while Mr. Bennett was driving on Valley Boulevard east of Ontario. According to reports of the collision, he crashed head-on into a heavy gasoline truck as he swung left to pass a car ahead of him.

Interment was made in the Sierra Madre Cemetery. Little Opal Bennett is recovering from her injuries at the home of her grandfather, D. C. Knowles, on Live Oak avenue. Other members of the party will recover, according to hospital reports.

POLICE JUDGE AND MATRON SWORN IN

SOUTH GATE, April 25.—Stanley Moffatt, new police judge of the South Gate City Court, took the oath of office yesterday and assumed his new duties at once. Winnifred Ridge, who was appointed successor to May D. Bryant to fill the position of police matron, was also sworn into office.

Judge Moffatt says he plans a strict enforcement of the law as his policy in office. He has been practicing law for fifteen years. Mrs. Ridge, the new matron, is a member of the Woman's Club of this city, a member of the Eastern Star and the Electa Club.

MISS EDWARDS SUCCUMBS

SANTA BARBARA, April 25.—Miss Anna Edwards died yesterday morning at her residence in Mission Canyon after an illness of several months. She was 66 years of age. She was the daughter of the late John Edwards, prominent pioneer and baker of this city, and Elizabeth Sexton Edwards, and a sister of George S. and Charles A. Edwards. Her birthplace was Ione. The funeral, for which arrangements are not completed, will be private.

SALARY KICK LEADS TO BEING PAID AS PAUPER

SANTA BARBARA, April 25. As a result of the attack on salary paid E. Schionnemann, secretary of the Fifth Road District, he is now being paid through the indigent fund, it was revealed in a check-up of claims in the County Auditor's office today.

Attorney Fred Shaeffer of Santa Maria, appeared before the Board of Supervisors Monday and declared that Schionnemann was a foreigner and could not be on the pay roll of the county under the State law. He threatened legal action unless the money paid to Schionnemann was returned to the County Treasury.

Chairman Preisker declared he would pay his road district secretary out of the indigent fund, asserting Schionnemann was a pauper if his salary was taken from him.

Indigent claims totaling $135 have been paid Schionnemann so far under the special approval of the Board of Supervisors.

FIRE RAZES CITRUS HOUSE

Exploding Oil Stove in Fay Fruit Company Plant at Ontario Starts Blaze Threatening District

ONTARIO, April 25.—An exploding oil stove used in sweating oranges was given as cause of a fire in the Fay Fruit Company packing-house south of the Santa Fe Railroad tracks near Second avenue at 3 a.m. today. The packing-house was destroyed, together with all its equipment, two carloads of Valencia oranges, a truckload of grapefruit, two refrigerator cars on an adjacent siding, and telephone, telegraph, power lines and the Santa Fe Railroad block system were paralyzed. A number of other box cars on the siding were damaged.

Estimate of the loss at noon today was given at $37,500. Value of the building was estimated at $10,000, the fruit approximately $7500 and the loss to rail equipment at approximately $20,000. Damage to poles, telephone, telegraph and power wires, block system for the railroad and the other box-cars is not included in the estimate.

The destroyed packing-house was one of the first built in the community and because of its age burned fiercely when the stove exploded. Because no wind was blowing a general catastrophe was prevented as there are several packing-houses close by the Fay structure. The fire threatened to spread, however, when ten or twelve box cars near the building caught fire and cinders and sparks that dropped on the roof of the Stewart Packing Company kept firemen busy with an extra hose.

Ontario and Upland fire departments responded to the call and kept up the fight until 7 a.m. Fire lines from other packing-houses were put into use but all the water poured on the blaze could not prevent total loss of the structure.

The blaze was seen from all parts of the valley and throngs rushed to the scene, believing the entire packing-house district on the line between Ontario and Upland was in flames.

Pioneers Relive Good Old Days

INGLEWOOD, April 25.—Inglewood's early pioneers were honored here today at a luncheon given in courtesy to all living residents who have been in the city twenty years or more.

Mrs. W. H. Kelso, wife of the first Mayor, spoke briefly of the development she has witnessed here.

George M. Green, superintendent of the Inglewood Union High School District, compared school conditions of today with those of twenty years ago.

City Attorney Clyde Woodworth, a native of the city, presided at the luncheon, which was attended by a large number of local people.

SECOND TEACHER IN SAME SCHOOL DIES

SANTA BARBARA, April 25.—Death this week claimed the second teacher in Roosevelt School within a brief period, when Mrs. Ross R. Keith, teacher of the 5-B for four years, died in Santa Maria, where she had gone to spend the Easter vacation with her sister, Mrs. William Miles. Miss Marie Glenn, teacher of the 6-B in this same school, met death near Bakersfield a week ago last Sunday when an automobile in which she was riding was overturned. Mrs. Keith leaves one son, Francis Cornwall of Santa Barbara, three sisters, Mrs. William Miles of Santa Maria, Mrs. Ed Lyonn of San Jose and Mrs. Le Toureau of New York, and two brothers, Walter Elliott of Santa Maria, and Frank Elliott of Sonoma county. Mrs. Keith will be buried in Santa Maria tomorrow at 2 p.m. and members of the faculty of Roosevelt School will attend in a body.

CRUSADERS FEASTED IN SAN DIEGO

Civic and Business Chiefs of Pacific Coast Tendered Luncheon at Hotel

SAN DIEGO, April 25.—Plans for a United Pacific Coast were discussed today when 150 members of the Pacific Coast Crusade met at a luncheon meeting with Chamber of Commerce and civic officials at the San Diego Hotel. The special train carrying the crusaders arrived at 12:05 p.m.

Stimulation of traffic between Coast cities and co-ordination of community advertising to attract tourists and settlers were the aims stressed by speakers from British Columbia, Washington, Oregon and California.

Clyde Edmondson, manager of the Redwood Empire Association, sponsors of the crusade, said the trip primarily was intended to bring closer relationship among communities of the Pacific Coast and to interchange thoughts and ideas on the best methods of attracting tourists to this coast, especially the Americans who spend their time and money in Europe. Edmondson suggested that the presidents, secretaries and managers of chambers of commerce, publicity agencies and tourist bureaus hold a special meeting some time this fall at which a workable plan for furthering the interests of the Pacific Coast could be outlined and put into operation.

A. E. Craddock, manager of the Automobile Club of British Columbia, with headquarters at Vancouver, said that Canadians from the northwestern provinces annually spend $25,000,000 in tourist travel to Oregon, Washington and California. Last year, he said, 200,000 cars, carrying 700,000 people, crossed the Canadian border carrying tourists from the Pacific Coast. It is estimated they enriched Canadian coffers to the extent of $55,000,000.

Following the meeting, the crusaders entrained for Agua Caliente. They returned here at 7 p.m. and left an hour later for Los Angeles.

ASSESSMENT EVILS SCORED

Dr. A. Millbank Johnson Calls Them "Most Malignant Governmental Cancer" in Talk

GLENDALE, April 25.—Special assessments that have placed a burden of $13,000,000,000 on the property in California were described last night as "the most malignant governmental cancer that has ever struck at the people of this State," by Dr. A. Millbank Johnson, chairman of the board of directors of the California Taxpayers Association, in an address in the Masonic Temple. Dr. Johnson was the principal speaker at a banquet sponsored by the Glendale unit of the association to outline methods looking toward alleviation of the tax burden in the State and especially in Los Angeles county.

"These special assessments have frozen the real estate market and have rendered thousands of people penniless," Dr. Johnson added. As a cure for the condition described he suggested legislative action to place a limit on the tax liens which may be placed against any piece of property, declaring that there is no justification for improvements that confiscate property and leave its owners stripped financially.

Insisting that officials, as a whole, are honest, Dr. Johnson declared that the greatest evil with which the people must contend is ignorance, and that the only way in which governmental functions may be exercised efficiently is by securing the same executive ability and knowledge for such positions as is found in private business enterprises.

The growing tendency to establish teachers' colleges and junior colleges was scored by Dr. Johnson, who asserted that eventually "the State will have a lot of measley little schools that will be of no particular credit to the State or to themselves."

Samuel G. McClure, president of Southern California Newspapers, Associated, quoted figures to show that the cost of city, county and State administration last year had amounted to $725,000,000, and insisted that the time had come to devise some method to control the unlimited expenditure of money by organized minorities, even though some of their efforts may be directed toward worthy objects.

A resolution was adopted, following its presentation by Attorney Bert P. Woodward, urging that the assistance of the Glendale unit of the association be enlisted, with the consent of the City Council, to cooperate in the preparation of the next city budget in the interests of municipal economy.

CHARTER MOVE STARTS AGAIN

San Diegans of Differing Views Name Committee

This Body Will Recommend Steps to Be Taken

To Amend Old One or Frame Another, Question

SAN DIEGO, April 25.—Seeking to amend the present charter or to frame a new charter, groups of citizens who either sponsored or opposed the charter defeated last December, have chosen a representative body of taxpayers who are to assume the responsibility of recommending which policy to pursue, according to action today when the groups made public the charter advisory committee.

PERSONNEL ANNOUNCED

This is composed of Frank J. Belcher, Jr., Jack T. Millan, Mayor Harry C. Clark, Ex-Mayor John L. Bacon, Paul J. Healey, Allen H. Wright, John W. Snyder, Louis Almgren, James G. Phansteil, John F. Forward, Jr., Emil Klicka, Judge M. W. Conkling, Shelly J. Higgins, Samuel I. Fox, Horace E. Rhodes, Capt. W. C. Crandall, Paul Edwards, C. A. McGrew, Frank B. Goodman, Dean Peterson, Mrs. Augusta Fraser, William H. Ellison, Joseph Russo, Mrs. Celia Dunham, A. V. Goeddell, John B. Kirksetter, Robert Graham, R. P. Newsom, C. C. Robertson, Donald B. Goldsmith, Thomas O. Scripps, Nicholas Maryin, Mrs. J. Roy Clark, Col. Fred Jewell, L. E. Goodbody, W. H. Mayer, O. H. McDonald and H. D. Bowman.

It was stated by those interested in the group that this advisory committee was selected with the idea of getting together and ironing out the differences of opinion existing among the various groups and also for the purpose of analyzing and correcting the shortcomings of the present charter and, if necessary, at either the regular fall or spring election without expense to submit a new charter to the people in time for ratification of the next Legislature.

FAULTS BROUGHT OUT

One of the group said that the spirited discussion and controversy during the recent charter campaign brought forcibly to the public's attention the numerous faults in the present charter and the many ideas and suggestions that were offered during that campaign are expected to be of the greatest value in the reconstructing and redrafting of a new charter.

This advisory committee will meet soon when a chairman, secretary and various subcommittees will be selected.

PAGEANT OF RAMONA TO MAKE BOW

Initial Presentation of Season Opens Today With Record Throng Expected

HEMET, April 25. — With final dress rehearsal staged this afternoon under the direction of Phil Whiting everything is in readiness for a spectacular opening of the 1930 presentation of the Ramona Pageant at 3 p.m. today.

For two days the pageant association offices here have been flooded with advance reservations by mail for the opening performances tomorrow and Sunday, and subsequent showings, indicating that predictions of record-breaking opening crowds will be fulfilled.

Hotels, resorts and garages of the vicinity have expanded their facilities to care for a huge crowd, and all indications are that ample accommodations have been provided. Motor Transit stages are operating excursions from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Long Beach, Santa Ana, Riverside, Corona and Pomona direct to the bowl.

"The association has made the most elaborate preparations in its history for this year's presentations," stated Edward Poorman, president-manager, today. "Musical and dance features of the fiesta scenes have been elaborated, and the cast is prepared to give the finest performance of the romantic drama of which they are capable."

Firemen Serve Under Double Head at Beach

REDONDO BEACH, April 25.—A situation in this city's paid-and-volunteer fire-fighting forces who are serving under two separate heads will be before the City Council for consideration at its adjourned meeting next Monday evening, it was made known today.

The circumstance is the outgrowth of the action of the officials in dismissing J. E. Morrell as Fire Chief last Monday night and the subsequent refusal of the eighteen men who make up the volunteer force to concur with the Council's action. Consequently, the volunteers are still serving under Morrell, their elective chairman, and the three paid regulars are under the direction of the city's appointee, E. C. Hull.

The position of Fire Chief has carried the nominal compensation of $75 a month during the past two years. Prior to that time, Morrell, a retired merchant and head of the department since 1921, served without pay. An asserted lack of sympathy with the present administration is given as the reason for his dismissal by City Councilman J. R. Shea, upon whose motion the change was made.

FOULEST "FOWL" PLAY REPORTED

Bell Matron Mourns Loss of Peacock Worth $200 from Her Estate There

BELL, April 25.—The foulest "fowl" play ever reported to local police, is that perpetrated upon Mrs. J. C. Fredericks of 7526 Atlantic avenue. She is mourning the loss of a peacock, valued at $200, stolen from her estate here.

Although officers can readily realize why a thief might steal the ordinary run of poultry, they are at a loss to understand what the thief or thieves would do with a peacock.

GAMBLING SHIP OUT OF DANGER

Dist.-Atty. West of Orange County Explains Position on Monfalcone Case

SANTA ANA, April 25.—International law denies jurisdiction to State courts on ships outside the three-mile limit and for that reason Dist.-Atty. Z. B. West is powerless to move against the Monfalcone, gambling barge, anchored off Seal Beach, the prosecutor said today when his attention was called to a story in a Los Angeles newspaper in which it was asserted that West could attack the barge under a ruling made in a Santa Cruz case.

The prosecutor pointed out that he would very much like to attack the gambling ship, but that it was plainly outside the three-mile limit, about five miles in fact, and not within the State boundaries.

West said the Santa Cruz county case held that the State had jurisdiction over all ships within bays and harbors. Los Angeles persons interested in defeating the Monfalcone insist that West draw a line from Point Fermin to Point San Juan, designate all waters within that area as inside Los Angeles Bay and prosecute the Monfacone owners on the ground that it is anchored within three miles of the outer limits of such a bay.

"I certainly don't believe that I could convince any court that the coastline between Point Firmin and Point San Juan is a bay," said West. "It is absurd to think so. If I thought I could do so I would have acted long ago. I have sought some means by which we could bring in the Monfalcone, but there seems to be no legal means of accomplishing it by State law."

Jury Discharged After Deadlock in Fatality Case

SAN BERNARDINO, April 25.—Deadlocked for more than forty hours, the jury trying C. T. Kennedy of Los Angeles on a manslaughter charge in connection with the automobile accident on Foothill Boulevard last February, in which J. R. Legrand of Los Angeles was killed, was discharged by Superior Judge Charles L. Allison today.

The State charged that Kennedy failed to make a boulevard stop at the intersection of Etiwanda avenue where his car crashed with a heavy sedan driven by Lambert Russell of Altadena. Kennedy testified that he did make the stop before turning into the heavily traveled boulevard.

The case will be tried again May 19.

Autoist Robbed of Car and Cash

WALNUT PARK, April 25.—R. Lee Penn of 7511 State street was driving his automobile on East Clara street, near the Rio Hondo bridge, about 6:30 p.m. when one of a pair of bandits, stepping from behind a bush, at the point of a revolver, searched him and took five $1 bills in his pocket. Then, springing into his automobile, both men made their escape. They were both young and roughly dressed; each was about six feet in height, one weighing about 180 pounds and the other about 165 pounds.

OLYMPIC FIGHT MOVED OUTSIDE

Emanuel and Maloney Meet at Wrigley Field

Campbell and Kennedy Also on Mitt Card

Double Main Event Billed for May 12

BY KAY OWE

Another chapter was written yesterday on the Jim Maloney-Armand Emanuel blow-ups.

ARMAND EMANUEL

As previously announced the fight will not be staged at the Olympic next Tuesday night, but instead will be transferred to Wrigley Field and bolstered up by a ten-round fight between Frankie Campbell and Les Kennedy.

The date for the double main-event program was set for Monday night, May 12, at a meeting in the offices of the State Athletic Commission yesterday afternoon.

Present at the meeting were Promoter Jack Doyle, Matchmaker Hayden Wadhams, General Manager Si Masters, Armand Emanuel, Papa Emanuel, Dan Carroll, manager of Maloney, and others interested in the proposed new arrangements. State Inspector Frank Moran presided.

The price scale was named at the $1-to-$5 figure that was to have prevailed for the fight next week—the figure that brought the Emanuels and the Olympic management to loggerheads over contractual agreements.

While Moran called the meeting, it was Promoter Jack Doyle who stepped into the breach and saved the day.

He suggested that Campbell and Kennedy be added to the original show, and the double main event run off in the ball park.

This met with the approval of the Emanuels, Dan Carroll and the commission.

The Olympic already had Campbell and Kennedy signed to fight inside May 13, and they will simply be moved a night ahead to the outdoor program.

Herb White, manager of Kennedy, was agreeable to the arrangement, and Matchmaker Wadhams said he believed there would be no trouble with Campbell's managers.

Maloney will have to cancel a bout in Boston to proceed with the May 12 date, but promised to talk to the home-town folks by long distance last night.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA NET STARS SURPRISE IN OJAI TOURNAMENT

OJAI, April 25. (AP)—In two smashing upsets Miss Midge Gladman and Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, Santa Monica, today won their way to the finals of the women's singles championship here by defeating Miss Edith Cross, San Francisco, 6-3, 4-6, 9-7, and Mrs. L. A. Harper, San Francisco, 6-1, 6-2, respectively, in the semi-finals of the Ojai tennis tournament.

MIDGE GLADMAN.

The men's singles event, however, ran true to form, as Keith Gledhill, Santa Barbara, defeated Lester Stoefel, Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-4, and Alan Herrington, Hollywood, bested Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, 6-2, 9-7, to move into the final bracket for the championship. The title matches will be played tomorrow.

Of the two women's singles surprises, that staged by Miss Gladman was the most outstanding. The University of Southern California player staged a brilliant fight against the more erratic play of Miss Cross. After winning the first set she forced the second one to due before dropping it to her high-ranking opponent. She rallied strong, however, annexing the third with comparative ease.

Miss Cross is the third ranking woman player of the nation while Miss Gladman's rating is ninth.

Mrs. Bundy found little difficulty in turning in a triumph in straight sets over her opponent from the Bay City. Mrs. Harper, who is the fifth ranking woman player of the nation, could not master her drives today and was kept on the run by the well-placed shots of her older opponent, who in her palmy days gained international fame on the courts.

The Santa Monica player is a slight favorite over Miss Gladman, while Herrington, former Stanford star netman, is favored to defeat

POWER-BOATS RETARDED

Racing Cruisers in Stiff Battle Against Heavy Sea in Second-Leg Dash to Monterey

SANTA BARBARA, April 25. (AP)—Into a heavy sea which caused two boats to turn back and kept two others from starting, today sailed thirteen power yachts headed for Monterey, some 207 odd nautical miles from here, on the second leg of their race from Long Beach to San Francisco.

Two cruisers, the Blue Boy, from the California Yacht Club, Los Angeles, and Lucky B, Long Beach Yacht Club, first and second-place finishers on the first leg of the journey, are scheduled to leave port at 2 a.m. and 9 p.m., respectively.

The Doris O. of the Long Beach Yacht Club, last to finish yesterday, and first to start today, returned shortly before dark after putting to sea at noon. The crew said the heavy seas were too much for the craft. The Edna, from the Santa Barbara Yacht Club, which was fourth out this afternoon, also returned when it sprung a leak.

The Ethne, seventh to arrive from Long Beach, and the Arbutus III, did not start because of the adverse conditions. Veteran mariners here said that the yachts would be confronted by a heavy sea through the entire route to Monterey, with the most trying conditions expected off Point Concepcion, thirty-two miles to the north of here.

The first boats were scheduled to reach their destination at noon tomorrow. The final run to the Bay City will be made Sunday.

According to handicap ratings, the first arrivals yesterday were the last to leave port today.

KENNEDY STOPS ROSS IN LISTLESS GO AT LEGION

In one of the worst fights ever staged at the Hollywood American Legion, Les Kennedy, Long Beach longshoreman, won on a technical knockout over Benny Ross of Buffalo, N. Y., in the ninth round of the main event last night.

The affair was a farce as far as fighting goes. The fans started leaving the arena about the fifth round and by the end of the friendly tussle, hardly a handful were left in the place. Kennedy punched Ross at will, while the gallery gods sang, "Ring Around the Rosy," intermingled with cries of "we want Perry."

Ross went down from a hard push in the sixth round, and again in the ninth left his feet. The referee, Harry Lee, decided it had gone far enough and stopped the "bloody battle," raising Kennedy's hand.

Ray Montoya won handily from Jimmy Piela in the six-round semi-wind-up. Outside of the fourth session which was even, Montoya won every round. The winner used

RIVIERA EVENT IN SEMIFINALS

Two Rounds Scheduled Today for Title Flight

Brown Loses to Jelliffe by 6 and 4 Margin

Moser, Marchetti Clash is Day's Feature

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

With eight survivors remaining of the original thirty-two starters in the championship flight, the real test of the Riviera Country Club invitation tournament comes today when two rounds, quarter-finals and semi-finals will be played. Finals are scheduled tomorrow over thirty-six holes.

ALLEN MOSER

Bill Jelliffe of Girard still looks to be the class of the field with a smashing 6-and-4 victory over Gene Brown, young California Country Club golfer. Bill faces another youngster today, Charles (Chuck) Berdrow of the Fox Hills Country Club. Berdrow advanced to the quarter-finals yesterday with a 5-and-4 win over J. W. Roberts of the Los Angeles Country Club.

Allen Moser of Wilshire, Southern California intercollegiate star, eliminated George M. Lewis of Los Angeles, 2 up, in yesterday's match and today faces Milo M. Marchetti of Rancho. The latter won handily from W. G. Stone, 5 and 4.

NOBLE UPSET

A couple of surprises were furnished in the lower bracket, Dr. C. K. Manhart of Rancho, upsetting Weller Noble of San Gabriel, 2 and 1, and Bill Conner of Riviera trouncing Southern California's junior champion, Ernie Combs, by the same score.

Conner meets Phil Carter of Rancho today, while Manhart faces Jim Scott of Riviera. Carter won from J. M. Arneill of Los Angeles in the second round, 4 and 3; Scott stopped George Arsneau, 3 and 1.

One of the most sensational matches of the tournament was played in the third flight yesterday, when R. M. Bishop of California, who tied Jim Bequette for low net in the qualifying round, went twenty-eight holes before winning from F. W. Shedd. Bishop bagged a birdie to win.

Only the championship flight will play two rounds today, and all finals matches with the one exception are scheduled for eighteen holes.

WHITE STARS

A number of matches in lower flights went extra holes yesterday.

FRESNO, April 25. (AP)—The entry lits for tomorrow evening's fourth annual west coast relays has swollen to over 500 university, athletic club, minor college and high-school athletes, the largest group to compete at the carnival.

ERIC KRENZ

Particular interest has been manifested in the meet because it is the first outdoor night meet ever held in the world under official A.A.U. supervision.

The Class C division will bring together nearly 200 outstanding high-school athletes from all sections of California. Many records will be threatened in this class because the competition will be stronger than usual.

The feature events of the meet will be the Class A shotput and 100-yard dash. Herman Brix, Los Angeles A.C. giant, will vie with Eric Krenz and Harlow Rothert, Stanford aces, the result of which might mean the establishing of a new world's record in the sixteen-pound pellet-shoving event. Southern California Track and Field Preliminaries Scheduled Today at L. A. H

HOST OF PREP TEAMS IN MEET

Annual Affair to be Run Off in Fast Time

San Diego Sending Team of Fourteen Men

Santa Ana and Manual Arts Have Strong Squads

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

For those track fans who enjoy seeing a meet run off in fast style, a journey to Housh Field, L. A. High, today should satisfy all their cravings. The annual Southern California prep track and field preliminaries are listed for the Romans' oval with close to 1000 athletes scheduled to compete.

ALVA REBOIN

Seth Van Patten, director of athletics for the southern section of the C.I.F., claims the affair will be run off in record time. A double set of officials will be on hand to catch the finishes and the starter will be furnished with a spare starting pistol to use when his regular gun gets too hot to hold.

Just as soon as one set of runners leaves the holes another heat will be called. With so many athletes in the meet, this is the only solution to use in order to get the heats all run off in one day.

OPENS EARLY

The Class B and Class C field events will be held this morning, the first call being listed for 9:30. The first of the Class A heats is carded for 2, and according to the schedule announced by Van Patten, the last race should be over around 5 o'clock.

Practically every major high school in Southern California will be represented in the meet, as well as a host of minor ones. San Luis Obispo has to make the longest trip, Coach Christensen's squad traveling some 210 miles for the meet.

SAN DIEGO HERE

San Diego, the defending champion, is sending a squad of fourteen athletes accompanied by Coach Glenn Broderick. The southerners' team is composed of Capt. Jimmy Willson and Ortiz, sprinters; Warburton and Pierson, quarter milers; Brown and Murray, half milers; Dower, Antrim and Arguello, milers; Holt, pole vaulter; Fletcher, hurdler; Larson, high jumper; Powell, javelin, and Ray Russel, weight man.

It is expected that the Hilltoppers will get lots of competition from Santa Ana, Manual Arts, Huntington Beach, Riis High, South Pasadena and Chaffey Union.

Santa Ana bases her hopes on Norman Paul and Alvin Reboin. Paul is entered in the shot put, low hurdles and broad jump, while Reboin will confine his activities to both hurdles and possibly the pole vault. Jacques, a six-foot high jumper, and Gilbert, a consistent 22-foot broad jumper, make up the rest of the Santa Ana entry list.

MANUAL STRONG

Coaches Charley Toney and Sid Foster of Manual Arts are depending on Jimmy Lawrence and Claude Lindsey in the mile, Carl Satterfield in the quarter, Laury Osborn in the sprints, Gil Martin in the high jump and Dick Hamon in the shot put, as well as a speedy relay quartet made up of Osborn, Houston, Blatherwick and Dejan.

Besides the above entries, the Toilers will have Sid Butterworth in the mile, Dejan in the low hurdles, Lazaravich in the shot, Feagan in the broad jump, and Moeller in the high hurdles.

The Huntington Beach Spudders' "head man" seems to be Alvin Koenig, who has been entered in both sprints and the broad jump. Their other entries are Greenwald in the quarter, Brooks in the hurdles, Russell and Rogers in the pole vault, and Oliver in the high jump.

Three men will qualify in each of the five heats of the 100-yard dash and the furlong, as well as the two hurdle races.

Four heats are listed in the quarter, with four being qualified in each race. Five will qualify in each of the three half-mile heats, and four in each of the three one-mile heats.

In the field events the first ten men will qualify in each competition.

EARL NICKERSON OUT OF TRACK COMPETITION

Riis High's hopes for placing high in the Southern California prep track meet took a heavy slump last night when Coach Locke Livernash announced that Earl Nickerson, colored sprinter, would not compete in the preliminaries today due to scholastic difficulties. Nickerson has been clocked in 9 4-5s. this season.

MONTEBELLO NINE COPS

The Montebello High School baseball aggregation overwhelmed the Downing nine yesterday afternoon in a game played on the Downing diamond. The final score was 21 to 4. Andrade pitched a nice game for Montebello, but the game was marred by errors, the victors committing three errors in the field, and the losers making seven bobbles. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Montebello	21	[illegible]	3
Downey	4	[illegible]	7

Batteries—Andrade and Morosco; La Velle and Hansen.

SANTA MONICA WINS

Coach Al Klein's Santa Monica High baseball squad won a 12-to-10 decision from the Huntington Park Spartans yesterday on the winners' diamond. The game was poorly played, Santa Monica making six errors, while their opponents piled up four misplays. The hits were evenly divided, the winners garnering ten safe bingles and the losers nine.

SCHOLZ BOOSTS JUNIOR GAMES

Former Star Says Program Perfect

BY BRAVEN DYER

JACKSON SCHOLZ, who several years ago was one of America's greatest sprinters, arrived yesterday from Honolulu, where he has been vacationing for several months. "Jack" came into Los Angeles Harbor on the Lassco liner City of Los Angeles and was welcomed by Frank Howe, official greeter.

Knowing that Mr. Howe was somewhat interested in the Junior Olympic Games as sponsored by The Times in Southern California, Scholz declared that the program is one of the best that ever came to his attention.

"You know the Honolulu Advertiser is putting on the games in all the Hawaiian Islands and you should see the results that are being obtained," said Scholz. "The boys have gone wild over the program and the Advertiser has been forced to enlarge its Junior Olympic Games offices.

"Personally, I consider the Junior Olympic Games program the best thing of its kind that has ever been tried out. It is handled sensibly in that the events have been so picked as to avoid any strain on young athletes. Those of you who have been identified with athletics for any length of time know how important this is to young boys."

Scholz will spend several days in Southern California. He plans to take in the Fresno relays today, where his old chum, Charles Willyum Paddock is king. "Jack" and Charley have competed side by side in scores of meets.

Boys of Los Angeles playgrounds go into action today in fifteen meets all over the city. Last week more than ten such meets were held with youngsters from the Anderson Memorial Field in San Pedro turning in the best scores. Arthur Dietz is athletic director there.

The following meets are slated for 10 a.m.: Banning, Hawthorne, Evergreen, Vineyard, Griffith Park, Pecan, Stonehurst and Verdugo. At 1:30 boys will take part in the program at Yale, Exposition, Arroyo Seco, Echo Park and Poinsettia. The other meet is billed for 3:30 at Elysian Playground.

H. F. Lusk, director of athletics at Queen Anne Playground, reports that finals at his field were conducted Thursday with the following leaders in the senior division: A. Doyle, 447; Irving Teriuss, 414, and Frank McNeil, 181.

Barney Bixler won the junior class with 347 points, followed by Clement Sketchley with 124.

Coaches who have been bothered about chinning rules will have this matter cleared up for them tomorrow when Boyd Comstock, director of the games for Southern California, starts a series of articles in these columns dealing with the pull-up. There are various methods of judging this event, most of which are erroneous, and Comstock goes into detail to explain what is the best procedure in properly scoring chins.

Coach Bergstrom of El Monte Union High School will be in charge of one of the important district meets slated to be held next month. He will run off the program at his own field, there being approximately fifteen schools slated to take part. The date for this meet is May 17 at 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

Bergstrom is keenly interested in the Junior Olympic Games, having been a track star in his own right many years ago when he attended Pomona College. He also starred as a baseball player and had offers to turn professional.

Marks Tumble in Drake Meet

DES MOINES (Iowa) April 25. (AP)—Five meet records were smashed and other was equaled as 2600 athletes from 157 universities, colleges and high schools in seventeen States opened the Drake relay carnival today by prancing through the preliminaries.

Hughie Rhea, 208-pounder of the University of Nebraska, cracked the shotput record with a heave of 48ft. 10in., beating the mark established by White of the Pittsburg (Kan.) State Teachers' College two years ago.

The undefeated Marquette University quartet composed of Sweeney, Morgan and Pete and Jack Walter, brothers, won its fifth straight victory of the season in capturing the medley university relay in record-breaking time. Marquette's time of 1m. 23 7-10s. bettered the old mark made by Illinois in 1929.

Michigan's sprint relay quartet broke the Drake relay record in the 880-yard event, running the distance in 1m. 26 3-5s.

The one big upset of the preliminaries was the failure of Verne McDermont of Illinois' team, to clear the bar in the pole vault, at 12ft. 9in. to qualify. His failure so disturbed him that he went out and cleared 13ft. 3in. three times after the rest of the qualifiers had left.

WORK SPEEDED UP ON ANGLING BENCH

Work on the Azusa branch of the Rainbow Angling Fisheries was rushed during the last week and the finishing touches to the million-dollar angling club are expected to be completed within the next few days, it was announced yesterday by Manager Leigh Garnsey.

Since it was announced that there was to be an Azusa branch with a casting lake of over an acre in area, many of the most ardent fly and bait casters in Southern California have taken out memberships, including Arthur K. Bourne, Clifford Heinz, W. W. Orcutt, J. P. Auchenbach, F. P. Hill, Joseph B. Dabney, A. V. Andrews, John S. Shaik, Roy E. Potter and Dr. Charles E. Stolz.

WHITTIER WINS AGAIN

Whittier night baseball team won its fourth straight victory last night at the expense of the Huntington Beach nine, the final score being 4-0. The game was played on the Whittier diamond. Morning, Huntington Beach chucker, fanned ten batsmen.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Huntington Park	0	2	0
Whittier	4	6	1

Batteries—Morning and Butcher; McDonald and Rasmussen.

DEAUVILLE TRIUMPHS

The Deauville swimming team defeated the Occidental College swimmers by the score of 48 to 15, last night, in a meet held in the winners' pool. The triumph marked the tenth victory for the Deauville swimmers this year. Johnson of the Tigers, was the individual star of the evening, winning the fifty-yard back stroke and the fifty-yard free stroke. Johnson also copped a third in the 100-yard free style.

BATTALINO NABS BOUT

HARTFORD (Ct.) April 25. (AP)—Bat Battalino, world's featherweight champion, won a ten-round decision over Bushy Graham, Utica, N. Y., in a nontitle fight here tonight.

Hold Services for Haresnape

Funeral services for Val Haresnape, veteran A.A.A. official, were held yesterday at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather in Glendale. Haresnape died Wednesday following a nervous breakdown. He was in Florida supervising the speed trials of Kaye Don when stricken. He was rushed home, but passed away soon after arrival.

Pallbearers included men who had been identified in the racing game with the deceased—Harry Hartz, veteran driver; William S. White, A. G. Pillsbury, Al Faulkner, Ed Wintergust, and H. Kirby Shellaby.

Messages of condolence have poured into Mrs. Haresnape, the widow, from all parts of the country. Included were wires from Thomas P. Henry, president of the A.A.A., of which body the dead man was a former secretary; Eddie Rickenbacker, the Indianapolis Speedway management, T. P. Myers, manager of the same, and many others.

ROOSEVELT NINE WINS MINOR LEAGUE OPENER

In a game that was replete with thrills, the Roosevelt High baseball squad opened its Minor-League schedule by trimming the Fremont Pathfinders, 5 to 3, after ten hectic innings yesterday on the losers' diamond. The Rough Riders garnered two runs in the ninth inning to take the lead, following a double by Benny Cuevas. The Fremont horsehiders, however, tied the score in their half of the ninth, necessitating an extra inning. The Roosevelt squad cinched the game in the tenth, as a result of three consecutive singles. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Roosevelt	5	12	2
Fremont	3	7	5

Batteries—Cuevas and Macias; Brady, Wolf and Spindel.

GARFIELD NINE WINS FIRST LEAGUE GAME

A seven-run rally in the eighth inning gave Coach Marc Leemer's Garfield High baseball team a 14-to-12 victory over the university nine yesterday, in the opening round of the Minor City League horsehide season. The seven runs were scored after two men were out. Emmett St. Marie led the Bulldog attack against the Warriors with a homer, triple and double in four times at bat. The game lasted slightly over three hours, which ought to be some kind of a record or other. Moreno starred for the winners in the field.

MERCURIES PLAY PANTHERS

The Los Angeles A.C. baseball team plays the second of its three-game series with the strong California Christian College team this afternoon on the latter's diamond on North Vermont avenue. Dick Schultz will start the game on the mound for the Mercuries with Caddy Works in reserve.

COUGARS BEAT VANDALS

MOSCOW (Idaho) April 25. (AP)—Costly errors by Idaho and the heavy stick work by Washington State College gave the Cougars a 10-to-1 victory over the Vandals in a conference baseball game here today.

Stanford to Lavish Money on Athletics

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 25. (AP) — More than $1,000,000 will be spent on athletics and additions to Stanford's sports plant by 1938. A report, released today by the Stanford board of athletic control, revealed that the exact amount to be spent is $1,035,000, of which $100,000 already has been expended for a golf course.

Other expenditures will include $275,000 on the stadium, $225,000 for a new women's gymnasium and appropriations ranging from $10,000 to $100,000 on various minor sports. The report also made known the fact that football receipts from 1922 to 1927 were $1,533,025, or approximately 70 per cent of the total receipts of the board over tha tperiod.

BOXING COMBINE FOR WINDY CITY

Dempsey and Millionaires Behind Project

CHICAGO, April 25. (AP)—A powerful promotional combine backed by two millionaire promotors and a former heavyweight champion, Jack Dempsey, may operate a new sports amphitheater along Chicago's lake front.

JACK DEMPSEY.

The two promotors, William A. Carey, head of the Madison Square Garden of New York, and George F. Getz, Chicago sportsman, conferred with Dempsey on the contemplated project today. While the negotiations were kept secret they intimated their plans were more than in the embryonic stage.

A site on the lake front was sought by the three. If obtained it would be necessary to obtain air rights over the Illinois Central right of way. The sports palace, if constructed, would be approximately twenty stories high with the arena occupying the center of the ground, the mezzanine and the second floors. The remainder of the structure would be available for stores and offices.

Dempsey would be the active promoter, transferring from the Chicago Coliseum and continuing his opposition of the huge Chicago Stadium on the West Side.

If the project is carried to completion, Chicago undoubtedly would be in for its biggest promotion war with the stadium and the new arena, both backed by millions of dollars, opposing each other especially in the boxing field.

Several leaders in Chicago's boxing world saw the proposed project as a threat to the stadium. It is known that several interests have attempted to purchase the stadium outright from the large group of Chicago business men who operate it, and the belief is they will have to sell or engage in a promotion war.

Dempsey, Carey and Getz have been closely associated for several years. It was Getz who aided the late Tex Rickard in putting over his greatest promotional success—the Tunney-Dempsey championship fight at Soldier Field.

Dempsey's return to ring activity appears to be getting more remote daily. In addition to his plans for the new sports arena, he has accepted Getz's invitation to hunt big game in Africa next winter.

SOCCER CLASSIC ON SCHEDULE TOMORROW

One of the city league soccer football classics of the season will be played at Loyola Field tomorrow afternoon when the Magyars meet the L.A.A.C. Mercuries. The Hungarians will field a powerful line-up as victory in this game means everything to Paul Dosa's men. A win will give them an opportunity to tie the Hollywood Sheiks in final league standings. On the other hand, the Mercuries are smarting from the 5-to-2 defeat handed them by the Magyars in a recent cup game and will be hot after revenge. The opening game will bring out the fast and aggressive Pasadena A.C.C. eleven in a clash with the Swedish American club of Los Angeles.

TROJAN FENCERS TO MEET HOLLYWOODERS

University of Southern California's fencers, intercollegiate champions of California as a result of their victory over California, Stanford and U.C.L.A. in the recent minor sports carnival held at Los Angeles, will tangle with the Hollywood Athletic Club team tomorrow at 8 p.m. in both sabers and dueling swords in a meet scheduled for the movie city gymnasium.

PASADENA JAYSEE WINS

Pasadena Junior College defeated Glendale Jaysee yesterday, 5-3, at Glendale. Black, Pasadena first baseman, was the big star of the day, slamming out a homer in the sixth to tie the score and poking out a double in the eighth with two men on to put the game on ice.

LIEB'S TEAM PLAYS TODAY

Loyola University Gridders Play Old-timers Regulation Game to Wind Up Spring Practice

Football may have been dead and buried three or four months ago but Coach Tom Lieb of Loyola University plans to bring it back to life again this afternoon when his grid aspirants for the ensuing year meet up with a squad composed of the "old-timers." The battle is slated to start at 2:30 on the Del Rey gridiron and inasmuch as no admission will be charged a large turnout is anticipated.

The new Lion mentor has been driving his pigskinners for the past two months and will wind up the spring practice season with the game this afternoon. Judging from the scrimmages which have been held the past couple of weeks, Lieb has developed one of the snappiest outfits that Loyola has ever had before. It has mastered the Notre Dame system and has been working with a degree of perfection and harmony.

TOM LIEB

However, the game this afternoon will be an acid test for Lieb's cohorts, as their opponents will be composed of plenty tough customers. The "old-timers" will consist of some of the best players ever to graduate from the Jesuit institution. In the backfield will be Jimmy Young, former all-city man, calling signals; Joe Donohoe, freshman coach, at full; Bernie Donohue, last year's Loyola captain, at right half, and Lieb himself at the other half.

Playing for the Loyola varsity will be a tough, powerful line, and a light, fast backfield. The forward wall will boast of two good ends in Sargent and McEachon, two veteran tackles in Lauerman and T. Sargent, and Dave Flynn at center.

While the backfield may be a little green, the players on it are all good, speedy backs. Sullivan will call the signals, while Jim Strutzel, Bud Brubaker and Vaugn Euge will fill the full, and right and left-half back positions, respectively.

During the last two days Lieb has been holding competitions for his athletes, giving gold medals to the winners. He finished the seven events yesterday with very good results. Bud Brubaker, fleet back, copped the punting medal with a boot of fifty-nine yards. Other players to cop prizes were Dave Flynn, center; Bill Sargent, end; Jim Strutzel, fullback, and Ted Sargent, tackle.

The line-up is as follows:

Varsity.		"Old-timers."
McEachon	R.E.L.	Hill
Lauerman	R.T.L.	Stinton
Haines	R.G.L.	McGrath
Flynn	C.	Joyce
Atherton	L.G.R.	Ensle
T. Sargent	L.T.R.	Johnson
W. Sargent	L.E.R.	J. Strutzel
Sullivan	Q.	Young
Strutzel	R.H.L.	Lieb
Brubaker	L.H.R.	Donahue
Euge	F.	Donohoe

OREGON STATERS WIN

EUGENE (Or.) April 25. (AP)—Winning six of the eight events, Oregon State College defeated the University of Oregon here today in the annual dual relay meet between the two institutions. The University of Oregon won last year's contest.

Two Favored in Hill Climb

Cliff Hill of San Diego and "Tuffy" Jacobs of Los Angeles, whose ability to handle bucking motorbikes has been tested in many hill climbs in this State, are favorites to win tomorrow afternoon's Targo Florio race over the hills behind the American Legion Speedway. Promoter P. A. Bigsby announced yesterday that a flock of the handlebar manipulators have enrolled for this event, which is open to all comers.

The Targo Florio originally was to have been held two weeks ago but was postponed because of rain. With additional time in which to prepare for the event, Bigsby believes that more out-of-town riders will arrive to participate.

Eight races in all are on tomorrow's motorbike schedule, with national championships at stake for solo machines and side cars. Practically every other type of competition from relays to balloon-busting contests is slated.

DECATHLON WON BY BERLINGER

Penn Athlete Wins Five of Ten Events on Track

FRANKLIN FIELD, PHILADELPHIA, April 25. (AP)—Although finishing last in the first event of the all-day grind, the 1500-meter run, Barney Berlinger of Pennsylvania scored a record-smashing victory today in winning the intercollegiate decathlon championship for the second successive year at the Penn relay carnival. He spread-eagled a field of nine as three records were broken in individual events.

Berlinger won five of the ten events and broke records in two of them, the shot put and pole vault. The third decathlon mark was broken in the discus by Dan Chubbuck of the Connecticut Aggies.

Berlinger shattered his own carnival record by massing 7460.609 points. This surpassed by more than 160 points the mark of 7298.078 that he established in winning the event a year ago but it fell considerably short of Ken Doherty's American record of 7784.680. The Penn star's poor showing in the last event cost him a royal chance to break the United States standard.

The University of Chicago, with three of her speed stars running in each race, scored a spectacular double triumph in the university relays. The Maroon team won the sprint medley from Georgetown after beating the Ohio State quartet, anchored by the famous George Simpson, in the quarter-mile relay.

"WILDCAT" CARTER IS DEFEATED BY SNELL

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 25. (AP)—Swinging his fists from the floor "Doc" Snell, Tacoma junior welterweight, staged a sensational last round rally to win the decision over "Wildcat" Carter, Everett Negro, in a six-round bout here tonight. Snell had the Negro reeling in the sixth stanza, but was unable to finish him before the gong.

CORBETT THUMPS ROS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. (AP)—Young Corbett, welterweight title contender from Fresno, made a punching bag out of Alf Ros, rugged French-Algerian, here tonight to score an easy ten-round decision.

Looks as though the San Francisco club is out to set up a new Coast League home run record. The Seals clouted out twenty-five home runs in the first seventeen contests, an average of 1.4 per game. To continue at this pace for the season the team would gather a total of 280 home runs, which of course will never happen.

The St. Louis Browns have been on a vain search for a capable backstop ever since Hank Severeid stepped out of the big league. Bernie Hunseling, Rick Ferrell and Clyde Manion are rivals for the regular backstopping position. Hemsley and Hargreaves are working at the position, which Schmidt left vacant when he stepped out.

SOLONS DEFEAT SERAPHS AGAIN

Barfoot, who was the victim of the two runs made in the seventh.

CAMILLI SHINES

Dolph Camilli, who is a brother of Frankie Campbell, the heavyweight socker, showed that he also inherited some of the family's ability to wallop. In the sixth Camilli clouted a sizzling double over Dittmar's head with the bases filled to tie the score, while in the seventh he rode one of Barfoot's offerings far out into the center-field bleachers. The ball was well kissed and hit the rail that borders the north side of the bleachers.

The Angels hustled throughout and gave Baecht good support, but they just aren't hitting and their pitchers aren't coming through as expected. On the other hand, the Senators are having one of those winning spurts that baseball clubs will have when they are going places.

Los Angeles started out with a couple of runs in the first inning, Fred Haney blasting a single to right for the opening shot. Schulmerich popped to Camilli, but Frank Sigafoos hit one over Hoag's head in center for a triple that brought Haney across the plate. Harper followed with a sacrifice fly to Hoag and Sigafoos tallied after the catch.

After Camilli and Osborne had fanned to open the Sacramento second, Hoag singled to start a little excitement. Rohwer followed with a double to left and Hoag attempted to score from first, but Schulmerich threw to Haney, who relayed a perfect throw to Hannah that nailed the fleet-footed Solon center fielder at the plate.

SACS SCORE SIX

Nothing sensational happened after that until the sixth, which opened with Vinci clouting a double over Statz's head. French beat out an infield tap over second to Dittmar and then Ward walked to fill the bases. Backer topped one of those swinging bunts down the third base line, but Haney ran in and scooped the ball up with his meat hand and threw to Hannah in time to force Vinci at the plate. But Haney's fine play went for naught when Camilli followed with his double that scored French and Ward. Just before Camilli hit he thought that Umpire Cady had deprived him of a walk and he evidently took his peeve out on the horsehide. Osborne followed with another double off the left-field fence and Backer and Camilli counted to put Sacramento out in front, 4 to 2. Hoag's long sacrifice fly to Statz moved Osborne to third, from where he trotted in when Rohwer rammed one over the right-field screen for the circuit. After Wirts had drawn a walk, Baecht was replaced by Barfoot, who disposed of Vinci on a pop fly to Sigafoos for the third out.

French's double, which landed on the top of the left-field fence and then bounced back into the inclosure, and Camilli's lengthy home run into the center-field bleachers gave the Senators their final two runs in the seventh.

The Angels bunched three hits off Vinci in the home half of the seventh to pick up their last two tallies. Jacobs led off with a single to center but was forced by Statz, Vinci to Ward. Dittmar doubled to right center and Statz halted at third. Carl Holling, batting for Hannah, looked bad on a couple of strikes but delivered a single over second that chased Statz and Dittmar over the rubber, but Vinci then quelled the rally and that was that.

Jacobs walked and Skiff, batting for Warren, singled in the Angel ninth but the Solon southpaw fanned Barfoot to end the contest. Score:

FRESNO RELAYS ON TAP TODAY

session last Wednesday at Stanford.

S.C., with fifty men competing, is given the edge to cop the major-division championship. The Trojans have won the cup for two years, and are set to make it three in a row.

Fresno State College, last year's winners in the minor college class, will have to produce 100 per cent to withstand the threats of Occidental, University of Nevada, College of Pacific, and others. Flint Hanner's outfit is fairly strong in the relay events, but save for the shotputting ability of his star, Dick White, 48-foot man, the Bulldog coach is counting very little on his individual performers.

Fay Loweridge, C.O.P., sprinter, who gained prominence after running a 9.6 hundred recently, and Norman Jackson, F.S.C., flash, will resume their rivalry in the feature-division race.

RABBIT PUNCHES

PAUL LOWRY

WHAT'S THIS—DISSENSION?

DON'T know whether it's dissension or not, but it looks as if the only teams our Angels can beat are Portland and Hollywood.

At least they haven't been able to beat Sacramento at the current writing.

The business of losing the fourth straight to the Solons went on apace at the ball orchard yesterday, and there seems to be nothing to do about it.

"Huh!" snorted one of the Sunday-morning quarterbacks. "Wonder what the great managerial idea was to leave Baecht in until he was hammered for six runs in the sixth inning, and then with one on and two out lift him for a relief hurler?

"Couldn't Lelivelt see Baecht was wavering and derrick him before all the damage was done?"

Not believing in guessing, the matter is passed on to the master minds and a cheer herewith emitted for Fred Haney's sparkling pickup of Backer's roller and throw to force Vinci at the home plate in the disastrous sixth.

There hasn't been a finer play pulled in many a moon. An instant's hesitation in checking his speed or in getting the ball away with the same motion that he employed in scooping it would have nullified the play. It was a Major-League act in all respects.

THE ANIMAL PICTURES

THE only thing they've missed so far on the ballyhoo for the mat soiree between Gus Sonnenberg and Everett Marshall is the animal pictures.

The p.a. has tuned in with the $200,000 offer by Jack Kearns to Everett Marshall's manager (who is he?) for a contract on the challenger if he licks Dynamite Gus.

The diamond-studded belt has been discussed pro and con, and Mr. Sonnenberg after a terrific mental struggle with himself via Western Union has finally consented to bring the apparatus with him from the East.

A life story of Marshall has been promised a palpitating public.

Another of Sonnenberg is on the fire and will soon be ready for consumption.

The question of the raw meat or vegetable diet for pachyderm champions is brewing.

But at the current writing no animal pictures have made their appearance.

And the rasslin' p.a. holds out no relief. He says the fight p.a.'s have overdone it.

RAH FOR DOYLE

JACK DOYLE deserves a cheer for saving an embarrassing situation in the matter of the Emanuel-Maloney blow-up.

Maloney, 4000 miles from home and prepared to go through with a ten-round fight for which he had been guaranteed $7500, was in the middle of the proposition.

He had nothing to do with the contract that brought the Emanuels and the Olympic management to the parting of the ways.

It would have been a swell story of western promotion for eastern consumption if Doyle had not stepped into the breach.

Doyle took John J. Public into consideration, poured oil on the troubled waters, and not only will stage the Emanuel-Maloney bout but will make it a real card by adding the socking party between Frankie Campbell and Les Kennedy to the bill.

Incidentally, hard-hitting seems to run in the Campbell family. Mr. Camilli, who plays first base for the Senators, hit two terrific wallops at the ball ball park yesterday, and both of them savored of Campbell wallops. Campbell is just a fight name for Camilli. The boys are brothers.

Mails Pitches Ducks to Win

PORTLAND (Or.) April 25. (AP) Behind the airtight pitching of Walter Mails, the lowly Beaver-Ducks snapped out of their lethargy today to overwhelm the San Francisco Missions, 17 to 1. Portland banged out fifteen hits, one a homer by Hillis in the fourth with two on. Sixteen runs of Portland's total and thirteen of the hits were off Duncan Mackay, one of Wade Killefer's young pitchers. The Missions' lone run was made in the sixth. Score:

Pedley Plays in Polo Tilt at Uplifters

Eric Pedley, one of the outstanding polo stars of the country and a leading candidate for position on the team that will play for America in the international matches against England this summer, has moved his mounts and mallets to the Uplifters' Club and will play at that field in a match game tomorrow afternoon. Jim Colt, the famous five-goal player of Santa Barbara, will also be in the line-up. Colt made several appearances at the Midwick Country Club this last season playing with his Santa Barbara four and also with Laddie Sanford's Hurricanes. He is one of the best horsemen in the game and a great player in action.

MIDWICK HORSEMEN IN CLASH TOMORROW

Midwick Country Club horsemen, the Purples and the Whites, will cross mallets tomorrow afternoon in a special match game at the Monterey Park field. The Purples led by Neil McCarthy want the game as a warm-up for their tilt with San Mateo next week at Burlingame. Elmer Boeseke and Carleton Burke will play on the White four. McCarthy's team recently won the round robin tournament at Midwick.

TROJANS ANNEX LENGTHY CLASH

series, the third game being scheduled for this afternoon.

Neeley put the Saints off to a good start in the first inning, when he lofted one over Hanby's head in center for a home run. The Trojans got three in the second to take a 3-1 lead that looked like it would be good for the victory. With one out Wilcox, Shepard and Boswell singled in succession, the first two scoring. Sutherien grounded out, but Hill punched a double to left to score Boswell.

That ended the scoring until the seventh when Ackerman singled, and scored on Beasley's triple. The latter was picked off third, and the next two batters went out, preventing additional markers. In the eighth Noonan walked and went around on Stennett's sacrifice and Neeley's single.

There the score remained until the tenth, when Hill led off with an infield single that was good only because of the speedy legs that carried him to track and football fame. Mohler fanned, and Hanby flew to Fisher, but Arbelbide came through with the necessary bingle to push Hill over.

In the eighth inning with Ward on first and one out, Wilcox laced a line drive down the first-base line that was labeled "two bases," but Bill Ackerman, the all-American Saint tackle, leaped high into the air to grab the ball, and came down on the bag, to execute an unassisted double play.

STANFORD AND HUSKIES CLASH

Rothert, whose efforts with the shot are out around 52ft.

The recognized world's record for the shot put is 52ft. 11-16in. made by John Kuck in the last Olympic Games, while Krenz's discus mark is 163ft. 8in. Either of these records will be in danger when such stalwarts as Krenz, Rothert and Jessup get together.

A practically certain first place was lost to Stanford University with the announcement that Johnny Morrison, quarter-miler, had knotted a muscle and would be out of competition. Washington, too, will be handicapped by the injury of Steve Anderson, national collegiate low-hurdle champion, who sprained his ankle just before entraining last Tuesday.

rounds at the Olympic Tuesday night as a substitute for the Jim Maloney-Armand Emanuel match at reduced prices.

Hector was given a close decision over Cordoza last Tuesday when they boxed the semi to the Max Baer-Ernie Owens bill. If the Baer-Owens scrap had not been so sensational Hector and Cordoza would have stolen the show.

Fred Winsor is piloting Cordoza now. The Mexican middleweight holds decisions over Joe Bitto, Leo Mitchell and twice knocked out Pete Myers in San Francisco.

Jimmy Hanna and Tom Kirby meet in the special-event six-rounder. Hanna has won six straight bouts here, while Kirby comes from Boston, where he has fought both Tommy Loughran and Young Stribling.

SONNENBERG DUE SUNDAY

Champion on Way West from Boston to Prepare for Titular Mat Battle With Marshall

"Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, world's wrestling champion, is scheduled to arrive here from Boston, tomorrow, for his final week of training for his finish title match with Everett Marshall at Wrigley Field, May 8.

The title-holder left Thursday night immediately after he had chalked up another victory at the expense of a young heavyweight prospect in that section. Sonnenberg had intended to make his trip west by air-rail in order to be here today, but Promoter Lou Daro wired the champion not to take any unnecessary chances by air at this time because of the storms.

GUS SONNENBERG

According to Daro, Sonnenberg is bringing the $10,000 diamond - studded belt with him, and it will be placed in Daro's possession to be awarded the winner of this bout. The belt was originally competed for in 1922, when Stanislaus Zbyszko and Ed Lewis met for the world's title. It was put up by the Central Athletic club of Kansas City, and was won by Lewis. Lewis retained it until Sonnenberg defeated him.

Promoter Daro had made preliminary arrangements to have Marshall move his training quarters into the Manhattan gym, beginning Monday. Sonnenberg had been scheduled to start his workouts at the Main-street gym the same day. Sonnenberg and his manager, however, wired they would take up the training question after their arrival.

RIVIERA EVENT IN SEMIFINALS

(Bill) White of Rancho. In his first match with E. D. Martin, White went twenty-two holes to win. Yesterday he lost out on the nineteenth hole when a tricky putt hit the cup and bounced out.

White, without any previous athletic training, took up golf at 50, and plays a splendidly consistent game. His drives are long and straight and he has a fine short game, scoring consistently in the low 90's. He is now retired and expects to be playing in the 70s before long.

PUTTING CHAMPIONSHIP STARTS TODAY

With a large field of golfers entered, qualifying rounds in the annual Los Angeles open putting championships will start this afternoon at Griffith playground putting greens and continue all day tomorrow until concluded, according to Bob Lutton, director of the course.

Scores of the qualifying rounds will provide the basis for dividing entries into flights, according to ability, with trophies to be awarded winners in each flight by the Playground and Recreation Department, sponsors of the tournament.

Following the example of big eastern cities, where city putting championships receive wide attention, effort is being made to build up the Los Angeles event into a classic which will draw many golfers of various abilities, ranging from novices to pros.

CATHEDRAL NINE WINS

The Harvard Military baseball team lost its first league game yesterday afternoon by a score of 3-0, to the Cathedral High nine. The game was played on the latter's diamond.

JIMMY FOX AND DIAZ MEET AT MAIN STREET

Boxing fans at the Main-street club are expecting a slam-bang fight tonight when the return match between Jimmy Fox and Frankie Diaz is staged. The boxers are billed to go six rounds or less and many followers of both boys are predicting that the tilt will not last the limit. Fox and Diaz did some heavy punching in their first encounter and as a result each was on the floor during the battle.

Carlo Curtis has Bert Sampson and Warren Jewett down for the semi-wind-up of six rounds at 147 pounds. Four other scraps are listed.

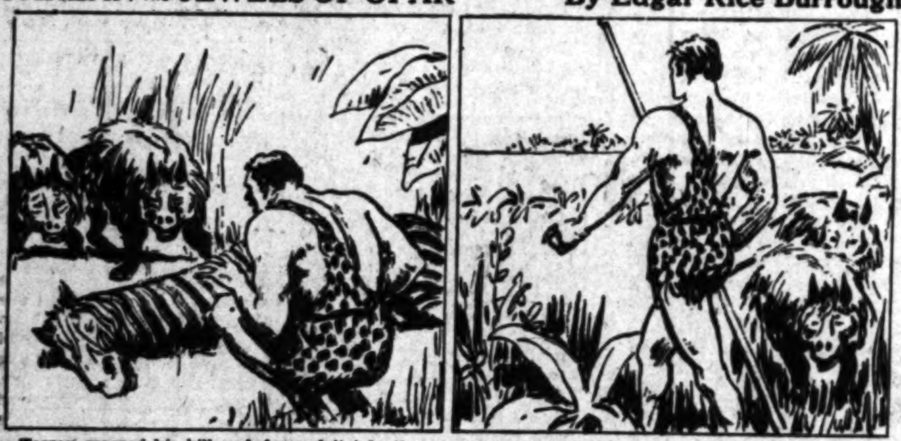
TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Tarzan grasped his kill and dragged it into the bush where he proceeded to satisfy his hunger. Attracted by the shrill screams of the zebras, a pair of hyenas slunk presently into view. They trotted to a point a few yards from the gorging ape-man, and halted. Tarzan looked up, bared his fighting fangs and growled. The hyenas returned the compliment, and withdrew a couple of paces. They made no move to attack but continued to sit until Tarzan had finished his meal.

Then he walked slowly in the direction of the river to quench his thirst. His way lay directly toward the hyenas, nor did he alter his course because of them. With all the lordly majesty of Numa, the lion, he strode straight toward the growling beasts. For a moment they held their ground, bristling and defiant; and then slunk to one side as the indifferent ape-man passed them. A moment later they were tearing at the remains of the zebra.

Through the reeds went Tarzan to the river. A herd of buffalo startled by his approach fled from their feeding. At the river Tarzan drank his fill and bathed. During the heat of the day he lay under a tree's shade near the ruins of his burned barns. Lying at full length along a swaying branch he stretched his giant limbs, luxuriating in the blessed peace. Recalling only dimly any other existence, the ape-man was happy. Lord Greystoke had ceased to exist.

Several hours Tarzan lolled upon his leafy couch. Thirst again suggested an excursion. Dropping to the ground he moved slowly along the game trail, worn to a deep, narrow trench by ages of use. Impenetrable thicket and dense tree growth topped its walls. When he reached the end upon the river's bank he saw his way blocked by a family of lions. Tarzan counted seven, a male and two lionesses, full grown, and four young lions as formidable as their parents. Tarzan halted.

Occidental Oil First Quarter Net Increases

Net earnings of the Occidental Petroleum Company for the first quarter of the current year totaled $58,288.24, or 9 cents a share, before administration expense and taxes, as against $75,447.94 in the preceding quarter and $46,384.06 in the first quarter last year, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company. These earnings represent the amount earned after Universal Consolidated Oil Company has been reimbursed under its drilling and operating agreement, and after it has received its share of the profits.

Oil sold during the quarter amounted to $378,993.12, against $581,795.20 in the preceding quarter, and $679,543.36 in the first three months of 1929. Average production amounted to 2908 barrels per day, as against 3484 barrels at the same time last year.

The drilling program has practically been completed for the present, and Universal Consolidated Oil Company has been reimbursed in full up to March 31, last, for all expenditures so that in the future the company may expect larger revenue, Leonard Garbett, secretary, stated. After cost of drilling Universal retains 55 per cent of the net income. The net income for the quarter divided between both companies was $136,349.12.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—The feature in cotton today was the issuance of the first May notices, which were estimated at about 227,000 bales. It was reported that they were being taken up by interests representing the Southern Co-operative Marketing Associations, but their circulation led to some scattering liquidation and the market was rather nervous and unsettled. Rallies from an opening decline were not maintained and the mid-afternoon market showed net declines of 23 to 18 points, with May selling around 16.10 and the new October 14.94.

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Radio-Keith-Orpheum's urgent need for more pictures may conceivably impel the purchase of either Columbia Pictures or Pathe Exchange, as mentioned in rumors lately. But there is more of a possibility, according to gossip among studio executives, that a Columbia transaction would work out as a releasing agreement rather than a physical purchase. This is the arrangement R.-K.-O. now has with Pathe.

Columbia Pictures is the most robust and progressive of the independent group. The company, although comparatively young, has built up a reputation as an earner of substantial profits on a moderate-sized investment. For the fiscal year ending June 30, next, Columbia is expected to earn more than $6 on the common. In the first half of the fiscal year earnings were $4.41 a share, or 37 cents short of the $4.78 reported in the previous twelve months.

COSTS CUT

This record is attributed to Columbia's reputation as a "picture factory." Artistic temperament, it is said of the company, has no place in the Columbia studios. The acting personnel is usually employed on a single-picture basis, and productions are completed as a rule in from two to three weeks. Operating delays, elaborate sets, effects, etc., are eliminated to save the cost of production.

Very few of Columbia's players are on full-time contract. Seasoned stars are generally employed for the feature pictures, either for a single production or for a definite number. If the contract covers more than one picture the Columbia players generally have the option of working elsewhere in the intervals between the pictures covered by contract.

Not long ago Columbia Pictures was listed on Hollywood's "Poverty Row." But recent successes like "Submarine," "Flight," with Jack Holt; and "Ladies of Leisure," with Ralph Graves and Barbara Stanwyck, have done much to change the financial complexion.

PLAYERS LISTED

For many of its comparatively recent productions Columbia has employed just well-known stars as Evelyn Brent, Ralph Graves, Lowell Sherman, Dorothy Sebastian, Sally O'Neill, Joe Cook, Dorothy Revier, Jack Holt and Lois Wilson.

The Columbia management is turning out talking pictures as a licensee of Western Electric, and is a party to a contract with Victor Talking Machine under which short vocal, instrumental and novelty pictures are produced. This company is not yet recognized as a producer of color pictures; and incidentally the Hollywood studios are beginning to sense a waning in the popularity of the color film. It is too early yet to make definite forecasts, but the tendency is to revise original estimates on color demand.

Having been successful in making and distributing its own product, the general impression is that Columbia is not particularly interested in losing its identity under the wing of a larger company. Sale of a portion of its output to R.-K.-O. is, however, a different proposition.

Universal Oil Earnings Gain

Universal Consolidated Oil Company, subsidiary of the Richfield Oil Company of California, in its 1929 pamphlet report which has just been issued, shows net earnings of $1,401,157, or $3.91 per share on 358,103 shares outstanding after all charges, including Federal taxes, compared with a deficit of $16,619 for 1928. Charges for depreciation, depletion, abandonments and drilling expenditures for the year were $1,294,330, or $3.62 per share.

The consolidated surplus account shows a balance of $1,067,487 on December 31, last, as compared with a deficit of $262,742 the previous year. Current assets at December 31, last, totaled $1,521,458, including $989,078 cash and call loans of $200,000, against current liabilities of $421,318, or a ratio of approximately 4 to 1. This compares with a current ratio of about 2.7 to 1 at the end of 1928.

GIANNINI PUT ON HIGH PEDESTAL

Californian Listed Among Ten Leaders in American Business Field

A. P. Giannini, native-born California banker, is listed as one of the ten key men of American business in the April issue of the North American Review. The selection is made by Edward A. Filene, nationally known Boston merchant. Herbert Hoover is the only other Californian on the list.

Mr. Filene's selections are:

Henry Ford, Owen D. Young, Julius Rosenwald, A. P. Giannini, Jesse Straus, Daniel Willard, Thomas Lamont, Thomas A. Edison, Charles Kettering and Herbert Hoover.

Mr. Giannini is described as a man who knows that it is poor business to charge too high for banking service, just as Henry Ford knew that it was bad business to charge too much for an automobile. Mr. Giannini, according to Mr. Filene, has been the wise pilot in the transition period into branch banking.

Business Survey Finds Conditions Still Unchanged

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

In its fluctuating trends, its slowness of revival, business continues without change of broad significance. Gains which appear remain both scattered and moderate, with retail trade in the East and some other sections hampered anew by unseasonable weather, and declines in commodity prices still predominate. The recessions in wholesale quotations are chiefly in foodstuffs, yet unstable conditions persist in some raw materials used in manufacturing, and markets for finished products are naturally affected.

With buyers having the advantage in most instances, the disposition to operate cautiously is intensified, the possibility of further concessions being considered, and large-scale commitments are the exception. The effects of narrower profit margins and reduced purchasing are disclosed in many of the first-quarter's financial statements, covering diversified industries, and other statistical records reflect the economic transition now under way. In certain respects, however, the situation, although lacking widespread betterment, has improved sufficiently to strengthen the hopeful expectations for the longer future.

Weekly bank clearings, $9,381,577,000, a decrease of 13 per cent from a year ago.

RECORD GAIN FORECAST IN NEW ISSUES

California Commission Expects 1930 Total to Pass 1926 Mark

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. (AP) The State Railroad Commission today forecast a possible record-breaking year in security financing by California public utilities, releasing figures which were said to indicate that the service companies were entering on a period of vigorous growth and development.

As against a total authorized issue of $103,288,473 in 1929, the commission already this year has authorized the issuance of $163,559,965 in stocks, bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness. The record year was 1926, when $395,098,168 in securities were issued. Successful conclusion of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company merger with the Central and Northern California interests of the North American Company of New York will push the 1930 total past the $200,000,000 mark.

The commission pointed out that all of the financing done during the first four months of 1930 has been for additions and betterments. In contrast the $395,000,000 figure for 1926 resulted principally from the changing over to $25 par value of large amounts of common stock originally issued at $100 par.

Cut in Stewart-Warner Dividend Hits Stock Price

CHICAGO, April 25. (Exclusive) Stewart-Warner Corporation today declared a dividend of 25 cents a share on its capital stock, payable May 15 to stock of record May 5, as against a previous quarterly rate of 87½ cents.

C. B. Smith, president, said the board in face of the poor business during the early months of the year, decided to be conservative and maintain the company's cash position. He added business is showing considerable increase and should soon reach its normal figure.

NEW YORK, April 25. (Exclusive) The announcement of the dividend reduction was immediately followed by a sharp break of 10 points in Stewart-Warner stock.

Pacific Mutual Denies Report of Stock Split

Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company is not contemplating any split-up of its stock, George I. Cochran, president of the company, declared yesterday in denying reports to that effect from San Francisco.

"I would not think of such a thing and you can deny the report emphatically," said Mr. Cochran.

When asked as to whether he had formulated details of the plan he recently announced he had under consideration that would be of interest to the stockholders, Mr. Cochran said that he had not.

"We are having a very good year and by the end of the year we will be able to put a plan into effect," he said. "I have a number of ideas in mind that I am working on, but have not settled on one as yet. When I do an official announcement will be made."

FRANCE TRYING NEW POLICY

Move to Produce Republic's Food Necessities in Northern Africa Colonies Under Way

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, April 25.—With the aim of producing in her own territory all the foodstuff France needs, the government has begun an intensive survey of the agricultural possibilities of Northern Africa. The intention is to establish extensive canneries for the packing of fruits and vegetables that can be produced more economically there than in France.

The rest of Europe is watching the experiment with interest. A leading French agriculturist says: "In another generation France will be freed from buying the necessities of life outside her own domain."

There is no doubt that the climate of Northern Africa—Morocco, Algeria and Tunis—is excellent for the growing of fruits, and that labor conditions there are ideal.

Algeria today has more than 530,000 acres under grape cultivation. In 1927 some 177,000,000 gallons of wine were produced in that country. Tunis and Morocco have about 9,000,000 acres capable of producing the sort of foodstuff France now needs.

When the Department of Commerce announced that at the end of 1929 foreign short-term funds put into bankers' acceptances (chiefly at New York) had reached the record-breaking total of $891,132,000, it came as a distinct shock to many people who believe that the foreign bankers and business men have all they can do to finance Europe.

But the item was not news to many well-informed banking and business leaders in the United States, because the acceptance is better known to them and it has been customary for years for foreign central banks to purchase large holdings of dollar acceptances in the United States.

The Federal Reserve banks in their weekly statement show the item under the heading, "Contingent liability on bills purchased for foreign correspondence." Not all of these acceptances are shown here but a very substantial amount is so recorded, for this item at the end of 1929 showed on the reserve statement at $547,962,000.

The rest of the foreign-held acceptances were taken on by foreign groups through about eight of the larger New York banks.

Dr. Ray Hall of the Department of Commerce, commenting on the figures, made this significant statement: "They show also the limited use that American bankers make of the outside world when they have an excess of loanable funds."

What would happen should the Europeans decide to withdraw this huge fund from the United States? The answer is that it would be impossible to do so. For much of this large amount is part of the cash reserves of about thirty central banks that legally count foreign exchange holdings as cash reserves.

Yes, the old world is a complicated piece of machinery—in its financial department, especially.

TRADING ON WOOL MART STILL DULL

Weekly Review Reports Prices Steady on Fines and Easy on Mediums

BOSTON, April 25. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

The seaboard markets continue quiet. With prices steady on fine but easier on medium to low wools.

In the West there is a slightly broader movement, which probably will be general in another two weeks at prices fully on parity with eastern markets.

The piece-goods markets are responding slowly and are not especially encouraging. The advent of warmer weather may help the movement of goods.

With the passage of the tariff expected early in May, the future course of the Farm Board protege is the problem of chief import to the best of the trade.

Foreign markets are quiet but steady.

Mohair is dull and nominal.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1930, to April 24, 1930, inclusive, were 43,109,000 pounds, against 59,815,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1930, to April 24, 1930, inclusive, were 60,378,800 pounds, against 77,339,085 pounds for the same period last year.

PHILADELPHIA, April 25. (Exclusive) — A special meeting of stockholders of Insurance Company of North America has been called for June 30, to vote on a proposal to increase the capital from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000, and to authorize issuance of stock at discretion of the board.

Sharp Decline Registered in Total Turnover

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—The stock market was again flighty today. Professional operators for the rise appeared to be gaining control of the price movement by bidding up several fast movers for a time, but failed to overcome widespread speculative nervousness, and the market repeated yesterday's performance of selling off rapidly in the last hour.

The day's backing and filling of prices left the price level practically unchanged, the index of ninety leading shares showing a loss of 1-5 of a point. Trading diminished considerably, the day's sales of 4,725,940 shares showing a reduction of about 500,000 from yesterday.

The motor accessory stocks broke sharply in response to reduction of the Stewart Warner annual dividend from $3.50 and 8 per cent in stock to $1. This development unsettled the market generally, and such additional business news as appeared was not particularly encouraging.

MONEY STEADY

Credit conditions remained stationary, with call money repeating the process of renewing at 4 per cent and later slipping to 3 1-2, with funds freely offered in the outside market at 3.

Several of the leading utilities were well bought. The price index of twenty leading issues from this group was elevated about 2 1-2 points to a new high for the year. Consolidated Gas was in demand, reflecting disclosure that United Corporation had accumulated a large block at an average price of 121. The stock reached a 1930 peak at 136 5-8, up about 4 points. Eastman Kodak was in isolated strong spot, rising 9 points to a 1930 peak. Standard of New York was a firm feature of the oils, mounting 2 points to 40, the best level of the year. A. M. Byers sold up 5 points to a new high, and American Tobacco and American Can were substantial gains.

STEWARD WARNER HIT

Stewart Warner tumbled 12 points on the cutting of the dividend, getting within a fraction of last autumn's minimum of 30. Auburn Auto broke 13 points, then regained half its loss. Air Reduction, American Bosch, Bohn Aluminum, Borg Warner, Chicago Pneumatic Tool, Electric Auto Lite, United Aircraft and Motor Products sold off from 3 to 7 points. On the whole, leading shares were fairly well supported, although American Telephone, United States Steel and Radio lost a point or so.

Foreign exchanges were dull and fairly steady, although sterling cables sagged 3-32 to $4.86 11-32.

A DECADE OF GROWTH

THE business done by the combined operating units of the Associated Gas and Electric System has shown at all times a rapid and remarkably constant growth. A statement showing the earnings and other statistics for the period 1920-1929 of all properties now comprising the Associated System, including the New England Gas and Electric Association group, is shown below:—

Standard Oil Continues to Forge Upward as Balance of Stock Market Weakens

Standard Oil of California, continuing its advance into new high territory for the year, again held the center of the stage in yesterday's operations on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The issue shot up 1⅜ points to another new 1930 peak at 74⅝ and closed at 74⅜ for a net gain of ⅝ after a turnover of 3400 shares. The balance of the board, with one or two exceptions, turned softer.

Transamerica led the activity of the market and was another strong spot, advancing nearly a point to 46 1-4 from which point the stock sold down to close at 45 3-4 but up 3-8 net. More than 5000 shares of the issue changed hands. Pacific Mutual Life, although less active, was also strong with a gain of 7-8 to 93 and with the rights advancing 10 cents to 4:30. Central Investment continued its upward trend by advancing another point to 98, a new 1930 top.

Among the soft spots Pacific Public Service stood out with a drop of 1 1-2 points to 32 1-4 and Southern California Edison, trading much less than usual, fell off a point to 68 3-4. Western Air Express sank another point to 39 and Security-First National Bank dropped 2 points to 112.

The oil group, aside from Standard of California, again held within narrow limits as the trading indicated a disposition on the part of traders to await developments. Union was the only active issue and after firming up to 48 3-8 closed at 47 3-4, off 1-8 net. Union Associates, Rio Grande and Pacific Western dipped small fractional amounts, while Macmillan gained 1-4 to 29 1-4 and Richfield held steady to 26.

Sales totaled 24,638 shares valued at $1,065,710; previous day 31,068 shares valued at $1,353,199.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Moderate week-end receipts moved in fair season at generally steady prices. Cows furnished the big end of the supply, steer offerings being confined to one load and a few small bunches.

A load of 1153-pound intermountain steers made 11.60 with a few others at 10.60. A package of 793-pound grass steers made 10.25 with some Jersey steers at 8.00.

A few head of good cows made 8.85@9.25 with bulk of medium kinds, including around four loads of California and intermountain cows at 8.25@8.75; common kinds selling on down to 7.00 with low cutters and cutters mainly at 4.00@6.75. A few head of bulls scored 8.00@8.35, with others at 7.00@7.75.

CALVES—Light fresh receipts and over 150 holdovers were fairly well cleaned up but trade was on a peddling basis with most sales looking weak to unevenly lower. A few head of good vealers made 13.00 with bulk of desirable quality and weight going at 10.00@12.00. Cull vealers and plain weighty calves brought 7.50@9.50 with some at 7.00 and below.

HOGS—Three fresh loads were disposed of early at strong to 10c higher rates. A load of 192-pound Nebraskas with freight benefit went to an outsider at 10.90, while practical top stood at 10.85, paid for a load of 190-pound Nebraskas. A load of 181-pound Nebraskas was bought to arrive at 10.75.

SHEEP—Only a few trucked-in lambs and ewes were available. These were soon sold at prices about steady, quality considered. A package of 67-pound springers brought 9.75 with some 65-pound weights at 7.75. A few yearlings made 7.00 with 127-pound ewes at 3.00. Good to choice spring lambs are quoted up to 10.25.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Firmness of the investment rails and of United States government securities gave a brighter tone to the bond market today. Numerous high-grade carrier liens moved up ½ to ¾ of a point, representing the best move of the week in these pivotal issues.

Most of the improvements appeared in the late trading and closing prices were generally the highest of the day. Total sales, the smallest for a five-hour session so far this year, dipped below $9,000,000 principal amount.

The firmer rails included Santa Fe general 4s, and New York Central 5s, up ¾ each; New Haven debenture 4s of 1957, up 1 point to a new 1930 high; Baltimore and Ohio refunding 5s and Long Island 4s, also up 1 point; and Rock Island refunding 4s, Erie 5s, Missouri Pacific "F" 5s, Nickel Plate "A" 5½s, and Pennsylvania 4¾s.

Amusement company bonds were mixed. General Theaters 6s sagged more than 1 point. Pathe 7s, with warrants, ran up to a new high above 77, and although they failed to hold that figure the close was 1½ net higher. Shubert 6s likewise touched a new top, 69½, but finished 1 point below the Thursday final.

With the exception of the oil group, industrials tended to ease.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

LOS ANGELES CURB

With the exception of Crystalite Products and Intercoast Trading which firmed up substantially, operations on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday followed the softer trend displayed on the senior board. Fractional recessions were recorded for the most part.

Crystalite, which in recent sessions has fluctuated widely, continued its advance of the preceding session with a gain of 1½ points to 25½. Intercoast led the market trading with a turnover of 1000 shares under which the issue gained 1 3-8 to 23 and reacted to 22½, up 7-8 net.

Magnavox dropped ⅛ to 5⅜; District Bond, 2 to 29; Gladding McBean, 1 to 56; Axelson, 1 to 8, and Fokker, 3-8 to 26 3-4. American Royalty Company came on the board for the first time and proved an active issue in the penny list, ranging between 22½ to 24 cents, closing at the latter price.

Sales totaled 97,845 shares, valued at $163,442; previous day, 54,157 shares, valued at $167,381.

The following information has been summarized by Mr. S. Donald Coster, President of McKesson & Robbins, Incorporated from his letter to the Bankers, dated April 23rd, 1930, copies of which may be obtained upon request, and is subject to the more complete information contained therein:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: The Corporation was organized under the laws of the State of Maryland in August, 1928 and owns substantially all of the capital stock of McKesson & Robbins, Incorporated, a Connecticut manufacturing corporation, and of a group of long-established drug product distributing houses.

The manufacturing unit of the Corporation has been engaged for many years in the manufacture and sale of a group of national drug products and standard household remedies. It has always enjoyed with the public and the medical profession a high reputation as a purveyor of fine drugs, chemicals and medicinal compounds. Branches are maintained in London, Paris, Montreal, Kobe, Shanhgai, Hankow and various South American cities.

The organization includes outstanding distributing houses having warehouses located in 67 of the most important merchandise distributing centers of the United States, strategically situated in 33 states. From these warehouses it is in a position to supply retail druggists throughout the country with their drug and sundry requirements.

Through centralized control of purchases, finances and inventories, as well as sales and advertising administration, the organization offers to the independent drug retailers economic advantages usually associated with retail "Chain Store" operation. Through the McKesson Service Plan, effective assistance in merchandising, sales promotion and advertising is rendered to approximately 15,000 independent retail druggists.

Pending proceedings by the Federal Trade Commission, if maintained, in the opinion of counsel for the Corporation, will not result in any serious impairment of the combined business, earnings and assets.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds of this issue of debentures are to be used to pay indebtedness of the Corporation and its subsidiary companies incurred in connection with the acquisition of property and for other general corporate purposes.

EARNINGS: The annual combined net profits, after depreciation but before interest and Federal income taxes, during the four-year period ended December 31, 1929, of the Corporation and its subsidiary and predecessor companies (with certain exceptions as noted on the statement thereof) as certified by Price, Waterhouse & Co., averaged $5,478,465.53 or 4.5 times annual interest on the debentures to be presently issued as shown above. Such combined net profits for the year ended December 31, 1929, amounted to $5,231,082.97 or 4.3 times such interest.

ASSETS: The pro forma consolidated balance sheet of the Corporation and its subsidiary companies as of December 31, 1929, giving effect to this financing, the retirement, with a portion of the proceeds, of notes, acceptances and mortgages payable and other long term obligations, the consummation of certain transactions in connection with the acquisition of certain businesses and investments under commitment at said date, as certified by Price, Waterhouse & Co., shows net tangible assets (before deducting these debentures) of $69,450,145.85 which is equivalent to $3,156. for each $1,000 of debentures to be presently issued as shown above.

Consolidated current assets as shown on said balance sheet of $57,353,835.50 compare with consolidated current liabilities shown thereon of $9,131,532.08, a ratio of 6.2 to 1. Net current assets are therefore equivalent to $2,190. for each debenture.

SINKING FUND: The Indenture will provide for semi-annual sinking fund payments beginning July 15, 1931, increasing each five year period thereafter, amounting in the aggregate to $17,250,000.

MANAGEMENT: The Board of Directors of the Corporation includes the Presidents of many of the subsidiaries, who are also Vice-Presidents of the Corporation. The management remains in the hands of executives who have been responsible for the development of the business and who have a substantial financial interest in the Corporation.

EQUITY: The outstanding Preference and Common Stocks of the Corporation, at their current market prices, have an indicated value of over $50,000,000.

Application will be made to list these debentures on the New York Stock Exchange

We offer the above debentures when, as and if issued and accepted by us, and subject to approval of counsel. All legal details are to be passed upon for the Bankers by Messrs. Beekman, Bogue & Clark, and for the Corporation by its counsel Messrs. Root, Clark, Buckner & Ballantine. It is expected that temporary debentures or interim receipts will be ready for delivery on or about May 8, 1930.

Court to continue work. Residents near the well declared it a nuisance in an attempt to halt drillings. Judge S. E. Crow refused to grant a temporary injunction.

Lincoln Drilling's test is about a mile east from the old Summerfield tideland field. Work on it had been suspended since last fall due to court action. It drilled to 400 feet and will resume to go at least 1100 feet.

Brings In One

The Associated Oil Company has completed Jordan No. 3 in the Santa Fe Springs field for 1000 barrels of 33 deg.-gravity oil per day from a depth of 7900 feet. The flow is practically clean.

To Land Casing

Surface casing is to be landed at once in the Standard Oil Company's Murphy-Coyote No. 104 in the Coyote Hills field. The well is down 3145 feet and has only a short distance to go to tap the shallow producing sand. It is near the company's Murphy-Coyote No. 103 drilling below 2350 feet, the Emery No. 46 below 3000 feet and Emery No. 47 which recently spudded in. Standard's Emery No. 43-A developed a deeper productive sand and now is shut in to conform to the State-wide curtailment program.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, April 25. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says:

Automotive strip steel releases are holding up fairly well, but some recession in demand from other consuming lines is noted with a consequent slackening of production at some points. Steel pipe is moving at a less active rate than is considered normal for this season, but producers are hopeful of an improvement in buying shortly. Plain structural shapes are not moving so actively in the East and mill operations in the district are tending downward.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, April 25. (Exclusive)—The approach of May 1 notice day, which falls on Monday, another expected large increase in crude rubber stocks at London and Liverpool and easier cables from the British rubber market, all served to create a feeling of depression on the local rubber exchange today.

Liquidation chiefly from commission houses caused prices to near record low levels and at the close of business futures in the "A" contract were from 30 to 50 points below previous closes. Sales, 339 lots, or 847½ tons. The London spot position closed easy and 3-16d lower at 7 1-16d. In Singapore the near delivery remained at 7d. Outside spot here declined ¼c to 14⅝c.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, April 25. (AP)—Early wool shorn lambs and sheep on seed in Colorado are arriving on the market, and are meeting a fair demand from top makers. Sales have been closed on fine clip, consisting of mainly 64s and 60s quality of bulk French combing staple at prices around 65c, scoured basis. These wools are suitable for making tops.

Some of the wools selling at these prices are not eligible for the better class of tops, because of a break in fiber in many of the fleeces.

COFFEE MARKET

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Coffee, spot, steady; demand light; Rio No. 7, 9⅝; Santos No. 4, 14¼.

SHIP BUND RIFT THREAT PASSES

Intercoastal Agreement on Lumber Reassuring

Rate War Believed Averted at Bay City Parley

Other Bones of Contention Also Compromised

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Another crisis in the Intercoastal Conference, threatening recently to develop into another disastrous rate-slashing war, is believed to have passed with the apparently successful culmination yesterday of the Intercoastal Lumber Conference in San Francisco.

The parley, which has lasted all week, is said not only to have effected many compromises between obdurate lines, but promises both to stabilize the lumber trade and stimulate offerings of general cargo. Details were not released.

The dearth of general cargo offerings, due to slight recessions in business, are said to have brought competition in the over-tonnaged trade to the warring point. Lumber rates also were down almost to the vanishing point without inspiring eastern business. Together they engendered a warring mood, which, according to Pacific Shipper, threatened the entire conference structure.

Added to it was the resignation of Panama Mail Steamship Company from the Intercoastal Conference, and the failure to enroll the Dimon Line, while the independent position of the Calmar Line added to the general concern.

Robert C. Thackera, chairman of the parent conference, came west to sit in on the lumber conference, and he is given credit for wresting peace from the warring elements, as he has done regularly for several years.

PERMIT ISSUED FOR NEW PORT WAREHOUSE

State Railroad Commission yesterday granted Wilmington Transfer and Storage Company authority to construct 100,000 square feet of warehousing in the harbor district. Sanction follows hearings before W. J. Sanford, examiner for the commission at Los Angeles March 27.

The company expects to construct 75,000 feet in Wilmington, 25,000 feet on Terminal Island, according to J. C. Puckett, president. It is understood the former will be on Mormon Island, the latter in the vicinity of Berths 233 and 234.

The firm already operates 90,000 feet of warehousing in Wilmington. It is a member of the California and Los Angeles Warehousemen's Association, which is resisting a warehouse application from the Crescent Dock and Wharf Company on Terminal Island. The latter does not belong to the association.

Leslie C. Jacobson, local general agent for the Pacific States Express, Inc., inspected warterfront facilities here yesterday in connection with his company's door-to-door freight delivery to and from the Lassco liners Yale and Harvard here and at San Francisco. James Kennedy, general freight agent for the Lassco Line, accompanied him.

Three hundred passengers disembarked from the Lassco flagship City of Los Angeles, arriving here yesterday morning from Hawaii. Among them were Charles H. Prisk, Pasadena publisher; Jackson Scholz, former Massachusetts track star, now writing fiction; Max Stern, reporter, San Francisco; Miss Miriam Leilani, singer, of Honolulu; Arthur Brooke, conductor of the Honolulu symphony orchestra, and Howard McKay, vice-president of Los Angeles Advertising Club.

The new Larrimore freighter Pasadena, recently dispatched into the Mexican trade, is returning here from Manzanillo towing the former German Diesel craft Saragossa. Both will load onyx midway down the coast of Lower California.

The Norwegian motorship Nyhorn of the Knudsen Line arrived from Chile and Central America yesterday, bringing 7000 tons of lead, silver, copper and gold concentrates for Selby and Tacoma smelters. She is discharging 4200 bunches of bananas and nitrate for Balfour, Guthrie & Co.

Harry Proctor, who as chief steward on the Admiral Line flagship H. F. Alexander is as much a Coast institution as the ship itself, is outfitting the liner again for its summer entry in the coastwise trade. The greyhound will start early next month on its weekly round voyages between here, San Francisco and Seattle, arriving Friday mornings and sailing north the same afternoons.

Huge Lion Saves Life of Trainer Bitten by Tiger

KOKOMO (Ind.) April 25. (AP)—Prince, giant lion and veteran circus trouper, saved the life of his trainer, who was attacked by a tiger here today.

Clyde Beatty, 25 years of age, of Chillicothe, O., said to be the youngest animal trainer in the profession, was conducting a dress rehearsal preparing for the opening show of the season here. Trudy, a new tiger, knocked him down, ripped open his side and bit his arm.

The giant Prince, one of thirty-two lions and tigers in the cage with Beatty, hurled his huge bulk against the tiger, knocking her across the arena, where he beat and chewed the cat's side.

SHEPARD MORGAN ON STAFF OF EQUITABLE

Election of Shepard Morgan as vice-president of the Equitable Trust Company of New York was announced yesterday by Winthrop W. Aldrich, president. Mr. Morgan, who until recently was finance director of the office for reparation payments in Berlin, was associated with the Dawes plan organization in Berlin since it was first established in 1924. He formerly was a financial and political reporter on the New York Sun.

WALES BACK HOME FROM AFRICA TRIP

Prince's Plane Lands on Field Close to His New Country Residence

WINDSOR (Eng.) April 25. (AP)—The Prince of Wales, home from his African hunting trip, landed from the air on Smith's Lawn in the Windsor great park today.

The plane came down close to the Prince's new country residence, Fort Belvedere, at Sunningdale. From the front door a private road is being built to the private royal airdrome at Smith's Lawn. Fort Belvedere has been in the hands of builders and decorators for some time in preparation for the Prince's return from Africa.

The Duke of York and Prince George were waiting to greet their elder brother. They drove to the Prince's country home, where King George and Queen Mary welcomed him home.

Since he left London January 3, the Prince has traveled 18,000 miles, much of it in wild hunting country. His principal shooting, however, was done with a motion-picture camera and he obtained excellent animal pictures.

TRUST DEAL CHARGED TO STEEL MEN

Ohioan Says Bethlehem and United States Made Youngstown Join Merger

CLEVELAND (O.) April 25. (AP)—Assertions that the United States Steel Corporation and the Bethlehem Steel Corporation co-operated in efforts to merge Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company with Bethlehem and a request for investigation of the merger deal by the Federal Trade Commission were made today by E. S. Wertz, former assistant District Attorney here. Wertz made his charge and request as a stockholder in Sheet and Tube and addressed them to the Trade Commission by letter.

United States Steel, the largest steel company in the country, and Bethlehem, second largest and generally considered its chief rival, were declared by Wertz "to be dominated by the same group of financiers, it appears."

Wertz also requested U. S. Dist.-Atty. Mahon to obtain permission from the Attorney-General for authority to investigate the merger deal.

Deterding Hits French Plans

PARIS, April 25. (Exclusive)—In an article in "Illustration Economique et Financiere," Sir Henri Deterding, head of Royal Dutch Company, argues against the apparent intention of the French government to supply France's oil requirements from her own sources and restrict the business of the big producing companies.

He points out that although the British government is an important shareholder in the Anglo-Persian Oil Company, it is wise enough not to depend upon the English market to an extent of more than one-third of the output. Sir Henri queries whether France with a fourth share of the Mesopotamian production is wise in planning to extend her own production, and adds that Anglo-Persian also owns one-fourth of Mesopotamian rights and is thus entitled to carry on a large trade with France.

Magma Copper Profits Slump

NEW YORK, April 25. (Exclusive)—Magma Copper Company reported today consolidated net income for the quarter ended March 21 last, of $388,676 after depreciation and all fixed and general expenses, equal to 95 cents a share on 408,155 capital shares, against $992,037 in the same quarter last year or $2.43 a share on the same share basis.

During the three months this year there was produced by Magma Copper Company 6,830,000 pounds of refined copper at a cost of 12.27 cents a pound after deducting gold and silver values. Houdaille Net Sharply Down

DETROIT, April 25. (Exclusive) Houdaille-Hershey Company reported today net income for the March quarter of $80,366 after all charges including expense in moving the Canadian plant, equal to 46 cents a share on 174,849 class A convertible shares, against $552,874 in the same quarter of 1929, equal after A dividends to $1.69 a share on 262,783 class B shares. Claire L. Barnes, president, stated that the lower earnings were due to the postponement of releases caused by a drastic curtailment of automobile production during the first two and one-half months. A marked improvement set in about the middle of March, he said.

SALES TOTAL GIVEN BY SEARS, ROEBUCK

CHICAGO, April 25. (AP)—Sales of Sears Roebuck and Company for the fourth period of its thirteen-month calendar totaled $30,495,295 compared with $31,950,973 for the same period March 27 to April 23, in 1929. Net Earnings of Exeter Oil Show Increase

Net earnings of the Exeter Oil Company for the quarter closed March 31, last, amounted to $80,043.51 after all charges, including reserves for depreciation, depletion and Federal income taxes, equal to 10½ cents a share on the 750,900 shares of Class A stock outstanding as against $26,030.30 for the same period last year, C. J. Von Bibra, president, announced yesterday.

The dividend requirements of 1 per cent a month were earned three and one-half times. For the last quarter of 1929 the company reported net earnings of $113,708, or 15 cents a share. The net income before reserves for the initial quarter this year amounted to $114,496.20; charge-offs for reserves amounted to $34,447.69.

Mr. Von Bibra stated that the company's production is thoroughly settled and that drilling projects now under way are expected to add substantially to the company's earnings in the near future. Two wells are headed for the deep sands in the southeast end of Signal Hill and pending the outcome of the Belridge No. 15 just brought in and cleaning out, the company will start an immediate drilling program in the Belridge territory where it has 140 acres.

Utility Merger Rumor Spiked

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. (Exclusive)—New York reports that negotiations are under way to merge Southern California Edison Company, Pacific Lighting Company and Nevada-California Electric Company, were described as erroneous here today by bankers and executives of the last two named organizations. Coincidentally they denied the truth of a reported deal to bring Pacific Lighting and Nevada-California Electric together.

Despite this, Nevada-California stock stood out in a generally weak market, soaring 25 points to an all-time high of 130. Officials of the latter company attribute the rise in stock quotations to benefits indicated from the prospective sale of valuable water rights to the city of Los Angeles.

Stock Exchange Issues Bulletin

NEW YORK, April 25. (Exclusive)—The New York Stock Exchange has inaugurated the compilation of a monthly bulletin containing economic statistics relating to security marketing. In explaining the purpose of the bulletin, E. H. H. Simmons, president, said in part:

"Mindful of increasingly close relationship between leading stock markets of the world and their tendency on frequent occasions to act and react upon each other, certain foreign statistics will be included. Throughout the bulletin an attempt will be made to explain methods followed in deriving all statistics prepared by the stock exchange itself, which are in any way weighted or adjusted."

CITY MOVES FOR CLARITY ON PAVING

Confusing Petitions For Many Special Types of Surfacing Vex Council

An effort to straighten out complications in the circulation of patented paving petitions was made by the City Council yesterday in adopting a report of a Public Works Committee outlining policy to be followed in handling such matters.

Hereafter, circulators of such petitions must be sworn. Petitions for certain types of pavement must be filed with at least 55 per cent of the frontage. This petition will b. the only one considered by the Council until the formal protest date, at which time the property owners, if they wish, may take in a larger petition, favoring another type of paving, at which time the Council will act.

The Council heretofore has had much trouble and confusion with a mass of contradictory petitions, some property owners signing pleas for certain pavement, others specifying different types, and some signing every petition submitted to them.

First Street and Broadway Grades Fixed

The report of the Public Works Committee establishing the grade at the intersection of First street and Broadway was adopted yesterday by the City Council. The grade will be raised by a four-foot fill at this point with a six-foot cut at Hill street.

The action was occasioned by the request of M. Lombardi to erect a height-limit building at the southwest corner.

ACTION TAKEN IN POWER DEAL

Boulder Dam Contract Gets Municipal Approval

Water Board Vote Receives Council Confirmation

District and Edison Company Announce Like Steps

Actual construction work on Boulder Dam this summer came a step nearer realization last night when the power contracts between the United States, the City of Los Angeles, the Southern California Edison and affiliated companies, and the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California were approved.

The City Council held a special session beginning at 9 o'clock last night, and approved by ordinance and resolution the action of the Board of Water and Power Commissioners in approving the contract. The board of directors of Metropolitan district approved the contract at a meeting yesterday afternoon. Advices from the company were that the contract was approved as submitted in its final form.

Although the contracts have been the subject of weeks of negotiation between the parties and the government representatives who have been on the ground here, the provisions finally agreed upon are substantially as indicated when the preliminary agreements were signed a few weeks ago. They are written as one legal instrument and are referred to as a single contract.

CONTRACT PROVISIONS

The contracts establish the city and the Edison company as actual lessees of the Boulder Dam power plant, with the Metropolitan district, other municipalities in Southern California and the States of Nevada and Arizona as allottees of the power to be generated.

As soon as the actual signatures are affixed, Northcutt Ely, executive assistant to Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, who has been directing the negotiations in Los Angeles on behalf of the government, expects to leave by airplane for Washington, probably tomorrow, to have the instruments gone over and approved by the solicitor for the department, approved by the Secretary himself, and then submitted to Congress as a basis for asking for the necessary appropriation to build the dam.

The approval of the Secretary of the Interior is taken as a foregone conclusion, inasmuch as he has been kept constantly in touch with the progress of the negotiations here.

LENGTHY DOCUMENT

The contract is a lengthy document comprising some forty typewritten pages. It provides for the sale of all of the power output of Boulder Dam, estimated at about 650,000 horsepower, with the dam at the newly approved height of 575 feet. One clause provides for the disposition of an additional 13,000 horsepower which will be available to any municipality if the height of the dam is raised to 582 feet, a possibility now being considered. The 650,000 horsepower is equivalent to about 4,240,000,000 kilowatt hours a year of electrical energy.

As indicated in the preliminary agreement, the contract provides that the power be allocated among the several users as follows: To the States of Nevada and Arizona, 18 per cent each of the total energy; to the city of Los Angeles, 13 per cent; to the Edison company and affiliated companies, 9 per cent; to the Metropolitan Water District, all of the power that it will need to pump the water into the Colorado River aqueduct, and not to exceed 36 per cent of the total primary power.

GOVERNMENT TO BUILD

The government will build the dam and install the electrical generating machinery. The machinery will be leased to the two lessees and they will have to keep it in repair and make all replacements. The government will require the lessees to pay back the cost of the machinery in the form of rental extending over ten years.

The government sells to the lessees only the falling water. The price will be on a basis of 1.64 mills a kilowatt hour for primary power,

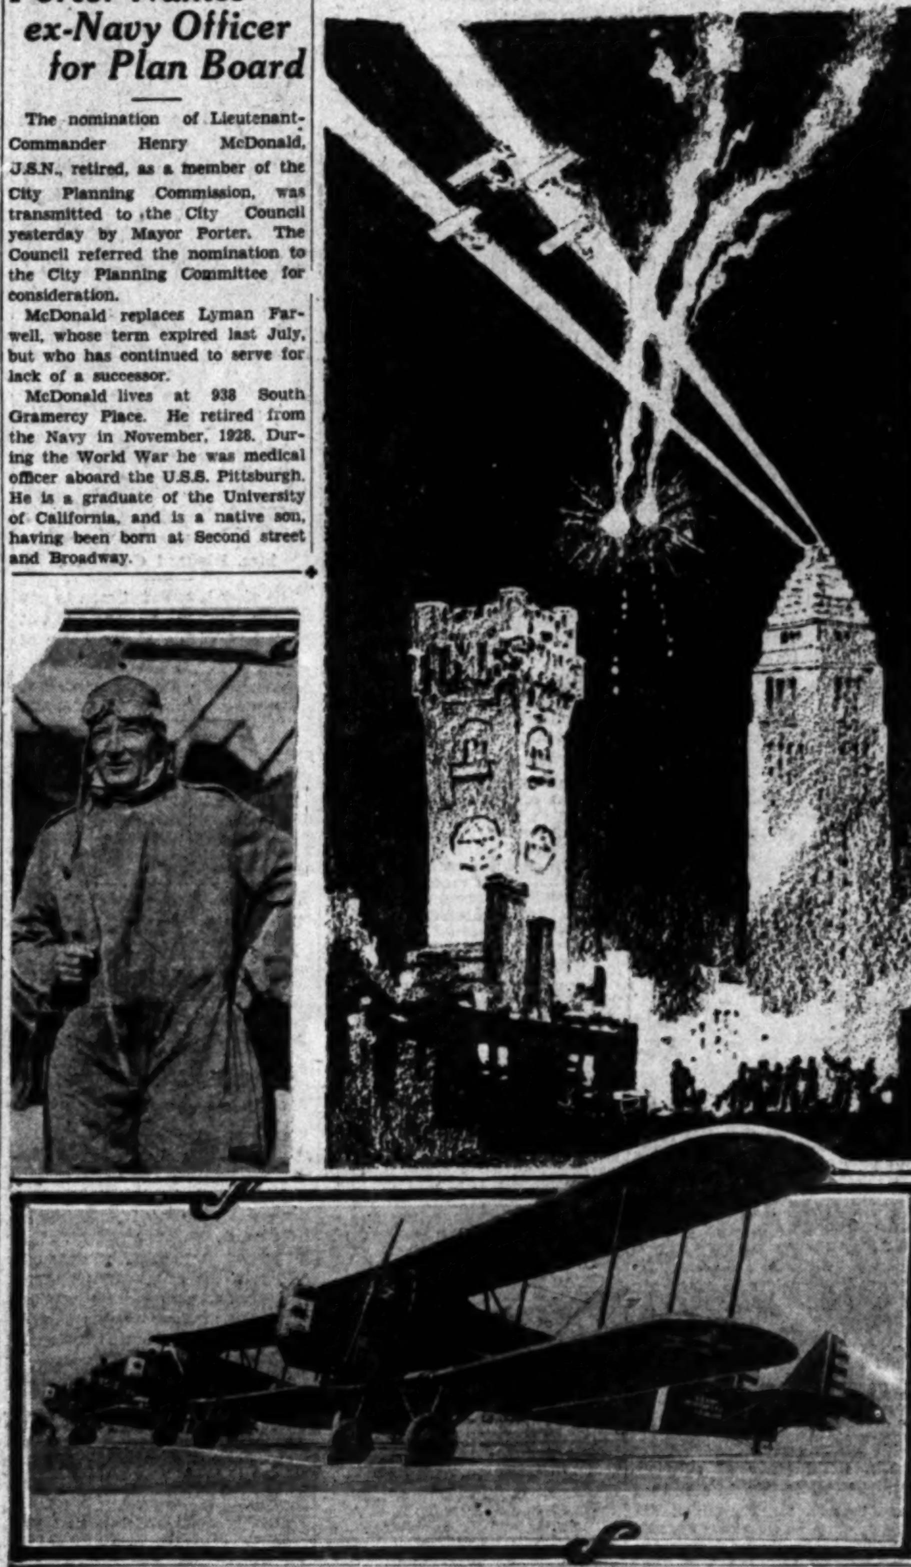
Porter Names ex-Navy Officer for Plan Board

The nomination of Lieutenant-Commander Henry McDonald, U.S.N., retired, as a member of the City Planning Commission, was transmitted to the City Council yesterday by Mayor Porter. The Council referred the nomination to the City Planning Committee for consideration.

McDonald replaces Lyman Farwell, whose term expired last July, but who has continued to serve for lack of a successor.

McDonald lives at 938 South Gramercy Place. He retired from the Navy in November, 1928. During the World War he was medical officer aboard the U.S.S. Pittsburgh. He is a graduate of the University of California, and is a native son, having been born at Second street and Broadway.

Air Bombers Strafe Los Angeles



As Artist Sees Air Raid

PLANES SHOWER 'BOMBS' ON CITY

Dense Throngs Witness Aerial Attack

Main Contingent Arrives Today at 9 a.m.

Army Show Will Begin at 2 This Afternoon

Dense throngs of people in the streets of Los Angeles last night received a vivid impression of what an aerial attack means when four huge army bombing planes flew over the city and released what might have been bombs, but actually were 800,000-candlepower flares whose brilliant white light vividly illuminated the objectives of the mock attack, which were the City Hall and the central business section of Hollywood.

The attacking planes constitute an advance force of the 170 military airplanes which have just completed the three weeks of maneuvers of the United States Army Air Corps at Sacramento and are due to arrive at the United Airport in Burbank today to give an impressive demonstration of massed flying this afternoon.

PRETTY CURTAIN-RAISER

Heralding the coming of the attacking planes last night, three smaller "firefly" planes, Curtiss Falcons with illuminated wings, flew over the downtown section of the city, reconnoitering, and prepared, if it were actual and not mimic warfare, to beat off defending planes. Being only mock warfare, the "firefly" planes served only as a pretty curtain-raiser to the real show. They were piloted by Capt. H. M. McLelland, Lieut. R. Birnn and Lieut. W. A. R. Robertson, from Bowling Field, Washington, and on their return flight to Burbank each plane dropped a flare over Griffith Park.

The four Keystone bombers, which were piloted by Capt. Frank D. Hackett, commander of the Second Bombardment Group of Langley Field, Va.; Lieut. James E. Adams, operations officer; Lieut. James M. Gillespie and Lieut. Edward A. Day, took off from United Airport at 8:50 p.m., several minutes before the "fireflies" returned.

FLARE EXPLODES

It had been planned to have five bombers in the attacking group but the plane which was to be piloted by Lieut. Leonard S. Harmon was forced to remain on the ground when one of its flares exploded prematurely, due, it is said, to the carelessness of a spectator. The momentary danger of the plane catching fire from the burning flare was averted when the ground crew dragged it away from the flare.

In addition to the chief pilot each plane carried a co-pilot and several newspaper men as observers. The observer in Capt. Hackett's plane was Will Rogers and the previously planned course of the flight was altered to carry the planes over the Rogers estate near Santa Monica. While Rogers was signing the release from liability which all civilians must sign before they are allowed to go aloft in an army plane, some onlooker remarked:

"You're signing your life away, Will."

"Oh, no," he responded, "this is just to help them find me to collect my taxes."

"BOMBS" RELEASED

When the squadron of bombers took off they climbed quickly to a height of 3000 feet and maintained about that altitude throughout their flight. After passing over Burbank and Glendale, they headed southeast and passed about two miles east of the City Hall. When they had reached the vicinity of Huntington Park, they turned and flew straight north until they reached the City Hall. Directly over this building three flares, to which parachutes were attached, were released. This was at 9:04.

Only two of the flares went off, but their dazzling white light presented a spectacle which amply repaid the thousands who had waited patiently for the appearance of the attackers. What happened to the third flare is not yet known and the army authorities asked that the possible finder be warned of the danger of handling it because of its inflammability.

From the City Hall, the squadron headed straight for Hollywood and

by Harry Carr

MR. PHIL TOWNSEND HANNA, the editor of Touring Topics, has been adopted by Nicolas, the mozo.

Nicolas says he thinks he (Nicolas) must be about 16 years old, or something like that. He hasn't any shoes, and his hair—under his huge sombrero—is like fur; but he has distinction. He signs his name with a flourish like a Spanish grandee, and his manners are regal.

ON THE JOB

Every morning Nicolas comes to Mr. Hanna's room and inquires in Spanish whether the object of his admiration slept well.

Then he beams: "It makes my heart happy to know that you have had the blessing of sleep," he says, and bows himself out.

Since Nicolas joined the party no one has ever been able to reach for anything. He knows when the camp cook needs butter, when I need another sheet for the typewriter, and when Mr. Hanna wishes to change rolls in the movie camera.

NIC'S SERAPE

Nicolas sleeps wherever he may be at the time. He curls up in his serape on the ground under the automobiles when we are in camp. In the hotels he appears in the morning from the general direction of the patios in the back of the house. He has decided that Mr. Hanna is the greatest man now inhabiting the earth, and has calmly annexed himself. He allows no one else to touch Phil's cameras, to find Phil's boots or to pass him the butter.

SHOULD HE HAVE ONE?

It is a matter of solemn council and perplexed debate whether or not Nicolas should have a bath and a pair of shoes—and mayhap a pant or two.

It is a cinch that he has enlisted in the Automobile Club for life; but it is a question as to whether it might not mar his perfection to add or detract a one touch. A Nicolas clean behind the ears is so pronounced a departure from anything now known that we are naturally nervous as to the effect of the change.

EL NORTENO

Nicolas says that his name is Nicolas Pinto; but he has a little vanity for being called Nicolas Pinto, El Norteno—the northerner—in that he comes from Durango.

On the whole Nicolas is the most aristocratic person I know. He has such a glow of inward distinction that he eagerly stretches out his hand for the most menial work and finds pride in doing it well. Nicolas can pull off somebody's boots with an air that is at least vice-regal. Nicolas has the truly aristocratic attitude—that nothing he does can be menial, because it thereby ceases to be menial.

Masonic Club Drive Planned

Final plans were completed last night for extending an invitation to more than 75,000 members of Masonic units living in Los Angeles and vicinity to become members of the Masonic Club with headquarters at 623 South Grand avenue.

Thirty majors will be in charge of groups during the campaign which begins May 5. Chiefs of the five major divisions under whom they will function are Justice Ira F. Thompson, Walter Berger, E. M. Smuckler, Harry G. Bobey and Frank L. Shaw. Lawrence C. Kelley will direct the activities of the units.

CITY CENSUS END SIGHTED

Count Expected to be Practically Complete by Tonight Except for Agricultural Areas

With but few exceptions the work of the census enumerators for the bulk of the Los Angeles city district is expected to be completed by tonight, it was announced at supervisors' headquarters yesterday.

Some of the census districts which take in portions of the city include also some agricultural areas, in which longer time is required and given in which to complete the work.

According to A. C. Munson, supervisor of the central census district, all but a few of his enumerators will have their books in the office tonight. Within about a week, it is expected, some fair idea of the population of Los Angeles should be available if the checking of the enumerators' work proceeds at the rate it is expected to. The checkers already have done considerable of their work.

Preliminary checking indicates that in the main Los Angeles district the actual count is apt to be less than the estimates. In some localities, particularly in the apartment-house districts, the census count appears to be as much as 15 per cent under the government estimate, which was based upon the polling lists. In other districts, however, the government count is nearly twice what the estimate was.

Munson reported that the work of his enumerators thus far is showing up to be very thorough. Out of districts numbering from 1500 to 2000 persons the enumerators are reporting only as few as from several to twelve or fifteen persons whose names they have but from whom they were unable to get the data required so that they can be enumerated.

The work of the mop-up squads of special enumerators continues. Blanks are still arriving at census headquarters to be checked over by the enumerators. All of the supervisors repeated their request that any person who has not yet been enumerated get in touch with his

OBSERVANCE OF SCHOOL WEEK ENDS

Crowded Houses Greet Speakers at Meetings as Annual Week Closes

Crowded houses greeted the speakers at all the thirty meetings that closed Public Schools Week last night. The eleventh annual celebration of an event that has been sponsored by civic, professional and educational groups throughout the city, has been the greatest in the history of Southern California, according to the officials in charge.

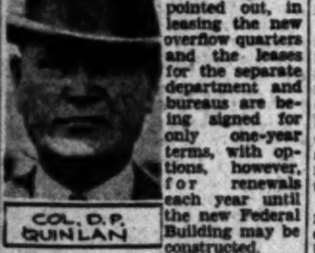
Frank A. Bouelle, Superintendent of Schools, addressed the meeting at Manual Arts High School. The program consisted of a band concert, musical selections, military drills and a one-act play.

Other programs, in school auditoriums and in Masonic temples, were participated in by the school students, and leaders in the civic life of the city delivered the addresses.

NEW BUILDING NEED SHOWN

Federal Office Shift to Figueroa Street Declared by Quinlan to Indicate Space Shortage

Moving of a number of Federal offices to the Brownstein-Louis Building at Eighth and Figueroa streets should not be regarded as a handicap to the movement to have a new Federal Building constructed in Los Angeles, it was said yesterday by Col. D. P. Quinlan, special assistant chief co-ordinator of the Executive Federal Real Estate Board. Col. Quinlan left last night after having spent several weeks here helping with details for the leasing of the new quarters in the Brownstein-Louis Building.



COL. D. P. QUINLAN

The possibility of a new Federal Building being erected here in the near future was kept in mind, Col. Quinlan pointed out, in leasing the new overflow quarters and the leases for the separate department and bureaus are being signed for only one-year terms, with options, however, for renewals each year until the new Federal Building may be constructed.

The necessity for a new building is indicated by the leasing of such extensive extra quarters as are provided at Eighth and Figueroa, Col. Quinlan added. While the decision as to constructing a new Federal Building here is not within his province, he added, it is his impression that official Washington will not approve any building which cannot house all the Federal offices and courts for at least fifteen years following its completion.

In the meantime, he said, the rapid growth of the city long ago made the present Federal Building inadequate and various bureau offices are scattered throughout the downtown section. Centralization in the Brownstein-Louis Building of all these offices will result, he said, in a saving to the government of $110,000 a year in rental and maintenance charges.

The various departments and bureaus which are moving to the new quarters all will sign separate leases he said, and he expects all will be signed in time for the entire building except the ground floor, to be occupied by the beginning of the next fiscal year, July 1. The ground floor may be occupied

OFFICIAL OF BOYS' WEEK TAKES OVER HEALTH JOB

Arnold Breitler

In preparation for boys' day in administration Tuesday Arnold Breitler, 17 years of age, of 212 West Forty-first street, who attends Metropolitan High School, went through his paces yesterday as city health officer and later presided at the session of the Health Commission, seated alongside Dr. W. C. Harvey, president.

Breitler, who is one of a large group who will fill executive chairs next week, was shown through the health building, including the laboratory, where he squinted through magnifying instruments at germs and cultures.

The seventh annual celebration of Boys' Week will be inaugurated by churches of all denominations tomorrow.

"Boys' day in the churches," for which arrangements have been made by a special committee consisting of A. L. Miller of the Los Angeles Church Federation, Rev. Thomas J. O'Dwyer of the Catholic churches and Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, will be recognized in a total of nearly 600 houses of worship.

Monday will be "boys' day in In-

RED RIOT HURTS STUDENTS

Five Militant Communists Jailed After Boys Suffer Blows for Foiling Speeches Near School

Two high-school student police were slightly injured and five asserted Communist leaders were in jail last night as the aftermath of a riot and melee yesterday afternoon near the Roosevelt High School.

The disturbance, described by police as an attempt on the part of Communist speakers to address the school students as they left the building, was of short duration and suddenly ceased when police reserves were rushed to the scene from the Boyle Heights station to assist the school student police in battling the militant Communists.

Dave Sinski, 19-year-old student, was struck on the jaw while the fists were flying, and a companion dropped from a like blow. The five arrested by Detective Lieutenant Hynes and his squad and charged with a suspicion of criminal syndicalism are: Yetta Stromberg of San Bernardino Communist activity fame; Martin Shapiro and his brother, Abraham, both of whom figured in recent Red demonstrations; Israel Shuman, described as a San Pedro follower of Red tendencies, who is known as a handbill distributor among the sailors, and Duffy Mollotte, who is asserted to be a member of the "defense squad" of the Communists. Mollotte is booked for interfering with officers.

Speakers, said to be members of the Young Communist League, were ready to make their addresses on the sidewalk near the Fourth and Pickett streets entrance to the school grounds, according to the police reports, when they were suddenly confronted by student police and ordered to disperse.

Some of the students were in their R.O.T.C. uniforms and they were set upon by approximately fifteen members of the recently organized "Communist defense squad." The battle waxed warm, but police reserves appeared, and the "defense squad" and most of the followers took to their heels.

The attempted demonstration before the school students, followed a like meeting earlier in the day at Twentieth and Central avenues where the Communists held a gathering near a large lumber company.

MAP SUBMITTED

City Engineer Jessup yesterday transmitted to the City Council for approval the assessment district map for the improvement of Bonvue avenue from Glendower avenue to a point near Catalina street. It was referred to the Public Works Committee.

Fleet Companion of Bremen of Atlantic Fame

Los Angeles Harbor yesterday had proof of Germany's efforts to regain commercial supremacy at sea in the arrival of the North German Lloyd's huge Columbus, the 32,000-ton giant being on the homeward swing of a 106-day cruise of the world with 322 travelers. The Columbus, largest merchantman ever to enter a Pacific port, was given a tremendous welcome by screaming steamer and factory whistles as she passed up the channel to dock at Terminal Island.

DOCKING MAMMOTH

The Columbus, 775 feet long, was piloted up channel by Capt. Charles Oilegreen and docked at the Dollar Line terminal under the direction of George A. Bankson. Her passengers this morning will make an automobile tour of Southland scenic points and the ship will sail at 11 a.m. today for New York, via the Canal and Havana, after loading 35,000 barrels of fuel oil.

Of her 322 passengers, 127 disembarked here and sailing today she will embark 159 more for Southampton and Bremen, the Columbus being scheduled to re-enter trans-Atlantic service with her fleet sisters, Bremen and Europa, immediately upon return to New York. F. J. Kovach, cruise director for Raymond & Whitcomb, announced last night that the 775-foot speedster has been booked by his company for a 1931 world cruise and will call at this port on April 24, 1931. She is in command of Capt. A. Ahrens and during her eastward swing around the world will have visited forty-five ports.

KIRKWOODS SOON TO GO INTO COURT

Lila Lee and Husband Scheduled to Air Their Domestic Difficulties

Domestic difficulties involving Lila Lee and James Kirkwood, film players, are soon to be aired in the local Superior Court, it was learned yesterday. Negotiations have been underway between their respective attorneys but nothing definite has been decided.

The attorneys said yesterday a divorce action probably will be filed in the near future but it is not known which will appear as plaintiff. Richard Cantillon represents Miss Lee, while Patrick J. Cooney is Kirkwood's attorney.

Reports that the divorce action had been filed were denied yesterday by the lawyers. They admitted negotiations have been underway but that is all. Miss Lee said the matter is in the hands of her attorney and that is all she knows. The custody of a 6-year-old son and community property are said to be involved in the negotiations.

Following persistent denials, Miss Lee and Kirkwood finally admitted the latter part of 1928 they had come to a definite parting of the ways, following a separation which followed a trip by Kirkwood to New York to appear on the stage.

CONTRACTS AWARDED ON STREET LIGHTING

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded the contract for the lighting of Echo Park avenue from Sunset Boulevard to Temple street for $4360, and for the lighting of Fairfax avenue from Beverly Boulevard to Wilshire Boulevard for $22,584. The contracts were awarded for approximately 12 per cent below the engineer's estimate.

During the week the board opened bids for the Sycamore Trail and Grand View improvement district and for the Valley View Trail and Cahuenga Trail improvement district, and for the Oakden Drive and Jewett Drive improvement district.

Miss Mayer's sister, Edith Annette, recently married William Goetz, another film production manager.

CHAIRMAN OF SANTA FE GROUP QUITS

Hooper C. Dunbar Named to Succeed MacMillian on Oil Field Committee

Members of the general California State-wide curtailment committee and fact-finding committee were informed by letter yesterday by P. N. Boggs, general chairman, of the resignation of Herbert R. MacMillan as chairman of the Santa Fe Springs field committee, and the appointment of Hooper C. Dunbar of the Bell View Oil Company as his successor.

In his letter Mr. Boggs pointed out that Mr. MacMillan had requested the acceptance of his resignation to permit him greater freedom in carrying out the duties of his office as president of the California Oil and Gas Association.

Mr. Boggs's letter to the general committee follows:

"Mr. Herbert R. MacMillan, who has faithfully served us as chairman of the Santa Fe Springs field committee, as well as in every capacity called upon in his office as president of the California Oil and Gas Association, requests that we accept his resignation as chairman of the Santa Fe Springs field committee in order that he may function with greater freedom through his office as president of the association. While we are extremely reluctant to accept his resignation from the Santa Fe Springs field committee, we cannot but concur in his judgment, believing, as he does, that he can be of greater value to the industry if freed from direct responsibility to any one field. Mr. MacMillan recommends Hooper C. Dunbar of the Bell View Oil Company as his successor.

"Mr. Dunbar is known to all of us as being one of our most sincere workers in the cause for which we are all striving. He, therefore, will function hereafter as chairman of the Santa Fe Springs field committee, and certainly we will all enjoy the privilege of our association with him and his clean-cut, direct methods."

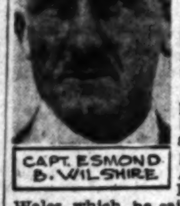
CAR SALESMAN LOSES HABEAS CORPUS PLEA

A writ of habeas corpus was denied Rocco Garramone, Santa Monica automobile salesman, by Superior Judge Bishop yesterday following a short hearing. Garramone was sentenced to sixty days in jail by Police Judge Spencer of Santa Monica on a charge of disturbing the peace. He sought his release on the grounds he had not been given an opportunity to enter a plea or waive a jury trial. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Becker represented Judge Spencer.

AUSTRALIAN FLYER HERE FOR SURVEY

Capt. Esmond B. Wilshire, Guest at Biltmore, Tells Progress in Home Land

On a world study of aviation, Capt. Esmond B. Wilshire arrived from Australia via Hawaii on the Lassco flagship City of Los Angeles yesterday for a two-month inspection of flying facilities here.



CAPT. ESMOND B. WILSHIRE

Capt. Wilshire, while in the Australian artillery during the war, is an architect by profession, flyer by avocation, and is vice-president of the Aero Club of New South Wales, which, he said, is the biggest private training organization for aviation in the world.

"It is a sort of flying country club, with its social side as well," he explained. "We have 900 men and forty machines, and are soon to spend $275,000 on a new field at Warwick Farm near Sydney."

Los Angeles' prominence in aviation activities is well known in Australia, he said, and he looks to facilities here for much new information.

Capt. Wilshire will make headquarters at the Biltmore.

Jailed Youth's Escape Dream Materializes

Jimmy Johnson, 18-year-old burglar suspect held at the Venice police station yesterday, had a great idea—an idea that persisted until he made it come true. He wanted to escape.

Desk Sergeant Brown, glancing in the cell where Jimmy was spending the afternoon, saw the youth working quite industriously sawing through the cell bars with a hack saw. It was found that he had concealed three blades in his hat.

Last night he was taken to Palms by a policeman for identification by a householder. Jimmy twisted loose from the policeman as he stepped from the automobile and made his escape—this time without the aid of hack saws. Early today he was still at liberty.

Auto Death Suit Trial Started

A suit to recover $10,801 damages for the death of Kendall Androus, 16 years of age, killed in August, 1929, in an automobile collision, went to trial yesterday before Superior Judge Price. The suit was brought by the dead boy's mother, Mrs. Marguerite L. Pettenger, against Clyde Caron, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Caron, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Knight.

Young Androus, according to the complaint, was riding with Clyde Caron in the Carons' car on the night of August 12, 1929, when the car collided with one driven by Knight. His mother accuses the defendants of negligence.

RETAIL CREDIT MEN CONVENE

Opening Session Attended by 300 Delegates

Welcome Address Made by Bullock's President

Collection Methods Subject of General Discussion

Methods of coaxing the bashful and reluctant dollar into the till from the pockets of creditors were discussed from every conceivable angle yesterday in the first day's session of the California conference of retail credit men and bureau managers at the Biltmore. Three hundred and twenty-five are in attendance from all over the State. The conference closes this afternoon with the election of officers and selection of the next convention city. Sacramento is making a strong bid for the 1931 conference.

A debate on the question of charging interest on past due accounts was one of the afternoon features. It was decided in the affirmative by unanimous vote of the judges. H. Price Webb of San Jose, and Frank D. Francis, of San Francisco were the victors, winning over R. L. Coombs of the Broadway Department Store and J. E. Oneal, of Barker Brothers, Los Angeles.

COLLECTION METHODS

That the old "strong-arm" method of collection is passe was the statement of G. W. MacKenzie, manager of the Merchants' Credit Association of Petaluma, in a paper on "How's Collections." He said the modern method is to try and get the money and keep the customer and get a part of his cash purchases.

T. C. Palmer, vice-president and secretary of Walker's, Inc., and president of the Retail Dry Goods Association of Los Angeles, spoke on "Is Credit a Force or a Gesture?" which created considerable comment and discussion. He declared that unless credit is handled in a sound manner and economically, it is a farce and that this is one feature of business where many times endless confusion prevails.

WELCOME BY BULLOCK

The meeting was called to order yesterday by President Frank Batty of San Francisco. John G. Bullock, president of Bullock's and head of the Retail Merchants' Credit Association of Los Angeles, delivered the address of welcome.

At the banquet in the ball room at the Biltmore, reservations were made for more than 300. Guy H. Hulse of St. Louis, former national secretary of the credit men, spoke on "Along the Highways of Business." He gave briefly the trends of modern business in the line of credit extensions and spoke of the necessity of organizations. The Hamilton "Kiddie Revue" and the Geiger Quartet furnished entertainment.

"Hidden Losses," by Victor H. Wright of Los Angeles, former national president of the credit men's association, and "Keeping in Step," by Frank Hulse, will be the main address of the session this morning.

The open forum to be conducted in the afternoon promises to be one of the big events of the last session of the conference, according to members. L. M. Crosthwaite, Barker Brothers, Los Angeles; L. C. Allen of Fresno, and S. L. Klarnet of Oakland will be discussion leaders.

by a branch postoffice but no definite decision has been reached on that matter as yet.

More space for the activities connected with the administration of justice will be provided in the present Federal Building by the acquisition of the new overflow quarters. Not only will bureaus and departments now renting outside offices move to the new address, but some now in the Federal Building will also be moved. Among these is the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

The Veterans' Bureau was the first to sign a lease for office space in the Brownstein-Louis Building. Among others which are expected to be housed there is the Prohibition Bureau. Definite decision as to which additional bureaus and departments will go there cannot be made until adujustments of floor space are made in the Federal Building, with the courts, the United States Attorney's offices, the postal and customs services having priority in remaining there.

Other days of the week are designated as "boys' day in citizenship," Tuesday; "boys' day in the libraries," Wednesday; "boys' day in loyalty," Thursday; "boys' day in schools," Friday, and "boys' day in recreation," Saturday.

The outstanding feature will be a fathers-and-sons mass meeting at Shrine Auditorium Thursday evening. The list of entertainers includes Fred Niblo, Eddie Cantor, Abe Lyman and his band, Fanchon and Marco Revue, the Meglin Kiddie Revue, and seven features provided by Harold B. Franklin, president of Fox West Coast Theaters. Mayor Porter and Joseph Scott, general chairman of the Boys' Week committee, will be the speakers.

Mayor Porter in a proclamation yesterday set aside as "Boys' Week" the week beginning next Monday. The Mayor commends Boys' Week "as a most important annual event," and urges all men to find some way to participate.

NEW CLASSES FORMING

Advertising and salesmanship classes are being organized by the extension division of the University of California, according to announcement by Director L. J. Richardson. Two classes in salesmanship are being formed, one under the direction of Prof. Ralph M. Rutledge of the University of California at Los Angeles, and the other under the direction of Dean Thomas G. Burt of Occidental College. A third class is on the theory of advertising, under the direction of J. Anson Ford. Another takes up direct mail advertising, with Guy T. Burroughs as the instructor.

STORK EXPECTED AT ACTOR'S HOME

Mrs. Richard Gallagher

The stork is expected soon to pay another visit to filmland, it was learned yesterday, at the home of Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, motion-picture actor and former New York stage comedian. Mrs. Gallagher formerly was Miss Pauline Mason, also an eastern stage actress.

"We expect the happy event soon," Gallagher said yesterday, "and we're both mighty happy about it."

Gallagher is with Paramount pictures while his wife has temporarily given up her professional career. They were married several years ago at Agua Caliente.

BAR AMENDS BY-LAWS ON CANDIDATES

Rules Regarding Choice of Nominees for Judicial Bench Liberalized

Liberalization of the Los Angeles Bar Association's procedure of signifying choices for judicial nominations was announced yesterday by Norman A. Bailie, president. The innovations are set forth in amendments to the association's by-laws governing the course of its judiciary committee. Amendments were adopted at a meeting Thursday in the Alexandria.

One amendment provides that where there is more than one candidate for the same office the judiciary committee shall distribute to its members compact information about each candidate. This information is to guide members in the association's plebiscite in indorsing candidates for the bench.

Another amendment is that this information is to be furnished to members of each bar association in Los Angeles county in addition to the Los Angeles Bar Association members. Such members of other bar associations also will be permitted to vote for choices for the judiciary indorsements, and their ballots will be tabulated with those of the Los Angeles Bar Association members. It is stipulated, however, that such provisions do not apply in connection with any plebiscite for Municipal Court judges. The association defeated a proposed amendment permitting a candidate to campaign for himself or to permit a group of members to campaign for a candidate.

UTAH SHERIFF ENDS INVESTIGATION HERE

Completion of his investigation here in connection with the slaying in Salt Lake City of Mrs. Dorothy Moormeister was announced yesterday by Sheriff Patten of the Utah city. The murder of Mrs. Moormeister, whose mutilated body was found on a lonely road on the outskirts of Salt Lake City early on the morning of February 22, last, has reached the state of investigation where one or two persons are suspected, Patten said. On conclusion of another minor inquiry here, the Sheriff said he will leave for San Francisco by airplane, continuing from there to Utah after a short stopover. While here Patten was assisted by Deputy Sheriff Kelley of the local Sheriff's office.

DANCE HALLS FOUND NOT TO BE NUISANCE

The Board of Police Commissioners yesterday notified the City Council that after an investigation it finds no cause of complaint concerning dance halls in the vicinity of the Angelus Hotel. The guests of the hotel protested about the noise and nuisance occasioned by the near-by dance emporium. The Council referred the findings of the commission's investigation to the Police and Fire Committee.

TRUCK DEALER FACES CHARGES

Indictment of W. W. Ross to be Sought Tuesday

Financial Concerns Charge $306,000 Fraud Deals

Suspect Said by Official to be Fugitive Now

A grand-jury indictment against William W. Ross, automobile truck dealer, will be asked Tuesday by the District Attorney's office, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Brayton announced yesterday, following a Long Beach conference at which banks and finance companies tabulated losses totaling $306,000 which they charged to asserted operations by Ross.

Ross, according to Brayton, is a fugitive, his abandoned automobile having been found in a Hollywood lot several days ago, and is being sought on a complaint issued in Orange county last Saturday and involving an $8000 check.

The Federal Finance Company of Orange county asserts it has lost $125,000 through fraudulent conditional-sale contracts, the Bank of Italy (American avenue, Long Beach, branch) $34,000 through manipulation of checks; the Citizens' State Bank of Long Beach, $10,000 through inflated valuation of pink slips placed as security, and the First National Bank of Tustin (Orange county,) $12,000 through manipulation of checks, Brayton stated.

PIONEER OF DAYS OF GOLD TRAVELS LAST LONG TRAIL

One of the last figures of the California gold rush days, Henry A. "Hank" Knight, sixty years ago a stage driver for the Wells-Fargo Express Company, was buried yesterday. He was 82 years of age. Knight came to California as a young man in his twenties and went to work as a driver for the express company, handling the reins of one of the stages running between Virginia City, Nev., and Placerville.

Although Knight was known to have experienced several encounters with highwaymen during his stage driving days one of his proudest boasts was that he never lost a cent of the thousands of dollars in gold intrusted to him for transportation to any highwaymen. Knight and his messenger, Eugene Blair, were held up on one occasion by a masked bandit near the mining town of Eureka. Without warning the bandit fired both barrels of a shotgun at the stage but missed. An instant later he fell to a pistol bullet fired by Blair.

During later years Knight had been employed as a character motion-picture actor, living over again the stirring days of his youth.

The funeral services were conducted from the Ruppe mortuary, followed by burial at Forest Lawn Memorial Park. He leaves a sister, Mrs. Ada Campbell of Mitchell, Ont., and a sister-in-law, Miss Alma Manheim, with whom he resided at 1502 Magnolia avenue at the time of his death.

Another indictment charged John A. Mize with sending obscene matter through the mails.

MURALS OF MISSIONS PRESENTED

May Company Gives Paintings by Antonio Jane to Restoration Society

Eleven mural paintings by Antonio Jane, showing as many old missions in Southern California, were presented yesterday to the California Restoration Society by the May Company at a meeting held in the May Company auditorium. The meeting, presided over by Gerry Fitzgerald, was the first of several to be held here in an effort to arouse public interest in the restoration of the mission buildings.

Other meetings will be held throughout the State at which time the paintings will be shown. Former State Senator R. F. Del Valle, one of the speakers on the program at yesterday's meeting, said the restoration and maintenance of the mission buildings would provide a lasting asset to the State of whose history they are a part.

Mildred Costello and Laura Puente, Spanish dancers, were features of the entertainment program, which included also Constance Balfour and Marybell Chapman.

Joseph Scott and Rev. Augustine, F.P.M., were additional speakers.

Stage Career Believed Aim of Missing Girl

Aspirations to become a stage dancer yesterday were believed responsible for the disappearance last Saturday night of Evelyn Mugford Binns, 15 years of age, Beverly Hills High School pupil, from her home at 450 South Wetherly Drive, Beverly Hills. Her absence was reported to the Sheriff's office by her stepfather, W. P. Binns.

EVELYN BINNS

An appeal for her daughter to return was made yesterday by Mrs. Binns, who stated that the girl may be seeking her father, Walter Mugford, last heard of in Boston ten years ago.

With $15 and all of her clothes, the girl left the house during a short absence of her parents, and while her half-brother, Richard, 10, and grandmother, Mrs. Henry Pascal, were sleeping.

She is described as pretty, 5ft. 3in. in height, weighing 112 pounds and having dark-brown wavy hair, bobbed.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

The City Council yesterday confirmed the assessments for the improvement of Kittridge street from Tujunga avenue to Lankershim Boulevard and for the improvement of Fair avenue from Hatteras street to Burbank Boulevard. The hearing of protests against the improvement of the Cove avenue and Cove Way district was continued until May 23. The Public Works Committee will conduct a hearing May 20.

PRE-VIEW'S APPEAL GROWS

Copies Going All Over United States

Demand Evident at Studios

The most popular pastime on any motion-picture set today is reading The Times Annual Pre-View. Out at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios Robert Montgomery, screen leading man, had to share his Pre-View with Mary Doran, Walda Mansfield, Katherine Moylan and Gwen Lee, between scenes of "Our Blushing Brides."

BETTER than 100 letters about the new Hollywood written to friends back East constitutes the consensus of opinion of the thousands who mailed copies of the fourth annual Motion Picture Preview to almost every section in the United States.

For the first time, readers discovered, there is available an intimate and graphically illustrated story of the new Hollywood, the city that has arisen since sound pictures came into being and brought practically every dramatic celebrity in the world to Southern California.

The Pre-View tells the tale of how Hollywood attained its present cosmopolitan status, how the glamorous stars of the pictures live and work under the strenuous new conditions imposed by the talking films.

One of the features of its extraordinary interest is the list of well-known contributing writers. No other publication dealing with filmland ever published so many important film names; no one magazine ever was able to gather together a group of writers so thoroughly and expertly versed in the behind-the-scenes life of the film capital.

For the convenience of those who have been yet unable to obtain Pre-Views, The Times has arranged to keep newsstands in downtown Los Angeles and on the streets of Hollywood for one more day.

Oil Operators Seek Injunction in High Court

Hearing on a petition filed by three Santa Fe Springs oil companies to restrain Superior Judge Hazlett from enforcing oil conservation orders will be held by the State Supreme Court at Sacramento May 6, next, at 10 a.m., it was learned yesterday from a copy of the minutes received by the court clerk here.

The petitioners are the Twin Bell Oil Syndicate, the Second Twin Bell Oil Syndicate and the Star Petroleum Company. They contend that any reduction of the natural flow of gas would compel them completely to cease operations.

Five other oil companies are joint petitioners in another action pending before the District Court of Appeals here, in which they also seek a writ of prohibition against Judge Hazlett.

Conference on Inspecting of Milk Ordered

In compliance with the City Council's request for information on the number of inspectors and laboratory technicians required to inspect the 394,200,000 quarts of milk brought into Los Angeles annually, City Health Officer Parrish was requested yesterday by the Health Commission to confer Monday with representatives of all milk concerns.

The Health and Sanitation Committee of the Council seeks information on the cost of employing the necessary experts for milk inspection, as an alternative to the health department's plan to collect eight-tenths of a cent on each 100 pounds of milk.

Amend Hearing Set for May 5

Harry Amend, Inglewood constable, was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday on a charge of allowing a prisoner to escape. The court released him without bail pending preliminary hearing on May 5, next. Amend was recently acquitted in Superior Court on a charge of converting bail money to his own use.

According to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Moses, Amend allowed Clyde Johnson of 311 West Second street, Downey, to escape after he had been arrested on a traffic charge on December 29, 1929.

WILD PARTIES BRING ARRESTS

Youth Acquitted on Charges of Girl Detained

Court Orders Three Held and Others Queried

Tales of Minors' Drinking Stir Judge Fricke

Two youths were held in the County Jail last night charged with suspicion of contributing to the delinquency of minor girls, and fifteen other persons, by order of Superior Judge Fricke, are being sought for questioning concerning week-end parties in the Malibu Lake district.

Judge Fricke issued the order after Charles E. Willcox, 21 years of age, of 767 Elizabeth street, Pasadena, had been acquitted by a jury of a charge of attempted assault upon Miss Emily Richter, 18, of 190 South Hudson street, Pasadena.

Judge Fricke ordered Willcox, Neil Curtiss, 22, of 46 Marion street, Pasadena, and Paul Williams, 21, locked up and requested Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ferguson to file charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors against them. Williams was still at liberty last night.

The court also ordered fourteen other persons asserted to have attended a party in a mountain cabin near Malibu Lake on the night of February 15, last, questioned by officers to confirm testimony that liquor was served to numerous minor girls during the party.

In ordering the inquiry, Judge Fricke denounced the practice of mature persons providing liquor for minors at parties and demanded a complete investigation of the affair.

FINAL POWER ACTION NEARS

and .50 of a mill for secondary power a kilowatt hour.

The lessees in turn will be permitted to charge those allotted power, such as the district and other municipalities, for the operating or generating cost of the power they take. That means that the district and the other municipalities will have to pay about 2 mills a kilowatt hour at the switchboard in the power plant for primary power, and about .90 of a mill a kilowatt hour for secondary power.

The rates are subject to revision at the end of the first fifteen years and every ten years thereafter.

The operation of the power plant as a whole will be conducted under the direction of a director who will be appointed by the Secretary of the Interior. Each lessee runs his own units, subject to the approval of this director. The original idea of a board of control to operate the plant was abandoned.

The two major power leases, the one with the city and the other with the company, become effective at different times. The city's goes into effect as soon as there are 1,250,000,000 kilowatt hours of energy available, and runs for fifty years. The company's lease begins three years later and runs for forty-seven years. This is to enable the city to absorb economically the power that the city was turn back to the company when the city begins to take Boulder Dam power, and which the city is now buying from the company. However, if the company absorbs this power turned back by the city before the three-year period expires the government can require it to begin to take Builder Dam power at that time.

ABSORPTION PERIOD

The metropolitan district is expected to begin taking its power one year after the city begins to take power. However, each unit that contracts to take power is given what is known as an absorption period in which to take the power. Thus a unit takes the power in increasing amounts as time passes until it is taking all of the power contracted for.

In addition to the power feature of its contract with the government, the metropolitan district has signed a contract under which it will pay the government 25 cents an acre foot a year as a water-storage charge.

In the preparation of the power contracts, Mr. Ely was assisted by L. N. McClellan, chief electrical engineer for the Bureau of Reclamation, and R. J. Coffey, counsel for the bureau, both of whom are here from their headquarters in Denver.

Dentist Beats Damage Action

A jury yesterday gave judgment for Dr. David Saylin, Venice dentist, in the $62,000 damage suit brought against him by Mr. and Mrs. Elias H. Rothman and Mrs. L. M. Siegelstein for injuries asserted to have been suffered in an automobile accident. The case was tried before Superior Judge Archbald.

The accident, according to the complaint, occurred on July 13, 1929, at the intersection of Sixth street and Arden Boulevard. Rothman is a retired business man of Detroit, and Mrs. Siegelstein, a sister of Mrs. Rothman, is a resident of Cleveland.

May we not in all sincerity say "Spring is here"—and that fact being accepted, should we not prepare viands which are in keeping with this season?

With that thought in mind I am giving my readers today a splendid recipe which of course calls for Guasti Cooking Sherry . . . that wonderfully delectable product of the Italian Vineyard Company which makes all the food prepared with its addition nothing short of "superpalatable."

Be sure then to copy right away this recipe for Guasti Ice Box cake and use it for tomorrow's desert!

GUASTI ICE BOX CAKE

One quarter pound of butter, one-half cupful Gasti Cooking Sherry, six eggs, eighteen lady-fingers (day old,) one cupful powdered sugar, one-half pound almonds (chopped,) two dozen stale macaroons.

Cream butter and sugar. Add one whole egg and beat very well, add two more whole eggs, beating each one well before adding the next. Add the well-beaten remaining egg yolks, almonds and sherry. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites.

Line a bowl with wax paper. Split the lady-fingers and line bottom and sides of bowl. Put in a layer of the mixture, then a layer of the crushed macaroons, another layer of the mixture and so on until the bowl is filled. Have the last layer mixture. Cover top with lady-fingers and set in the ice box for about twenty-four hours. Serve with whipped cream. (Serves fourteen.)

What have you done about the pictures and photographs you have to be framed? It is a shame to let them become marred when at very little expense you can save them for years and years by having them framed beautifully at Mathews Paint Company. Not only as I said do you add to the life of your portraits but you enhance their value and charm by a fitting frame as a background.

Now, nowhere have I seen lovelier frames nor smarter moldings than Mathews carry in their framing departments. And they do such artistic work, too—really exceptionally ultra ideas you may have carried out by them.

Won't you jot down these three addresses and seek the one nearest you at the first available moment?

1245 S. Hill; 1559 N. Vine, Hollywood, and 740 E. Green, Pasadena.

Best way to singe fowl—Pour a little alcohol or wood alcohol in a saucer and light it; this method will not leave soot in the flesh.

To open hard-shell clams easily, pour boiling water over them and let them stand for two or three minutes.

If there ever was a time when the theory of the survival of the fittest applied, it is the present.

In commercial circles, manufacturers are vying with each other in producing products of superior merit. High-pressure advertisements featuring claims of distinctive merit of this and the other product, are so prevalent that the average reader's mind has become impervious and skeptical in its reaction.

On this account the manufacturers of the product with which I am trying to get my readers acquainted, are using statements from users of this product in their effort to convince the public of its merit. A thousand individuals setting forth the same experience cannot all be wrong. Read this interesting letter:

Joannes Corporation.

Perhaps no one article in food or drink means more to the average person than coffee. I know that is the case in my family. We could not start a day right, or feel at our best, without that invigorating beverage. But there came a time when our doctor strictly forbade our using coffee at all. My husband had a light stroke, and I was very ill from high blood pressure. So, of course, we obeyed the doctor's orders and stopped coffee drinking entirely.

When we heard of the new method of making coffee by filtration, we immediately procured the outfit. That was many months ago. We have used the Ben-Hur Drip Coffee constantly, since that time, and have not suffered the slightest ill effect in any way or form.

We drink two cupfuls at a meal, frequently, and have had no return of our old difficulties.

We consider it a marvelous discovery, as the coffee goes much farther in the making, is so clear of all sediment, and is of such delicate flavor, as to be classed truly delicious. The Ben-Hur Drip Coffee manufacturers will always have our undying gratitude.

Sewing days are upon us once more, so if you are in need of scissors you will have a wonderful opportunity this week to get them at a bargain price for the Otto Steinen Co., are selling steel 7½-inch and 8½-inch scissors regularly priced at $1.85 and $1.75 for $1 a pair! Don't miss this sale, will you?

Adding a piece of onion when stewing chicken greatly improves the flavor without the onion taste being noticeable.

When milk is slightly scorched the burn taste can be removed by putting the pan into cold water and adding a pinch of salt to the milk. First rinse in cold water the dish or pan in which the milk is to be heated and it will not scorch.

Inexpensive summer drink—Squeeze the juice of two lemons and one orange, strain and add one cupful of sugar, also enough ice water to make three pints. When ready to serve, stir in one pint bottle of ginger ale. This makes a delicious drink.

When extra dressing is to be baked, get a dry loaf of bread, cut off one thick slice and scoop out the inside, leaving only a thick crust; then fill it with the dressing, pin on the end slice and bake. It will be as delicious as if baked in the fowl. Stale bread is best for this or for filling a fowl.

Your family washing need not be a problem to you—not with the Crown Laundry and Cleaning Co. at your disposal. You see they do such fine work; taking extraordinary care of your clothes, too. Remember their dry cleaning department is the very best available and such a convenience. 1026 Paloma is the address; WEstmore 6351, the phone number.

Do not try to repair your husband's worn shirts yourself, but take them to Arthur M. Werner, the Custom Shirt Maker of 111 S. Spring St. (MUtual 1589,) who turns cuffs and collars, puts on neckbands which fit and does all kinds of altering of shirts as well as making new ones to individual measurements.

To prevent fish sticking to the pan, when being fried, first put a teaspoonful of dry salt in the pan and rub it well all over with grease-proof paper. Or, try just sprinkling a little salt in the bottom of the pan before frying.

To scale fish easily—Lay fish down flat in a large dish or pan and pour boiling water over it; then quickly take it out and plunge it into cold water. The scales will come off easily with little rubbing. A curry-comb, or coarse grater, is better than a knife for scaling fish, as it protects the hands.

Always remember, won't you, when getting a bundle ready for the Children's Hospital Salvage Department, that "nothing is too large or too small, too old or too new" to send them. Their address, I might add, is 712 Maple avenue, while the phone number is TUcker 1303.

Always boil cauliflower with the head down so that scum will not settle on the white parts. Boil cauliflower in a cloth and it can be lifted out and served whole and unbroken.

Grape-juice nectar — Take one pint of pure grape juice, one-half cupful of sugar, add the juice of two lemons and one pint of water. Mix well, garnish each glass with thin slices of lemon or orange, or both, and serve ice cold.

Why not make use of your old carpets . . . have attractive fluff rugs made out of them by the Hoffman Rug Works of 2914 W. Jefferson St. (EMpire 2048.) They do splendid work at most reasonable prices and, by the way, they make Colonial rugs from rags.

To sharpen the food chopper when the knives become black and dull, run a piece of sand soap or scouring brick through the chopper as you would a potato. It brightens and sharpens the knives so they cut like new. Use pulverized sand soap or scouring brick, or small ends left from the cake of scouring soap. Wash well in boiling water afterward to remove all grit. Oil the chopper or eggbeater with a little glycerine; this is a lubricant which does not taste in food.

Don't allow your worn, tarnished silver to spoil the appearance of your table for it can very easily, instead, gather up all such pieces and take them up to the Peerless Platers, 239½ S. Spring street, to be replated and repaired. Why, they only charge $3.50 a dozen for knives, forks and tablespoons, $2.50 a dozen for teaspoons.

Beauty Parlor Owner Fails to Oust Deputies

Deputy sheriffs, with holstered revolvers swinging from their hips, have no place in a beauty parlor, according to the plea of Irene Hobson, against whom a $7500 judgment for injuring a woman in a face-lifting operation is outstanding in Superior Court.

Miss Hobson, through her attorneys, appeared in Superior Judge Gates's court yesterday, to ask that the deputies on duty to guard attached furniture at her beauty institute, 3677 Wilshire Boulevard, be removed. Attorney A. Brigham Rose, for the plaintiff, Mrs. Charlotte Lizette Pferdner, argued that it is necessary for the deputies to be on the premises for the protection of his client's rights.

Judge Gates ordered that the deputy sheriffs remain at the beauty parlor until May 5, next, by which time, it was stated, a motion for a new trial will be argued before Superior Judge Edmonds, who heard the case.

Gas Pipeline Petition Filed

An application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to exercise certain franchise rights in the cities of Lancaster and Palmdale and adjacent territory in the northern portion of Los Angeles county, was filed yesterday with the State Railroad Commission by the Southern California Gas Company.

A franchise to lay and operate pipe lines in the territory is about to be acquired, the company declares in its application. Hearing on the matter was set for May 13 before Commissioner Leutitt.

'Delayed Burial' Will Probated

The will of Dr. L. H. Hillmeyer, which requested that his body be kept at the undertaker's for ten days before burial, "so all the cells of the body would be dead," was admitted to probate by Superior Judge Crail yesterday.

Bond for the executor was fixed at $15,000. The physician died March 18, last, at 73 years of age. His property was left to three daughters.

Alimony Sum Set for Banker

George Chiarodit, 69-year-old North Hollywood banker, yesterday was ordered to pay his wife, Mrs. Susie Chiarodit, $135 a month when the couple appeared in Superior Judge Guerin's court for alimony proceedings.

Mrs. Chiarodit, twenty years younger than her husband, is suing for divorce on grounds of cruelty. She has asked the court for a settlement of $40,000 cash in lieu of alimony.

BUILDING CONTRACTOR WINS DIVORCE DECREE

John George Scroggie, building contractor, was given a divorce yesterday on a cross-complaint in the divorce action brought by his wife, Mrs. Pearl Scroggie, after he testified that she cursed and threatened him until he was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. The decree was signed by Superior Judge Dehy, who also approved a property settlement. They lived together for eighteen years. The wife accused Scroggie of cruelty.

Alienation Case Followed by Suit Against Husband

Mrs. Grace R. Davidson, who recently sued her husband's secretary, De Vere Ethyl Kuns, for $150,000 for alienation of affections, yesterday filed suit for separate maintenance against her husband, Paul B. Davidson. Miss Kuns is named as co-defendant.

In the latest complaint is included a plea for an injunction to prevent Davidson and Miss Kuns from transferring $62,000 worth of property from a community status.

The plaintiff asks $350 a month for the support of her two children, 16 and 14 years of age, and a division of community property.

Ross M. Boggs, prominent local hotel man, who died from overexertion on a hiking trip in Yosemite National Park, left a $500,000 estate, according to his will, filed for probate yesterday.

Mrs. Anne Boggs, the widow, and a daughter Helen are heirs. Attorney Earl S. Patterson represents the estate.

CHAIS CHASED HER AWAY, WIFE ASSERTS

George Chais threw some money at his wife Jean and then gave her ten minutes to get out of the house, Mrs. Chais testified yesterday when asking Superior Judge Hahn to grant her a divorce. Mrs. Chais is a university student. The wife also asserted that her husband told friends that he was roped into marrying her. A decree was granted.

Today's Bible Text

I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.—Romans xii, 1.

AN OLD STORY

Hunting big game won't be anything new to Jack Dempsey. Here's betting that he pulls down a big one before he goes to Africa.

CAN'T DOWN DOBBIN

New York policeman has pulled a new one by nabbing a horseback rider for speeding. The judge made it stick with a $10 fine. That is news in these days.

CIVIC PRIDE

Many a fellow is sticking out his chest now when he reads the census figures from the old home town showing that the population is what the Chamber of Commerce claimed it was ten years ago.

THEY ARE THAT WAY

Diplomacy is a tough game. After facing the best minds of Europe for several months, Secretary Stimson and his fellow-delegates must return to hear a lot of razzing from men whose best claim to office is a big bank roll or political prestige seeking.

WAIT FOR RETURN

Lindy and his wife have a right to feel a little elevated after their trip from Los Angeles to New York at an average height of three miles. But when they start back from New York to Los Angeles you can bet your old hat that they will do it in shorter time still.

LOGIC?

District of Columbia school head won't let his pupils compete for the Edison prize, because "the chances of winning are remote." Evidently thinks the children of diplomats, legislators, judges and Cabinet officials are of a low order of intelligence. Or, that they expect to get by in the world without working.

LEARNING TO SAVE

Six-year-old Redding boy, lost on a mountain three days, kept himself going by eating snow. He showed more intelligence than the average grown-up would have under the circumstances. The spirit of self-preservation he manifested by stuffing his pockets with snowballs to guard against a drought. That lad probably will have a big bank account some day.

HOMICIDE FOR PROFIT

For the last two years the Texas Bankers' Association has kept posted a reward of $5000 each for dead bank bandits, with the additional notice that "not a cent will be paid for live ones." When this offer was first made it was applauded by bankers and others in various parts of the country, as it was thought that the plan would greatly discourage bank banditry, which it seemed to do for a time.

But, no sooner was the reward announced, than a leading officer of the Texas Rangers inveighed against it and said it would encourage frame-ups. This seems to be just what it has done, judging by an article in the New York Times, which lists seven men, some of them simply lured to the neighborhood of a bank to be murdered, as dead in Texas as a result of the bankers' rather desperate plan to eliminate the too-numerous purloiners of their cash.

Last Tuesday indictments charging murder were returned by a grand jury in Fort Worth against two white men for the slaying of two Negroes during the hold-up of a bank near that city. The State charged that the accused white men planned the robbery in order to kill the Negroes and collect the rewards. The indictment followed the refusal of the Bankers' Association to pay the $10,000 called for on the plea that the bank in question had not paid its dues to the organization. One of the conspirators evidently was disappointed and so turned State's evidence.

The Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association has before it a proposal, made by one of its leading members, that $10,000 be paid for the body of every bank bandit killed in this city. If this plan is adopted it may have a deterring effect upon the bank-robbing industry, but if it works out as it has done in Texas it will have plenty of critics.

THE HARRIS BILL

The vote of the Senate Friday to recommit the Harris bill restricting Mexican immigration, may have been taken merely because Senators were chagrined at the absurd state into which the measure got on Thursday, or it may have represented the sentiment that such legislation ought not to pass, but in either case it is a victory for California agriculture and for good relations with a friendly neighbor.

A combination between union labor and the Ku Klux Klan, according to observers of the situation, has been the motive force behind this measure, which bears the name of Senator Harris of Georgia, but has been most energetically pushed by Senator Hiram Johnson, against the interests of his own State. The alliance is a strange one, since the Klan has taken the lead in the union-baiting activities throughout the South and more than one union organizer has been roughly handled by Klan-controlled mobs, but it is hardly more strange than the muddled condition the bill found itself in when Senators set up two irreconcilable methods of figuring immigration quotas.

They did this by eliminating a part of Senator Norbeck's amendment, adopted several days ago, which would have repealed the "national origins" method of figuring quotas—the action retaining national origins in force—but leaving in the bill the rest of the Norbeck plan, which would cut immigration to 1 per cent of the population of 1890 and distribute quotas according to the make-up of the country at that time. Of course, the 1890-census plan and the "national origins" plan could not both be in effect at the same time and the result, if the bill finally went through in that form, would have been chaos and possibly no restriction at all. The cut Senator Norbeck favored would have restricted European immigrants to 80,000 a year instead of the present 150,000.

The "national origins" plan has been vastly debated. President Hoover believes it is an unfair plan, as President Coolidge did before him, but lobbying by representatives of strong racial minorities, particularly in pivotal States, has held it in force.

The States which have considerable Scandinavian population have particularly objected to it, since the quotas of Northern Europe are less, proportionately, under it than under the 1890 plan and the quotas of Southern Europe larger. It came within an ace of another suspension—its operation was twice postponed—in March, 1929, and finally went into effect last July. Senator Reed of Pennsylvania and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, both of whom have been at the Naval Conference, have been its most cordial proponents.

As for the Klan interest in Mexican migration, nothing else, it is believed, can account for the insistence of various Southern Senators that restriction be imposed, in the face of the fact that restriction by the State Department, which accomplishes all that a quota bill could accomplish, is already operating. There are no Mexicans in Georgia nor any need for any, but Senator Harris apparently needs some sort of legislation with his name attached on which he can run for re-election. Most of the States whose Senators are agitating for the bill are genuinely uninterested in the question one way or another.

It is to be hoped that this mischievous measure, which slaps a friendly country unnecessarily without accomplishing any real result, will be lost in the shuffle for this session, and that at another session the pressure of politics will not be so great as to prevent consideration of the matter on its merits. Most of the Senators, except Hiram Johnson, do at times consider some matters on their merits.

THE MONFALCONE CASE

The gambling ship Monfalcone, which has impudently established herself off the coast of Orange county, should be chased from this anchorage, as she has been from others. The Monfalcone is, to be sure, approximately three miles from shore. But her proprietors are in error if they think she is not within the territorial waters of California, since the three-mile limit is not measured from low-tide mark, but from a line drawn from headland to headland.

This is made plain in the decision of the California Supreme Court in the case of Ocean Industries, Inc., vs. Superior Court of Santa Cruz County, ruled on in January, 1927, and involving sardine fishing in Monterey Bay. A line drawn from Point Fermin to Balboa, or to Point Capistrano, is the starting place from which to measure the three miles, according to the most favorable reading, to the Monfalcone, that can be made of this decision. It may even be that courts would hold, on the basis of this decision, that the three-mile limit starts from the outermost point of San Nicolas Island and that everything inside is California territorial waters. At any rate the Monfalcone's present location is clearly within Orange county and the authorities of that county ought to take appropriate action.

The Monfalcone can be raided and put out of business any time Orange county decides, or at least chased so far from shore that her operation would be unprofitable. She was not, and will not be, allowed to keep going within the boundaries of Los Angeles county.

JUDICIAL APPOINTMENTS

The statement with which Municipal Judge Wilson accompanies his resignation raises an important point about judicial appointments. He declares that instead of promoting worthy judges from the Municipal Court bench, Gov. Young has seen fit to fill some twelve vacancies in the Superior Court from private life, and that the only way a Municipal judge can obtain promotion is to contest in the primary with some incumbent of the higher court who really deserves re-election. The lower court, he objects, has no future.

The suggested plan of making the Municipal bench a training school for Superior Court has its merits, as it might tend to induce a better type of men to seek posts in Municipal Court, but a hard and fast rule that vacancies in the Superior Court must be filled by promotion from the lower bench would be undesirable.

The making of judicial appointments for political service is thoroughly bad, no matter who makes them. The laws of California purport to safeguard the courts from political influence and they would obviously accomplish that purpose much better if the State Executive observed them in spirit and letter. In the primaries, party affiliation is not permitted to be stated on the ballot for any judicial posts. Party or faction affiliation should not influence the Governor in his judicial selections to fill vacancies. If, where practicable, he promoted the ablest Municipal Court judges, who are chosen in as nearly a nonpartisan manner as the law can require when elected, it would help to avoid partisanship in such appointments.

When Judge Wilson says, however, that "the rewards of public service are not commensurate with the sacrifices made" he expresses a sentiment which cannot be fully agreed to. The true reward of public service is the consciousness of duty well done, and that is something which the man gives himself. No one else can confer it upon him, nor can anyone take it away.

DOBBIN AS SLEUTH

Sherlock Holmes must be a favorite with the Toronto police. Finding a horse and loaded wagon in front of a warehouse that had just been robbed, they turned the animal loose and it led them to a stable. Three men were arrested, charged with the crime. Horses still are useful for something besides polo and wild-west pictures.

SCHOOL THRIFT

Seventy-one thousand and ninety-three pupils in the Los Angeles schools have savings accounts averaging $21.31 each. And the children handle their own accounts. Good citizenship is gaining a strong foothold through such teaching.

COMPENSATIONS

By James J. Montague

The caveman, when he hungered for
A winter's food supply,
Could go and kill a dinosaur
Which chanced to wander by;
And when, with stone or club, he slew
The vast, gigantic thing,
The caveman had no work to do
Till spring.

The caveman had to pass no laws
For criminals to mock
And boldly disobey, because
His ballot was a rock.
And anyone who disobeyed,
Or did not do as told,
Without a rod was deftly laid
Out cold.

The caveman did not need to court
A woman for his wife;
To cut a damsel's protest short
He used a flint-hewn knife.
He took no maiden every night
To see a movietone,
For in those days coquettes were quite Unknown.

The caveman's lot was rough and hard,
The world was brutal then,
And he was always on his guard
Against his fellow-men.
Within his dark and chilly grot
No luxuries he had.
And yet perhaps his lot was not
So bad.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

DR. OWEN C. COY of the history department of the University of Southern California has written a brief history of journalism in California which is extremely interesting.

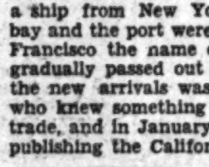
Newspapers Followed the Flag

No newspaper was published in California under the regimes of Spain or Mexico. But the American flag first was raised in this State on July 7, 1846, and the first newspaper appeared at Monterey August 15, 1846. Its editors were Walter Colton and Robert Semple, the latter a Kentuckian standing six feet eight inches in his stockings, who "wore buckskin dress, a coonskin cap, was true with his rifle, ready with his pen and quick at the type case." The press was one Zamorano had brought from Mexico many years before.

California's population then included "7000 Spanish-speaking people and 1500 Anglo-Americans." The town of Yerba Buena (San Francisco) had 200 inhabitants. Gold had been discovered before that first issue of the Californian, as the paper was named, but no mention of it appears in the paper. It was not considered of much importance.

Fighting Days

Before that paper was published, however, the population of Yerba Buena was doubled by the arrival of a ship from New York and as the bay and the port were named for San Francisco the name of Yerba Buena gradually passed out of use. One of the new arrivals was Sam Brennan, who knew something of the printing trade, and in January, 1847, he began publishing the California Star.



During the '50's the number of newspapers increased till there were thirteen in San Francisco. Eleven duels were fought in which newspaper men participated, and in nine blood was shed, two resulting mortally.

Always For Good Government

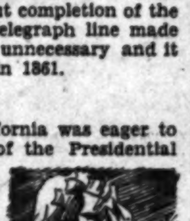
Yet those swashbuckling and fighting editors always stood for good government and for freedom of the press. They spoke so strongly in opposition to corruption in office that one judge instructed a grand jury to investigate the conduct of the press and bring indictments if "they have transcended certain limits." That was taken by the editors as a threat against free speech, and the response of "James King of William," editor of the original San Francisco Bulletin, was an expose of a corrupt official. The public was so aroused that a meeting of the vigilance committee was called to defend King.

The Pony Express

Just as in recent years telephone and radio transmission of photographs have been perfected to meet the needs of the press, so in those days the famous Pony Express was established for it. Before that time most eastern news came to the newspapers by ship, around the Horn, which meant a sad dearth of news between boats. But completion of the transcontinental telegraph line made the Pony Express unnecessary and it ceased operation in 1861.

The First "Beat"

In 1856 all California was eager to hear the results of the Presidential election in "the States." It was known that the Golden Age would sail from New York shortly after the election, and its arrival in California was anticipated for months. One paper sent a man who could both write and set type to Acapulco, Mex., to meet the ship, get the news, set it up on shipboard and have everything ready for the printing of the paper as soon as he landed and put that type into the forms. The result was that while the editors of the other papers were busy interviewing passengers and writing copy, after the ship reached San Francisco, the Alta Californian was on the streets with a full account of Buchanan's election. It was perhaps the greatest scoop in California history.



Spring in Los Angeles

At morn a rosy flush o'erspreads the sky
And golden-throated birds awake and sing.
The meadow lark soars forth on buoyant wing
And in the trees the fragrant breezes sigh.

At eventide there falls a soft blue haze
Upon the hills. The sun sinks down to rest
Softly upon the ocean's tremulous breast
And there is rocked to sleep. So end the days.

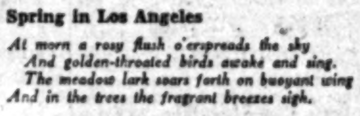
Flame—and Reflection

Fourteen wicked tongues of flame
Make an awful fret.
(After all, it's nothing
But an old gas jet.)



Fourteen gorgeous chorus girls—
How the gallery raves!
I can shut my eyes and see
Fourteen empty graves.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

CANADA AND THE B. W. I.

[Detroit Free Press]

The Governor-General of Canada, who has just made a tour of the British West Indies, states that Canada should take over the guardianship of these crown colonies. As the personal representative of the king in the dominion, Viscount Willingdon presumably would not have suggested so important a change in the composition of the empire unless he felt that it would be as well received in London and in the West Indies, as in Canada. This safe assumption gives his statement the status of an interesting prophecy.

The British West Indies consist of nearly a dozen islands and groups of islands, with an area of slightly more than 12,000 square miles and a population of perhaps 2,000,000 people. They are ruled in the name of the crown by governors sent out from London. This condition has not been unhappy for the natives of the islands; and if they were consulted it is not unlikely that they would prefer the easy-going ways of the British colonial office to the more forceful and venturesome ways of Ottawa. At the same time they would probably benefit economically by the change. The trade of the British West Indies with Canada has recently become very profitable, as the result of a favorable trade agreement concluded between them. This fact cannot fail to draw the colonies and the dominion into closer sympathy. The West Indies are remoter from London than from Ottawa in more than geography. They are of the new world, as Canada is; and to place them under the administration of the latter would seem to be logical and commercially advantageous to both parties.

ONE WAY TO MEET IT

[Baltimore Sun]

Provision being made by the new Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York to care for motor vehicles is an illustration of what competition is doing in forcing business enterprises to spend money for accommodation of automobile traffic. The builders are devoting sufficient space within the structure to provide a street 90 feet wide and 200 feet long, giving entrances and exits on two thoroughfares. In other words, 18,000 square feet of the ground floor area are surrendered to supply easy access for motor cars and parking space. When the high cost of New York real estate is taken into consideration the importance attached to the convenience thus afforded can be better understood.

Those who recall the old Waldorf will remember the carriage way at the west end—as much an innovation when the hotel was built as is the new automobile traffic way today—which may be viewed as a forerunner of what, in large centers of population, will be in years to come the accepted method of meeting the exigencies of modern transportation. New York is in a class by itself, owing to its size and its topography. But in many other cities in construction of department stores and office buildings the need of providing accommodation for motor vehicles is being recognized and rivalry for trade and patronage is calculated to spread the vogue.

WHAT WISCONSIN CANNOT DO

[San Francisco Chronicle]

Some kind words are said about Wisconsin in Capper's Weekly. There we learn that Wisconsin has the lowest crime rate in America, Milwaukee has the lowest burglary insurance rate and justice is so swift that killers often are in the penitentiary before the sun sets on the day of their crime. All this inspires admiration. But it also arouses curiosity concerning Wisconsin's Senators. If the State can do so well in other directions, why the inability to make Blaine and La Follette stop throwing monkey wrenches into the works?

THE SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WELFARE

BY DIRECTOR EMORY S. BOGARDUS

The school of social welfare came into being in 1920, when the board of trustees of the University of Southern California authorized the establishment of a division of social work in connection with the department of sociology. However, this action on the part of the trustees did not mark the beginning of courses of study of a social welfare nature at this university, for many of these subjects were already being taught as courses in the department of sociology, which had been established as a department in the college of liberal arts five years earlier. The inauguration of a division of social work meant a more highly integrated and more efficient organization of one phase of sociology to meet a need in the larger community of which the university is a part.

In 1923, by authorization of the board of trustees, the name of the division of social work was changed to school of social welfare, and Emory S. Bogardus was appointed director; but the organization remained essentially as before. Today, a faculty of eight full-time professors, two fellows and four graduate assistants handles the work of both department of sociology and the school of social welfare, keeping the two closely interlinked.

At the present time the school is a member of the American Association of Training Schools for Professional Social Work. When admitted there was but one other school west of the Mississippi so recognized. The enrollment in the school has been steadily increasing, both in total numbers and in transfers from other universities and colleges. Among some of the institutions represented this year are: University of California, Mills College, Washington University, University of Pittsburgh, Drake University, Columbia University, Kansas Wesleyan, Queen's University, University of Cincinnati and the University of Wisconsin.

The field of social work embraces two main spheres of activity—(1) the development or rehabilitation of those persons, families and institutions which for whatever reasons are not adjusted to the communities of which they are a part, and (2) the development or reorganization of communities as a whole. Social work seeks to increase personal, institutional and communal efficiency.

The school of social welfare at the University of Southern California co-operates closely with the city of Los Angeles. Los Angeles, like all large cities, has grave social problems. Certain of these, such as crime and poverty, it has in common with all large metropolitan areas; others, such as certain racial problems, tend to be inherently its own. The city of Los Angeles has social service organizations, public and private, to cope with these problems. The school co-operates with the social welfare agencies as means of affording practical training in field work and as sources of research material for the students, and in turn in accordance with the purpose of its creation, the school reciprocates by supplying trained social workers where needed, presenting results of surveys and research projects as compiled, and furnishing faculty members to serve the numerous civic organizations as speakers, advisers and leaders.

The faculty members, men and women skilled in the technique of social work, in addition to their teaching, give freely of their time to serve as lecturers, radio speakers, church workers, contributors to magazines and journals and members of boards of the several social agencies. Some of the positions held by members of the school of social welfare faculty have been: President of the Social Service Commission of the City of Los Angeles, president of Los Angeles Chapter of the American Association of Social Workers, member of the Board of the Goodwill Industries of Southern California, chairman of the Social Research Clinic, member of the State Housing Commission, assistant secretary of the Travelers' Aid, director of the San Diego Survey and director of the Boys' Work Survey of Los Angeles, under the auspices of the Rotary Club. The school of social welfare has come to be an active and recognized factor in the life of the community.

The school aims to give the student well-balanced training in theory through the department of sociology and in actual field experience through practice work with the social agencies of the city. Contact with the courses of the department of sociology proper, such as beginning courses in sociology and social psychology, give the student a fundamental basis upon which to build his subsequent vocational structure. In the presenting of these courses the time needs of students have been considered. A number of courses are offered in the late afternoon and evening to meet the needs of those who are employed during the day, but who wish to continue their education. These classes are held both at the university campus itself and at university college at Seventh and Los Angeles streets. The work with the social agencies of Los Angeles gives the student a face-to-face contact with the problems previously discussed in class, an opportunity of seeing how these problems are met by the various social agencies and an acquaintance with the needs and limitations of social work.

In 1926, the Clarence E. Rainwater Library of 2000 volumes was established in memory of Clarence E. Rainwater, who served the university and the school of social welfare for a number of years. The Rainwater Library specializes in the field of sociological research, both foreign and American, and in social work documents. Since the establishment of the library, books have been steadily added, until at the present time students have ready access to the latest books and periodicals in the field of sociology and social welfare. In addition, the library contains reports and findings in social welfare made as the result of seminar and research projects during the last few years.

Of comparatively recent creation but with promising growth is the sociology research laboratory founded by the department of sociology and the school of social welfare. The object is to develop facilities for research in social welfare. The laboratory, collected materials, equipment and research organization are available for advanced students interested in research work.

Another recent project has been the organization of the Social Research Society, membership in which is open to qualified students of the school. Social research clinics as well as regular meetings are held by the society. Some of the survey projects that have been carried on under the auspices of the school of social welfare and the Social Research Society have been, economic and social studies of Mexican and oriental groups in Los Angeles, a study of delinquency among schoolgirls in Los Angeles and causes of truancy among boys and girls in Los Angeles. These surveys have served a double function. First, they have performed for Los Angeles work which the city would have been forced to do privately at considerable expense; second, the surveys have been essential to the school in its teaching of technique and for the enrichment of its data and material for instructional purposes. The Social Research Society has also taken an active part in more extensive surveys such as a recent race relations survey of the Pacific Coast covering a period of several years. The findings of all these surveys have been made available in the social research laboratory and the Rainwater Library.

In order that findings of the department of sociology and the school of social welfare might be more widely disseminated and thus made useful to a greater number, a publication bureau was inaugurated for the purpose of publishing monographs and news notes. These publications led to the establishment of the Journal of Applied Sociology. Later this was supplemented by a social research bulletin, which, while published at the University of Southern California, contained articles and monographs from international sources. In 1927 the two combined to form Sociology and Social Research, a bimonthly international scientific journal. The director of the school is editor-in-chief. Research work and original studies of merit that are made by students in the school of social welfare are published in this journal.

Graduate work under the direction of the school of social welfare leads to the following awards according to work taken: The diploma in social work, the diploma in social research, the diploma in Americanization work, the diploma in group and recreation work and the master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees in the department of sociology and social welfare.

Graduates from the school of social welfare are prepared for such positions as are here listed:

Social case work—Family welfare societies, public and private relief organizations, adult and juvenile probation departments, protective associations, juvenile, immigrant, legal aids, etc.; public and private institutions for children, the aged, the physically handicapped, mentally defective and delinquents; medical social work departments of hospitals and clinics, visiting nurse associations, nutrition clinics; psychiatric social service departments of hospitals, asylums and clinics.

Social group work — Public playgrounds, summer camps, pageants, neighborhood clubs and settlements, Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A., recreational organizations.

Community organization—Public welfare department, social reform societies, community service, settlements and community centers, social publicity bureaus, councils of social agencies, philanthropic foundations, community trusts, organizations promoting social legislation, professional social work organizations.

Social investigation and research—Government statistical bureaus, labor, vital and social statistics; research departments; social survey organizations; ethnological studies, social anthropological research.

The school of social welfare has been in existence only a brief period, yet forty courses in social work and sociology are offered each semester on the regular campus and at university college. The school has become an increasingly well organized unit and it has demonstrated its ability to be of service to the community.

BATTLE RENEWED IN KLEEMAN CASE

Miss Dollie Jarvis

NEW WILL PRESENTED IN CONTEST

Film Player Miss Jarvis Offers Another Document on Fight Over $20,000

The legal battle over the $20,000 estate of Mrs. Natalie Hulda Kleeman was renewed yesterday when Miss Dollie Jarvis, screen actress, filed a second will in place of the one recently refused probate after a contest instituted by the decedent's son, Dr. George E. Kleeman of Oakland.

The previously contested will, dated April 8, 1929, left the bulk of the estate to Miss Jarvis and her mother, Mrs. Estelle M. Jarvis. The present will, dated April 6, 1929, leaves all the property to the granddaughter. Dr. Kleeman is disinherited in both wills. In his contest he declared that his mother, who died April 11, 1929, did not understand the contents of the will she signed because of her insufficient knowledge of the English language.

Salvation Army Band Will Play March by Sousa

Interest in the program to be given by the Salvation Army territorial staff band in Trinity Auditorium tomorrow at 3 p.m. is heightened by the announcement that John Philip Sousa's latest march, "The Salvation Army Patrol," written especially for the army, will be played for the first time. The band is directed by Staff-Captain Ernest Higgins, son of the head of the International Salvation Army, Gen. Edward Higgins.

STAFF CAPTAIN ERNEST HIGGINS

The band is composed of thirty pieces. Brig. James C. Bell, commanding officer of the Los Angeles and South Coast division, will act as host.

In addition to the program in Trinity Auditorium, which is open to the public, there will be two other concerts tomorrow morning at the temple, 832 West Ninth street, and in the evening at the citadel, 125 East Fourth street.

Adjt. Frank Howell, officer at the temple, will speak tomorrow night on "What is a Soul Worth"

The band will be heard Monday from 3 to 3:40 p.m. on the Don Lee network, released from KHJ.

Football Star Loses Suit for Crash Damages

Felix Chappellet, in whose automobile Rex D. Wray, former football star, was riding when he was injured April 20, 1929, was not responsible for damages to Wray, according to a verdict of a jury in Superior Judge Warne's court yesterday.

Wray suffered a paralysis of sensory nerves leading to the mucous surfaces of the nasal air passages, and as a result said he has lost his sense of smell.

The injured man, who played football at the University of Pennsylvania in 1921, sued for $37,447.

Noted Judges of Dogs Picked

Acceptance of the post of judges by authorities of international note will be instrumental, it was stated yesterday by officers of the Los Angeles Kennel Club, in establishing the Hollywood Dog Show at the Ambassador Auditorium, May 24 and 25, as a national event.

Miss Lydia Hopkins, social leader of Northern California and daughter of Timothy Hopkins of Burlingame and San Mateo, heads the list. She will judge toy dogs.

John Matthews, retired broker and sportsman, who now resides at La Canada, will judge bulldogs.

Capt. Frank Vukovich, attached to the United States Naval Air Station at San Diego, will judge Great Danes.

Boston terriers will fall to the lot of Mrs F. M. Tryon of Los Angeles. Robert Foster of Compton will judge Chow Chows. Andrew J. Scott of Pasadena will judge the Samoyedes, cocker spaniels, springer spaniels, Kerry blues, pointers, setters, French bulldogs and will assist with other toy dogs and bulldogs.

Shepherd dogs known as police dogs will be judged by Charles C. Martin of Los Angeles, while William B. Fletcher of Portland will select the best dog in the show.

COMEDIAN WINS LONG CONTRACT

George Corcoran Signed by Fox Officials

Howard Jones to Play Coach Role for Warners

Phil Goldstone Will Remain as Tiffany Head

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

It took but one screen chance for George (Red) Corcoran, 24-year-old University of Washington product, to prove his ability to Fox Film officials, and today, as the result of his work in Chandler Sprague's "Not Damaged," he has an ironclad, long-term contract.

Corcoran is the son of a locomotive engineer, and therefore is of sturdy stock. He weighs 180 pounds and is 6ft. tall. Given a comedy role in "Not Damaged," his initial film effort, the Seattle youth gave Lois Moran, Robert Ames and the other players in the picture a spirited contest for first honors.

The young actor has picked apples, handled freight on the docks, worked in shipyards and sold newspapers during his career. In college, he participated in glee club entertainments, operettas and vaudeville shows, and left in his third year to go into vaudeville.

COACH JONES WON OVER TO ACTING

HOWARD JONES

A real football coach playing the same role on the screen is the novelty which Warner Brothers will introduce in "Maybe It's Love," according to announcement made yesterday by Darryl Zanuck.

Howard Jones, University of Southern California's popular football mentor, has been signed by the Warners to enact the role of the coach for the team played by the all-American pigskin squad in the Vitaphone college picture.

In the part, Jones has under his wing such great gridiron talent as W. K. Schoonover, from Arkansas, E. N. Sleight of Purdue, George Gibson, Minnesota; Tim Moynihan, Notre Dame; Ray Montgomery, Pittsburgh; Otto Pommerening, Michigan; Kenneth Haycraft, Minnesota; Howard Harpster, Carnegie Tech; Paul Scull, Pennsylvania; Russ Saunders, Southern California, and William Banker, Tulane.

Joan Bennett has the leading role in "Maybe It's Love," while Joe E Brown, James Hall, Nora Lee and others enact prominent parts. William Wellman is directing.

It is said that Jones is a shy sort of person, and that it took a good bit of persuasion to make him believe he really could appear in a role before the camera. However, after a camera and voice test, he decided he might not be so bad as an actor, after all.

PHIL GOLDSTONE TO STAY WITH TIFFANY

Phil Goldstone, after all, is not to leave Tiffany Productions. The board of directors and other heads refused to accept his resignation, and such were their arguments that he has decided to remain.

It is known that Goldstone's mother's ill health has been of great concern to him, so much so that he had determined to devote his whole time to her. But on the showing of Tiffany of what immense importance he is to the concern, he felt that his duty lay with his business associates, to a certain extent at least.

Mrs. Ray Goldstone, the executive's mother, lately suffered an attack of illness of a serious nature, so that Goldstone had decided to take her away to another climate.

Darmour Plans Comedies

A large portion of the $2,000,000 budget required to make Radio's comedies for the coming year will be spent by the Darmour Productions in Hollywood, according to the announcement of Larry Darmour, head of the company, who has just returned from New York, where he consulted with Radio officials.

Continuation of the series of Micky (himself) McGuire Comedies is inevitable, says Darmour, inasmuch as these little playlets based on the cartoons of Fontaine Fox have proven themselves among the most popular of the present-day juvenile comedies. Al Herman remains the director of the Toonerville Kids, with E. V. Durling in charge of stories and Johnny Gray supplying the dialogue.

Two noted comedians are shortly to sign for the comedies, and their names will be announced within a week or two. Lewis R. Fosterwill is to direct.

Emma Dunn With Paramount

EMMA DUNN

Emma Dunn, portrayer of mother roles on the stage for more than two decades, will play a character part in Paramount's film drama of Alice Duer Miller's novel, "Manslaughter," according to announcement made yesterday by B. P. Schulberg.

In "Manslaughter," Miss Dunn will play the role of the aunt who tries to mother the heroine, played by Claudette Colbert. Gary Cooper has been assigned to the starring role in the picture.

ROMANCE OF ROYAL HERO TOLD AGAIN

Attractive Production of "Student Prince" Features Allan Prior

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The romance of Prince Karl Franz is retold on the stage at the Majestic Theater. "The Student Prince," one of the most engaging of musical plays, is being revived with Allan Prior singing the title role and evoking the spell of sentiment which belongs peculiarly to this creation by Sigmund Romberg and Dorothy Donnelly.

The revival of "The Student Prince" is a very effective and elaborate one, with choruses exceptionally well sung, cleverness in its comedy and a musical attractiveness that seems never waning. In staging and costuming the production achieves quality and even brilliance, and is altogether a very pleasant and worth-while entertainment. The opening Thursday evening drew a large and enthusiastic audience, and the approval for the performance was again freely manifest last evennig.

Allan Prior has one scene in this stage piece that he has made distinctly his own. It is the one where Karl Franz is overwhelmed by the memories of Heidelberg, and, beset with grief, decides to keep his promise and return to the haunts of his school days ere he weds the Princess Margrete. Prior invested this episode of pathos with a sincerity that won him many admirers when he appeared in the role previously at the Biltmore Theater, and in the present performance he again triumphs by his sympathetic interpretation of the prince's tragedy. This is, perhaps, the most impressive moment of the entire performance.

Musically there are few songs to equal in charm "Deep In My Heart," "The Student's Serenade," the waltz number of the princess and Capt. Tarnitz in the third act of the operetta. The chorus of students in the opening scene is always a stirring event. Romberg has enchained the spirit of the famous play, "Old Heidelberg" in these alluring selections which appeal even though they are in several instances more than familiar.

The comedy portion of "The Student Prince" is apparently assigned with good judgment to Richard Powell. His impersonation of Lutz is individual, in that he stresses its mock dignity more than some other interpreters. His facility of manner is marked, and makes for the distinct mirthfulness attending his appearance on the stage. As a foil he has the amusing Georgie Harris. Ada Sinclair as the Grand Duchess Anastasia aids in the laugh-getting.

Elvira Tanzi, who was the Margot of the "Desert Song," returns as Kathie, blond and braided, and her higher tones afford brilliance in the ensemble singing. Her vocal work was perhaps more effective than her interpretation, although she brought the proper spirit to many of the scenes.

Hedley Hall was the Dr. Engel, and received applause for his singing. Sylvia De Frankie as Gretchen, Don McNeill as Toni, and Russell Scott as a rather efficient Detlef were others prominent in the cast.

The revival of "The Student Prince" augurs the renewal of pleasure for those who enjoy the delightful work, and that signifies many indeed.

CLASSIC IN SLANG DUE TOMORROW

'Love 'Em and Leave 'Em' Stars Isabel Withers at Duffy's El Capitan

"Love 'Em and Leave 'Em," which the Henry Duffy Players will offer at El Capitan, starting tomorrow, has been lauded as a comedy classic in slang. It was written by John V. A. Weaver, poet-playwright, and by George Abbott, noted actor-dramatist, and is based on two poems in Weaver's book of verse, "In American."

The two central characters of the play are Mame Walsh and her younger sister, Janie, shop girls who work for Ginsberg's department store.

Isabel Withers has the chief feminine role, that of Mame. Emily Lowry will be Janie and Kenneth Daigneau also has an important role.

Others in the cast are Frank Darien, Lillian Dean, Olive Cooper, Byron Hawkins, James Bush, Thomas L. Bower and John Mackenzie. The comedy has been staged under the direction of Edwin H. Curtis.

Mystery Play at President

"The Blue Ghost," the mystery play which the Henry Duffy Players are presenting at the President, starts its second week Sunday. The piece was written by Bernard J. McOwen and J. P. Riewerts.

"The uncanny events of "The Blue Ghost" take place in the home of Dr. De Former, a gloomy mansion situated on a high cliff overlooking the sea "somewhere in California." In the cast are Earl Lee, Edward Cassidy, Bernice Elliott, Joseph De Stefani, Lex Lindsay and Harry Hollingsworth.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

GEORGE FAWCETT, who hasn't acted on the stage since 1915, but who has been pretty active in pictures, is going to do one of his favorite plays—a former starring vehicle—on the Los Angeles stage. It is "The Great John Ganton," written by Arthur Jerome Eddy, and dramatized by the late Hartley Manners.

Fawcett appeared in this play for three seasons in America and one in London, prior to 1912. It is supposed to be an intimate study of a shirt-sleeved American millionaire who was quite a figure in business life in the 90's.

Although the Fawcett management is very mysterious about details of production, I learn from another source that the play will be seen at the Vine Street Theater following "The Questionable Elaine." The date talked of now for opening is Sunday, May 18, next.

"Strictly Dishonorable" Starts

The "Strictly Dishonorable" company which is coming to the Biltmore on May 4 started on its way day before yesterday in Indianapolis. Its first performances are being given at English's Operahouse there, from which it travels west to Denver, where it is booked into the Broadway Theater.

Here's the cast which Brock Pemberton assembled and rehearsed in New York: Margaret Perry, Lino Manzoni, Lee Baker, Ralph Locke, George Meeker, Jerome Daley, Guido Alexander and Edward Hartford. Miss Perry, of course, has the role of the soft-voiced little southern girl who finds adventure in a New York speakeasy.

William Kane, who will be remembered on the local theatrical rialto as publicist with last year's Civic Repertory organization, is in town in advance of the "Strictly Dishonorable" company.

"Decency" Gets Under Way

Katherine Wilson, who was engaged in New York to fill the lead in Arthur Gregor's new play, "Decency," which, everybody should know by this time, is coming to the Mayan Theater, is in town. She arrived last night on the Santa Fe.

The opening date for "Decency" hasn't as yet been announced but this column predicts that it will arrive about May 25. This would give "Journey's End," the picture current, another four weeks.

Mei Lan-Fang Delays Visit

Mei Lan-Fang, the Chinese actor, who was to appear at the Philharmonic Auditorium May 5, has postponed his first appearance here until May 13. Mei is now in San Francisco, where, according to reports, he is drawing capacity houses. Following the local engagement he is going to Honolulu for a series of performances.

Masquers Prepare Revel

The Masquers' public revel, to be held at El Capitan Theater, Saturday, May 10, should be quite a show. All sorts of special sketches and playlets are being written. Among those who are contributing their talents are: William Collier, Sr., Joseph Santley, Joe A. Brown, Murray Bloom, Addison Burkhart, Lynn Cowan, Bud Murray, Kenneth Webb and Roy Webb. The revel will be a replica of the Lamb's Gambol, held once a year in New York.

"Philadelphia" Author Has Another

S. John Park, who wrote "Philadelphia," (at the Vine-street a week or so ago) has a new show about to go on in New York. It's called "Lily White" and in its cast will be some forty Negroes and a handful of white players, chief among whom will be Helen Menken. It will open in Brooklyn May 12.

Player Shuns Studios When Not Working

Harry Davenport is one actor who never goes near a picture studio nor a theater unless he is appearing in a production. Davenport plays an important part in "Her Unborn Child," the screen drama now showing at the Rialto Theater.

The actor believes that a man to be good at his profession should have various hobbies to absorb his spare time. He is a devoted baseball fan, adept at whist and fond of trout fishing. His reputation in the theater was gained under the banner of the late Charles Frohman.

PIRANDELLO PLAY COMES TO SCREEN

"Living Mask," at Filmarte, Revives "Hamlet" Problem

BY ELENA BOLAND

Discovering just where lies the borderland between sanity and insanity is the problem which Luigi Pirandello treats in his play, "Henry IV."

This drama was taken by a German concern and adapted to the screen under the title, "The Living Mask." It is now at the Filmarte Theater.

The same question which "Hamlet" students ask themselves again and again is also asked in this piece, only this one answers its own puzzle. And the question is, can a man, declared to be insane, be sane without detection?

References to Hamlet are made repeatedly in this fantastic, pathetic sorrow of a man's life. Not the full portent of Pirandello's philosophic psychology is obtained in the film, due to perhaps two things. First, the silence of the picture prohibits an understanding of the playwright's lines. And secondly, censorship demands have so mutilated the continuity that the element of cause is lacking from many of the effects. Several characters enter the scene unexplained, therefore, their succeeding actions mean little or nothing.

The scenic values of "The Living Mask" are magnificent. The beauties of Italy's rural country, the perfection of the Italian villa and the interior sets of medieval period have an exquisite lavishness.

Conrad Veidt is the star, in the role of the mad Duke of Favori. His fetish for the days of Henry IV once inspires him to costume his guests according to that historic time. A thrust from an enemy gives him a blow on the head which so destroys his mentality that for years after he believes himself to be this king. His wealth permits his affliction to be humored. Servants, friends, remain in costume, the villa is remodeled to a medieval castle. He grows old and the woman who has continued to love him brings a noted alienist in hope of a cure.

Then it is that the Duke admits his sanity. His explanation for continued pretense, handled rather weakly, discloses that the day his mind became clear he saw in a mirror how his life had been wasted. There was nothing left but to play the game.

As he talks, he recognizes among the listeners his enemy. He kills him. Should he make public his own sanity, he must stand for murder. So, again, there is left him no escape but to live out his lonely pose.

Contrast in mood is found in the decidedly ancient burlesque, "Laundry Liz." This gives the inside data on the making of movies in a bygone day. The old studios and methods afford frequent laughs. Fay Tincher and Elmo Lincoln are the love-lorn leads.

"Squadrons of the Sky" offers some superb aerial photography, the quality of which is seldom seen.

POWELL FEELS NATURAL

William Powell looks and feels himself again. The mustache that he had to sacrifice for prison scenes of "Shadow of the Law," his new Paramount picture, is reaching mature proportions once more.

NEW MUSIC COURSE URGED

Paul Whiteman, whose "King of Jazz" is showing at the Criterion daily, has declared that if a university or college in Southern California will establish a chair of song-writing and musical composition, he will see that a campaign is inaugurated to provide funds for the endowment of the chair and course, it is announced by the Criterion management.

Whiteman says: "The sales of pianos in America have fallen off alarmingly in recent years. Young men and women are not learning to play the piano and musical instruments in the same proportions they did thirty years ago.

"I believe that the musical pictures and the studios will offer young men and women with musical educations splendid and profitable careers in the years to come. However, the coming generation must be prepared. I think that the universities in Los Angeles should offer combined musical and poetry courses. Song writers who can compose both words and music are wanted."

CITY WATER CRISIS FACED, SAYS SCOTT

Appeal Issued for Full and Vigorous Support of Water Bond Issue

An appeal to every citizen, civic organization and business concern in Los Angeles to use every ounce of energy at his or its command to bring about the adoption of the $38,800,000 water bond issue at the May 20 election as the only possible means of preventing a water shortage was issued yesterday by Joseph Scott, general chairman of the Citizens' Water and Power Committee, working under the direction of Mayor Porter.

Scores of business and civic organizations in every section of Los Angeles already have pledged themselves to use every effort at their command to carry forward the message of the absolute necessity for more water, Scott pointed out. Also thousands of citizens publicly have indorsed the bonds, he stated. However, he declared that a city-wide and aggressive campaign of information actually is needed.

"Our city cannot afford to take the slightest chance of having these water bonds fail," declared Chairman Scott.

"Every man, woman and child in this city must awake to the realization that we are face to face with a real civic crisis. On May 20 we will decide our destiny. It is almost unthinkable that Los Angeles, which has raised herself up to such magnificent heights within the past twenty years, can ever stop her forward march.

"But the cold truth stands out clearly. We have reached the limit of our present available water supply. Unless we approve the water bonds on May 20 we will stop short."

With the Los Angeles Clearing-house Association unanimously on record actively supporting the bonds, every Los Angeles bank yesterday was urging approval of the water issue.

Frank Meline, realty operator, yesterday urged approval of the water bonds as a civic necessity.

The declaration that property values will be sure to suffer if the water bonds are defeated was made by James B. Gist, vice-president of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles.

GARDENER LICENSING URGED TO CURB WASTE

Waste of water would be prevented to a large extent by the appointment of inspectors charged with overseeing the work of day gardeners in residential districts, according to a suggestion A. T. Welles of 415 South Catalina street has placed before the department of water and power.

The plan advocated by Welles provides for the licensing of all gardeners and the maintenance of inspectors with funds thus obtained. It would be the duty of the inspectors, according to Welles, to cruise about the residential streets and revoke the license of any gardener guilty of wasting water.

"Day after day," Welles said yesterday, "I see gardeners cutting hedges and doing other chores while precious water, spouting from nozzles placed too close to the lawn's edge, flows away to the gutters. This carelessness is inexcusable and can be prevented only if the offending gardeners find themselves in danger of losing their licenses."

Welles states the department has advised him his proposal has been referred to Chief Engineer Van Norman.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

SALADS MORE HEALTHFUL WITHOUT DRESSINGS

I do not wish to convey the impression that I am conducting a domestic science department. Although these articles frequently deal with foods, and even include a number of recipes, it is strictly from the standpoint of teaching you the science of healthful living. I would like you to get as much enjoyment out of your food as possible, but, at the same time, without injury to your health.

There are many queer and complicated concoctions served at fashionable restaurants and clubs which are very tasty and although I am familiar with the ingredients of many of these recipes, I do not advise them for those who wish to obtain and retain the best health. Most fancy dishes have no more excuse for existence than pandering to perverted appetites.

I believe that salads are most wholesome when served without a dressing. In fact, if your taste is not spoiled by rich spices you will find the raw vegetables delicious in their natural state. I have received many letters asking for recipes for making salad dressings, and no matter how plainly I write instructions, patients are continually asking, "Can't I have just a little lemon juice on my salad?" In the first place, I cannot understand why anyone even in good health should want to lose the dainty flavor of raw vegetables, and from the standpoint of better health there is no sour dressing that can be recommended.

Time and again I have had this experience—patients who were enjoying perfect digestion for years after being previously "walking gas factories," will suddenly have their gas pains return when living apparently on a careful diet. Many times I find after much questioning that their trouble returned after the first meal when they squeezed a little lemon juice or used vinegar on their salad.

The important fact is that my experience with thousands of patients has shown me that acids should not be used to flavor salads and that trouble nearly always does occur when they are used. It does not seem to hurt to use a little plain cream on your salads. If you desire, you can mix olive oil with your salad freely. Not only does olive oil give the salad a good flavor, but it is a wholesome food. You can dilute a little peanut or almond butter with water to form a thin cream and use this over your salads. The following is a dressing which I believe you will like:

CREAM CHEESE DRESSING

To one of the commercial packages of cream cheese add enough cream to thin to the desired consistency. It may be colored green with a little mashed cooked spinach. If desired, add a little finely chopped parsley, pimento and a few whole ripe olives.

Most other salad dressings I do not recommend, and I believe you will get the most benefit from your vegetables if you use them in a natural condition. My best advice is to learn to use raw vegetables without seasoning so that you may enjoy the good taste of their excellent flavors and in this way you will really find yourself eating more salads than formerly.

JEALOUSY LAID TO WIFE

John Wenzel, seeking a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Helen Wenzel, told Superior Judge Edmonds yesterday that she was so jealous of him that she objected to him waiting on women customers in their garage. He said she told one woman to get out and stay out. A decree was granted.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

THE DUCKLINGS GET A GREAT SCARE

No stranger trust; you'll likely rue,
Your friendly action if you do.
—Old Mother Nature.

Grandfather Frog sat on his big, green lily-pad in the Smiling Pool. His big goggly eyes seemed to be half closed. Not even when a foolish green fly came past did those eyes open. Grandfather Frog looked as if he were taking a sun nap. Not far away Mrs. Quack and all the baby Quacks were very busy getting something to eat. Grandfather Frog could get glimpses of them now and then when they would come out from behind little tussocks of grass or bulrushes, but when he couldn't see them he could hear them. He didn't seem to be in the least interested in them, but in reality he was.

Grandfather Frog sat still and said nothing

By and by Mrs. Quack led all the baby Quacks—nine of them—out into the open water of the Smiling Pool. Such a good time as they had then! They ducked their heads under water and flapped their tiny wings just as they had seen their mother flap her big wings, and swam 'round and 'round, having a lovely time. Meanwhile, Mrs. Quack, after looking in all directions to see that none of the Hawk family was in sight, nor Billy Mink, nor Reddy Fox, nor Snapper the Snapping Turtle, swam over to get some corn, where Farmer Brown's Boy had thrown it in the Smiling Pool. It was her usual feeding place and it was near where Grandfather Frog was sitting.

Now, Mrs. Quack was very hungry. Despite her watchfulness she failed to notice Grandfather Frog. Perhaps that was because he didn't move and his coat was so much the color of the green things around. Had she noticed it she would have warned the babies to keep away from there. But she didn't notice and presently she was very busy tipping up and standing on her head in the water, while she picked up that delicious yellow corn on the bottom. Each time when she righted herself she took a hasty look at the babies to make quite sure that they were safe. Then down she would go again.

Now, right there the water was too deep for the babies to tip up and reach the bottom. Besides, they were not hungry now anyway. So they just played around. By and by one of them by chance discovered Grandfather Frog. Grandfather Frog had moved ever so little. Right away the babies gathered around at a safe distance, to stare at this curious old fellow. They had already seen some little Frogs, but never had they seen one as big as Grandfather Frog, and they didn't know what to make of it.

Grandfather Frog sat still and said nothing. He didn't even blink an eye. But, inside, Grandfather Frog was feeling very good. He had made up his mind he was going to have one of those ducklings. They were a trifle big, to be sure, but Grandfather Frog never hesitates because of size. More than once he has swallowed a fish so big that the tail would remain sticking out of his mouth for some time. So Grandfather Frog had no intention of allowing size to interfere with his appetite, so long as there was any chance at all of swallowing what he caught.

Little by little the baby Quacks now drifted in nearer and nearer to where Grandfather Frog sat. All the time they were staring at him and wondering who he was and what he was. They couldn't understand him at all. They were not afraid, because there was nothing to give them fear. They hadn't been warned against Grandfather Frog. So they just drifted nearer and nearer and Grandfather Frog grew more and more excited. But he did not show that excitement. Meanwhile, he kept a watchful eye on Mother Quack. At last he saw her start to swim over to see what the babies were looking at. He knew then that he must act quickly. He did. He made a lunge at the nearest baby and just barely missed it. But such a fright as all those babies had when Grandfather Frog so abruptly came to life! How they paddled for Mother! And how Mother swam to meet them! As for Grandfather Frog he dived down to the bottom of the pond and disappeared in the mud.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

STUFFED LETTUCE LEAVES

Grind any left-over cold meat or fowl excepting beef and mix two cupfuls of the ground meat with two cupfuls of cold boiled rice, and a seasoning of salt, paprika, one-half teaspoonful of marjoram, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a few drops of Worcestershire sauce and the well beaten yolk of one egg, and enough white stock of gravy to make the mixture into a thick paste. Take out side leaves of lettuce, that have been washed, and fill them with the mixture, roll them up tightly, tie and poach in hot stock for twenty-five to thirty minutes. Drain and place on a hot platter, add half a cupful of milk to the stock that remains in the pan, beat the yolks of two eggs, add a little of the hot mixture to them, pour into the hot tock slowly, stirring constantly, add one teaspoonful of chopped parsley, and one tablespoonful of lemon juice, stir and cook until thick. Pour over the rolls and serve.

HOLLAND PEACH CAKES

Drain the syrup from one can of peach halves, sift two cupfuls of sifted flour with four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, and one-half a teaspoonful of salt. Chop into this five tablespoonfuls of butter, work to a smooth dough with one cupful of milk, roll out half an inch thick, and cut into large rounds, lay on each one of these rounds, one peach half, sprinkle with sugar, and a little cinnamon. Pinch together, place in a baking dish, and bake in a hot oven. Serve with a sauce made of the peach syrup, heated with one tablespoonful of butter, and one teaspoonful of lemon juice.

ASPARAGUS AU GRATIN

Boil two pounds of asparagus tips until tender, add to them half a cupful of fine, dry bread crumbs, one-fourth of a cupful of cream, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, a seasoning of salt, paprika, and four tablespoonfuls of grated cheese, and lastly add the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Mix together lightly, place in a baking dish and bake until a delicate brown.

SCALLOPED MUSHROOMS

Take one pound of mushrooms, and if wild, skin them, the cultivated kind it is not necessary. Wash well, and dry. Place three tablespoonfuls of butter in an enamel saucepan, and cook the mushrooms until tender, sprinkle with a tablespoonful of flour, and season with salt and paprika. Add one-fourth of a cupful of rich milk, and cook for five minutes longer, sprinkle with two teaspoonfuls of chopped parsley, line a shallow baking dish with mashed potatoes, on the bottom and sides. Pour the mushrooms on the potatoes, place in the oven and allow to brown.

DON'T FORCE TIMID CHILD TO MEET STRANGERS

It is annoying enough to the parent if Sally pushes herself into the foreground when company arrives, but her annoyance is doubled if, instead, Sally refuses absolutely to allow herself to be shown off.

Mother insists that she knows all the Mother Goose rhymes, but Sally remains with mouth open unable to utter a sound, while her exasperated elder demands to know if she has no tongue. The baby burrows his head in his mother's shoulder and refuses to even look at the cunning birdie Uncle John has for him. Young son runs into the kitchen and slams the door and remains there despite threats and promises. What is it all about, anyway? What makes children act timid; fearful, tongue-tied?

THE "FRIENDLY" TYPE

Sometimes it begins very early in a child's life. New voices cause baby to cry. New faces won't be looked at. But if he discovers that nothing happens to him, no one grabs him and forces kisses upon him, no one insists that he sit on her lap, he begins to lose his fear of new persons. His experiences are pleasing rather than more terrifying, and soon he becomes what we like to call a "friendly" baby.

Obviously if his experiences have been of the other kind his fear and distaste for new people grow. He hates being mauled by strangers, he hates being imprisoned in their arms or held tightly on their knees, so he runs, or hides, or refuses to look at them when they arrive, finding this is one method by which he can evade these experiences.

The small child may show off gladly, but as he grows older he becomes more self-conscious, more nervous about his elders' demands upon him, so requests to "say your piece for Auntie," or "sing that little song mother likes so well," are met by stubborn silence.

DON'T "SHOW OFF" CHILD

The foregoing are some of the reasons why children dislike and shun strangers. Some of them are more obvious, for it is certain that if the child grows up without companions, if he becomes too used to the exclusive company of his own family, he is more likely to be annoyed at strangers than pleased.

Especially is this true of the very small child, older children being excited by the novelty of visitors. The small child finds his mother's attention diverted from him. She is too busy with the newcomers to pay toll to him hourly, so he dislikes the new people. He wants them to go.

Or perhaps he forces himself to their attention by being so naughty that his mother just has to look at him. Sometimes she goes even farther and impresses him with the fact that company and punishment come fast on each other's heels. He will remember that fact.

The sympathetic and understanding adult will turn her attention elsewhere as soon as she finds the child acting fearful of her. The mother should stop demanding that the child perform, and let him get used to the stranger naturally.

PROHIBITION SUPPORTED BY MOTHERS

Parent-Teacher Congress Unanimous for Dry Law; Officers Selected

Mrs. Mary Parker Bort of Long Beach was elected yesterday as president of the First District California Congress of Parents and Teachers at the annual convention conducted in the First Congregational Church. Associated with her on the executive board for the coming year will be Mrs. Guy Bingham, Huntington Park; Mrs. R. N. Stryker, Glendale; Mrs. Arthur Franklin, Whittier; Mrs. Charles Trowbridge, Pasadena; Mrs. E. E. Garner of Puente; Mrs. C. W. Windes of Pasadena, and Mrs. C. C. Gifford, Long Beach.

Two resolutions were passed. Modification or repeal of the Volstead Act or the Eighteenth Amendment was unanimously protested on the ground that both these enactments are of great value in child welfare, which is the chief objective of the associations. The other resolution endeavors to minimize unfriendly rivalry and competition between the various associations.

Mrs. H. C. Baldwin of Alhambra, retiring president, was honored by being made a life member of the State organization.

Rinaldo Moved to Mind Ward for Observation

Still refusing to admit that his confession to the murder of William Desmond Taylor, motion-picture director, in 1922, was the result of a delusion as believed by his interrogators, Russo Rinaldo, 41-year-old accountant, World War veteran and former Hollywood violinist, was taken to the psychopathic ward in the General Hospital yesterday for observation.

The removal of Rinaldo from the City Jail, where he had been held for three days on suspicion of murder, was made by Detective Lieutenants Condaffer and Ryan after they had obtained a complaint from the Lunacy Commission.

Strong Array Against Park Project Told

Ninety-five per cent of the voters in the Orange Cove district of Roscoe are opposed to the proposed $140,000 bond issue for a park in that area under the Mattoon Act, O. E. Slinack, Orange Cove property owner, yesterday informed the Park Board, which has rescinded its action of March 24, last, approving such bond issue.

The approval was first given as the result of a request of the Orange Cove Improvement Association, with S. S. Hawkins as secretary. Recently the association held another meeting and passed a resolution condemning the project, holding that the request signed by Hawkins was unauthorized by the organization. Tarbell signed the resolution of condemnation as secretary pro tem.

Opposition to the Roscoe Park bond issue has resulted in a suit now on appeal before the Appellate division over the legality of the deciding vote which put over a $100,000 bond issue. This makes two contests over two proposed parks in Roscoe's boundaries.

BAUMGARTEKER CASE REOPENED

Missing Man's Wife Demands Grand Jury Act

Offers to Produce Score of Witnesses to Crime

Private Inquiry Discloses Facts, She Declares

Demanding immediate investigation into the mysterious disappearance of Frank Baumgarteker, Los Angeles wine merchant, on November 25, 1929, Mrs. Mary Baumgarteker, through her attorney, S. S. Hahn, yesterday forwarded a letter to the Los Angeles county grand jury offering to appear before that body to give the names of twenty witnesses whose testimony, she predicts, will furnish sufficient evidence to warrant the indictment of the person responsible for Baumgarteker's disappearance or death.

The letter states that Mrs. Baumgarteker is convinced that her husband is the victim of foul play and is not in hiding, as numerous investigators assert.

Since Baumgarteker's disappearance his estate has become involved in a complicated legal snarl. Leaving property valued at more than $1,000,000 and insurance amounting to $500,000, Baumgarteker left no will disposing of his possessions.

Because of these complications, Mrs. Baumgarteker two months ago offered a reward of $10,000 for the discovery of her husband, dead or alive. The reward will stand for four months more before it is withdrawn, according to Attorney Hahn.

In view of the fact that Baumgarteker's automobile was recovered, slightly damaged, in a San Diego garage where it was left by a mysterious man a week after his disappearance and that the man's estate was left virtually intact, Mrs. Baumgarteker is positive in her belief that her husband was killed by enemies.

Baumgarteker owned a controlling interest in a warehouse on Avenue 19 containing 200,000 gallons of brandy valued at $1,000,000 and in a winery at Cucamunga containing 600,000 gallons of wine valued at approximately $2,000,000.

The letter to the grand jury intimated that the police department and bureau of investigation of he District Attorney's office have failed after many months' inquiry, to reach a solution of the crime, but indicates that Mrs. Baumgarteker and her attorney have obtained sufficient facts in an independent inquiry to warrant an indictment against the person they believe responsible for Baumgarteker's disappearance or death.

'INFANT' OF BYRD TRIP WELCOMED

Youngest Man on Jaunt to Antarctic Says He Would Do it All Over Again

He would explore the Antarctic all over again if it were with Admiral Byrd, would Raymond Mercola, youngest member of the expedition, who came back to America yesterday via the Lassco liner City of Los Angeles from Hawaii.

He was only 16 years of age when he sailed on the Eleanor Bolling from New York, September 15, 1928, and had to boost his age up a bit to get aboard, but yesterday said "It was worth it." He would not talk about the expedition, saying that is Byrd's prerogative.

No, it wasn't so cold; it got down to 58 deg. below zero and nipped ears were a commonplace, and the scenery, all ice, got monotonous.

"But," he added, "I feel I had a part in doing something really important, and I'm raring to go again, most anywhere, particularly with that splendid bunch of men."

He will visit his uncle, Archibold Mercola, at 3103 West Adams street, for two weeks before returning to his home in Chicago.

Reception Given Mission Society

A reception attended by several hundred members of the Women's Missionary Society, Augustana Synod, California Lutheran Conference, was held yesterday at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. Herman Olsson, 1127 South Windsor Boulevard. The guests of honor were Mrs. S. E. Hallner, president of the society, and the board of directors. Members of the society came to Los Angeles from all over California this week to attend the conference at Angelica Lutheran Church of which Mr. Olsson is pastor.

The program included numbers by Mrs. Zefer Algots Sparrow, pianist; Mrs. Lillian Backstrand Wilson, soprano, and Helen Olsson, pianist. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. G. A. Eckdahl, Mrs. William Swanson, Mrs. A. F. Elmquist, Mrs. Ole Nordquist, Mrs. Anna Larson and Mrs. Delwin Samuelson. Assisting at the coffee urn were Helen Olsson, Virginia Elmquist, Mrs. J. M. Carlson, Mrs. A. W. Anderson and Mrs. Carl Olsson.

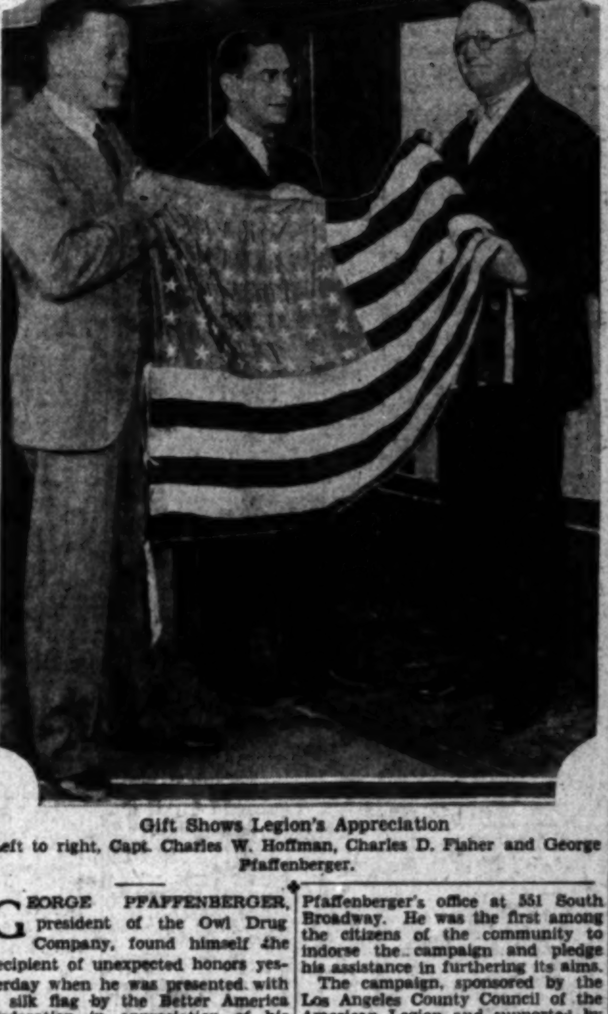
FLAG DRIVE BACKER HONORED

Silk Colors Given Drug Company Head



Gift Shows Legion's Appreciation

GEORGE PFAFFENBERGER, president of the Owl Drug Company, found himself the recipient of unexpected honors yesterday when he was presented with a silk flag by the Better America Federation in appreciation of his interest in the American Legion flag campaign, which has just been started.

Capt. Charles W. Hoffman of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, California National Guard, and Charles D. Fisher, director of the campaign, made the presentation in Pfaffenberger's office at 551 South Broadway. He was the first among the citizens of the community to indorse the campaign and pledge his assistance in furthering its aims.

The campaign, sponsored by the Los Angeles County Council of the American Legion and supported by the Better America Federation, is an educational movement on flag etiquette, the proper way to display the colors, how to treat them and such things, and also to create an interest among the members of the community in displaying the flag on holidays.

at 9:09 they released two flares over Hollywood Boulevard. Then they turned southwest and headed for Venice. At the coastline they turned north to Santa Monica, then inland over the Rogers estate, then through Westwood, and then northeast for their temporary home field in Burbank.

LAND BY OWN LIGHT

When they came near the field, which was itself brilliantly illuminated, they treated the 20,000 spectators massed there to a demonstration of the feasibility of landing at night by the light of their own flares. Three flares were released and in their light the four planes slowly circled toward the ground. This maneuver consumed almost five minutes and then the planes suddenly darted from the light of the flares and made for the brightly lit landing field, coming down at 9:45, after a flight which had lasted fifty-five minutes.

Although none of the army flyers is a stranger to night flying, each confessed after landing that his night trip over Los Angeles had been a beautiful and thrilling experience. The night was unusually clear and the air velvety and smooth, affording the flyers a perfect vista of the millions of lights which appeared to them to carpet the ground from Pasadena to the sea.

Before the hour for the bombers to take off, Brig.-Gen. William E. Gillmore, commander of the provisional wing, landed from Sacramento in a plane piloted by Lieut. L. Merrick.

LAND AT 9 A.M. TODAY

At 9 a.m. today the first flock of the provisional wing's main force will land at the $1,000,000 United Airport, two miles west of Burbank on Hollywood Way near San Fernando Road, a forty-five-minute drive from the City Hall.

From that time on—tier upon tier of ships flying in formation, wing to wing—will drop in at the port until 11 a.m.

While the flyers have lunch their winged craft—sixty-one Boeing and Curtiss pursuit single-seaters, twenty-six giant Curtiss and Keystone bombers, twenty-eight Curtiss attack fighters, a squad of Douglas observers, seven tri-motored transports and twenty miscellaneous and staff ships—will be serviced for the high light of the show.

SHOW OPENS AT 2 P.M.

The first motors will roar at 2 p.m. and a half-hour later the complete force, packed into formations so tight that they all can be photographed on a single camera plate, will roar past the reviewing stand at the port's administration building.

Those in the lead will sweep along with their wheels not more than twenty-five feet above the ground. In steps of only a few feet behind will come the other types of ships—those sixty-one pursuit pilots doing their best to keep their swift little mounts from diving too fast on the slower ships ahead.

BATTLE FORMATIONS

Then in quick succession will follow co-operative battle formations. Pursuit groups will deliver simulated attacks on bombers and attack groups; two pursuit ships will twist, turn, dive and climb, each in an effort to get in position to deliver a mimic machine-gun blast of bullets at the other during a thrilling air fight; two other pursuits then will write out all the stunts in the Army's bag of air tricks with several minutes of acrobatics; two pursuit pilots will attempt to dive on and break toy balloons to demonstrate the accuracy of the dives and a demonstration of a smoke screen by a pursuit ship and a heavier smoke curtain by a bomber will be given.

This schedule of breath-taking stunts should last until 4 p.m. At its completion all fighters will land and pilots and enlisted men will be off to Hollywood and Los Angeles for an evening of entertainment, to be directed by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce aviation committee. This committee, composed of seventy men, will greet the flyers when they land this morning in co-operation with members of the San Fernando Valley chambers of commerce.

DINNERS FOR PILOTS

The 173 officers will be feted at the Ambassador at dinner, while the 113 enlisted men will dine at the Alexandria. They do not have to report back to their ships until 2:30 p.m. tomorrow when they will take off for Rockwell Field, San Diego, stay overnight and leave for their respective bases next Monday.

Nine ships, three pursuit, three bombers, and three attack two-seaters, will leave for Long Beach Municipal Airport at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow and remain at the field until 3 p.m. to give beach residents a chance to see the planes at close range. They will proceed to San Diego to join the rest of the provisional wing.

Thomas F. Hamilton, president of United Airport, and D. L. Campbell, manager, announced last night that final arrangements have been completed for parking the thousands of cars expected today. Acres of vacant ground, intersected by streets, will be available to motorists.

Those who do not get to the airport fences, however, will gain as good a view of the air stunts as those on the field proper.

SPECIAL TRAFFIC FORCE

Chief Rey Bergh of the Burbank Police Department will be in charge of the 350 officers and motorcycle patrolmen of the Los Angeles, Burbank, county and State forces who have been detailed to handle traffic and crowds.

Lieut. F. A. Therkorn of Georgia-street division, Los Angeles Police Department, and Capt. C. A. Hodson of the valley division, have aided in smoothing out details for handling the 200,000 persons expected to attend.

Roads leading to the airport have been posted by the Automobile Club of Southern California. Motorists can reach the port from Los Angeles by driving out San Fernando Road through Burbank to Empire street and then straight to the airport, or by driving through Hollywood to Cahuenga Boulevard, through the pass to Hollywood Way, then past the First National studios to the field.

DATA TO BE GIVEN

All spectators at the field will be kept informed on exactly what is taking place in the air through a public address system. Victor Clark, president of the Flying Club of California, will be at the broadcasting microphone, aided by army officers who will contribute technical details of the flights.

Private airplane operators have promised to co-operate with the United States Department of Commerce order that no ships, excepting those of Pacific Air Transport mail carriers, and regularly scheduled air liners, will be allowed to approach the United field today or tomorrow, according to R. L. Hazen, local head of the department's aviation division.

William E. Boeing, chairman of the board, United Aircraft and Transportation Corporation, with which United Airport is affiliated, flew to the port yesterday from Seattle, Wash., with Mrs. Boeing to supervise final arrangements.

Special bus service from the Union Stage Depot, Fifth and Los Angeles streets, will be available all day to the airport. Carriers also will leave from in front of the Egyptian Theater on Hollywood Boulevard.

All flying activity at Grand Central Air Terminal, with the exception of scheduled air line operations, will be suspended today and tomorrow so that there will be no interference with the Army air maneuvers.

Curtiss-Wright Flying Service will center its activities for tomorrow at Los Angeles Airport, where Mayor Porter is expected to appear at 2:30 p.m. He will take a primary flying lesson from Capt. Peyton Gibson, chief pilot of Curtiss-Wright Flying Service School.

Rube Pilcher of Richfield Oil Company has arranged to have 100 young men from the Warren School of Aeronautics to handle crowds and otherwise assist at the United Airport during the maneuvers. This force will be uniformed in white, and has been trained in aviation field work.

ARMY PLANE SMASHES UP AT FRESNO

Cross Wind Perils Ships in Chandler Field Landing En Route to Los Angeles

FRESNO, April 25. (AP)—Like an invading horde of mighty eagles approximately sixty airplanes of the first provisional wing of the United States Army Air Corps swooped down upon Chandler Field, municipal airport, today for a brief visit en route to Southern California to resume mimic war maneuvers carried on for the last three weeks at Sacramento.

Near tragedy marked the arrival of the planes, due to a dangerous cross wind which caused six of the army ships to ground loop, and wrecking one of the third attack squadron planes, valued at more than $20,000. None of the army pilots was injured, and only three of the planes damaged.

Due to the difficulty in landing the first two groups of planes, Brig.-Gen. William E. Gillmore, commanding general of the armada, whose own plane ground-looped on landing, ordered the third contingent of fifty-eight pursuit planes from Selfridge Field, Mich., to proceed on to March Field, Riverside, without stopping at the Fresno airport.

Two of the army planes of the first groups to arrive, with the orders "do not stop—go to March Field," chalked on the sides and under the wings, were sent up by Gen. Gillmore to warn the pursuit squadron to continue its flight.

"We were sorry to disappoint the spectators, but the cross wind over the airport made it extremely dangerous to land the heavily loaded, high-speed pursuit planes," said Gen. Gillmore.

MEARS LOOKS OVER NEW GLOBE-CIRCLING AIRPLANE

The Lockheed Vega plane in which John Henry Mears plans to fly around the world in an attempt to beat the time of the Graf Zeppelin, was inspected by him at the Lockheed factory in Burbank yesterday and found to be completely equipped to start. Mears arrived at the T.A.T. terminal in Glendale yesterday from New York and went at once to the Lockheed factory. On his return he went to the Roosevelt Hotel, where he said he expects to stay a week or ten days before starting back for New York in the world-flight plane.
